SALE OF PATENT MEDICINES STOPPED BY DISTRICT ATTY.

Peruna, Hostetter's Electric and Lash's Bitters Are Under the Ban

The sale of Peruna, Hostetter's Bitters, Electric Bitters, Lashes' Bitters and other similar patent medicines, has been ordered stopped by District Attorney Bryson and the local drug stores are looking to see which one of the companies manufacturing the medicines, will take up a test case. The course of the order is that there is alcohol in the composition of the medicines, from which, it is alleged, intoxication has resulted.

The notice has not only been served upon the drug stores of Eugene, but applies to all of those in the district. As a result the users of the famous household remedies are likely to have to import their medicine, as the liquor user does his beverage, the local option law being the statute under which prosecution is probable.

The Peruna company seems to be the concern which is most likely to test the order. That firm has spent great sums in advertising compared to which the cost of a test case is insignificant. The other companies also have been appealed to.

Probably the medicines can be sold through local stores on a doctor's prescription, analogous to the sales of liquor. However, the direct sale, it appears, will be prohibited.

Peruna, it is alleged, contains 18 per cent of alcohol, while Hostetter's Bitters has 39 per cent. Other favorite remedies have various proportions.

UNIVERSITY WILL HOLD COMMONWEALTH DAY IN THE SPRING

A definite decision has been made that some time during the spring the University will celebrate "Commonwealth Day." Thousands of invitations will be sent to all parts of the state and the most prominent speakers of Oregon will be on the program. It is hoped to make this an annual day for the state. A committee is already working on the program and the plans for the day. "Commonwealth Day" will be held at a time when the University is in session in order to give a large number of people a chance to see the University as it actually is.
