THURSDAY, DECEMBER 10, 1908

A little work, a little play
To keep us going—and so, good-day!

A little warmth, a little light,
Of love's bestowing—and so, good-night!
A little fun, to match the sorrow
Of each day's growing—and so, good-morrow!
A little trust that when we die
We reap our sowing—and so, good-by!

MR. BEAN'S POSITION RIGHT

In an interview in the Portland Journal, Representative Bean, of this county, is reported to have said:

"You ask me how I stand on the United States senatorship," said Mr. Bean in answer to a question put to him. "I consider the United States senatorship has been fully eliminated from consideration and should not enter in any way into the organization of the house. I consider that that matter was settled by the people at the June election."

"You say that you are absolutely independent. Does that statement carry with it the question of a United States senator?" Mr. Bean was asked, and he answered:

"It certainly does. Personally I would like to see a good Republican sent to the United States senate. As I said before, I consider that question was settled at the June election, and in the event that I should be chosen speaker I would in no way use or allow to be used in any way the speakership or the powers vested in the speaker to further the interest of any man for the United States senate, or to further the combination of any set of men for the purpose of defeating Mr. Chamberlain.

"If the statement No. 1 members voluntarily wish to disregard their pledges, in so doing the whole responsibility must rest with them. I will in no way aid or sanction the breach of any pledge, either directly or indirectly."

Mr. Bean's position is consistent and honest, and one that he can take without sacrificing his ante-election convictions. Moreover, it is good citizenship to accept the verdict of the majority with good grace and in good humor. We hope Mr. Bean wins his fight for the speakership.

PLAY THE GAME AT HOME

The University faculty is right in demanding that the annual U. of O.-O. A. C. game be played on the campus of the respective colleges. While either team might with propriety and to its financial advantage meet the Idaho and Washington teams on the Portland field, pride in the two big state institutions and the cities they are located in should demand the playing of the one really great game on the college campus. To take it to Portland merely for the purpose of swelling the gate receipts is sure in time to be detrimental to the student body spirit, and furthermore the gambling instinct is given full sway, as was the case in the late game at Portland, where the students and their friends, backing the losing team, lost heavily, much of it ot the "professional" gamblers of the city. On the college campus this evil may be curbed and reduced to the minimum, as it most certainly should be. However, the Corvallis sentiment seems to be in favor of Portland, as the following very unkind and ungentlemanly comment of the Times of that city would indicate:

The faculty of the University of Oregon has passed a strong resolution against playing the annual Oregon-O. A. C. fotball game any place else than on the campuses of the two institutions:. All of which testifies to the incomparable wisdom, the stupendous intellectuality, the scintillating brilliancy and effervescent selfishness of President Campbell's think-tanks. Hail to Oregon."

And still the news comes trickling in regarding the severe storms throughout the Eastern and Middle States. Snow abounds everywhere and in many localities blizzards are raging. In Oregon there is nothing but sunshine—and sometimes a little fog, but what is that to four feet of snow and a gale of wind blowing at the rate of ninety miles an hour which is liberally seasoned with particles of ice? The people of this state do not appreciate all they have in the way of climate and it would do some of them a great deal of good to spend a winter or two in the Missouri river valley, where they have real winter weather.

This New York doctor, who claims to be able by "hypnotic suggestion," to send the souls of his patients to any old place and get a full and correct description of what is going on there, is in the wrong business—he should be a reporter.

Salem papers chronicle the arrival of a street sweeper in that city. Such things as this have been in use in Eugene so long they are an old story.

STUDENT BODY WILL RECEIVE $1000 IN INSTALMENTS

A letter from Homer Angel, to the graduate manager of the student body funds, A. R. Tiffany, states that $1,000 of student body money, which was tied up in the Title Guarantee and Trust Company, will probably not be all forthcoming until three years after the time the bank became insolvent, according to the plan by which W. S. Ladd guaranteed to pay off the deposits. Small installments will be declared between accordingly rendered.

"Billy" Woods will manage the Senior play.

A fine floor is being put into the dormitory sitting room. The floor will be springy and polished, making it equal to the Armory dance hall.

College News.

The Senior class at the University held a meeting last night and appointed committees to consider and arrange class dances, and other things. A vote was taken on a resolution to censure the freshmen for inviting outside guests to their dance in January. While the resolution carried by a small majority, the class seems to be divided on the subject.

MATHEWS' DEATH STILL REMAINS DEEP MYSTERY

Coroner's Inquest Completed This Afternoon—No Poison Found in Stomach

The coroner's inquest over the body of Jacob Mathews, who was found dead Sunday in the cabin on the Walker place between Eugene and Springfield and who was thought to have been murdered, was completed this afternoon. The jury failed to establish the cause of death. They took the testimony of the physicians who examined the contents of the stomach. The physicians reported that there was no trace of poisoning. The jury returned the following verdict:

"We, the jury, say that deceased was Jacob Mathews and his age was 53 years. After considering all the evidence obtainable, we, the jury, say that said Jacob Mathews died from a cause to the jury unknown. We find that said Jacob Mathews died in Lane county, Oregon, on or about the 5th day of Deember, 1908.

CONSUL MILLER LEAVES FOR CALIFORNIA

Will Leave For Yokahama About March 1—Glad of Eugene's Progress

Hon. H. B. Miller, U. S. consul general at Yokahoma, Japan, after a visit of several weeks in Eugene and Portland, went to Albany today to visit his brother, Hon. F. J. Miller, this afternoon and will leave that city tonight for California to join his family at San Mateo. He expects to leave San Francisco for his post at Yokohama about the first of March.

Mr. Miller, at the station this morning, stated to a Guard reporter that he was sorry his health would not permit of his staying here and visiting his friends longer. He said he was very glad to note the progress that Eugene has made in the past few years and he is reluctant to go back to Japan after seeing the progress that the whole coast is enjoying. He feels like staying to share the prosperity.
