ROUND TRIP RATE WILL BE CHEAPER THAN SINGLE FARE

Believing that 1909 will see an unprecedented traffic in colonists and homeseekers in the Northwest the railroads have arranged on account of the Seattle exposition the remarkably low rate of $62.00 for round trip from Chicago and $50.00 from Missouri river common points, according to William McMurray, general passenger agent for the Harriman lines in Oregon, says a Pendleton paper. He believes that as a result of this special low rate thousands will find homes in Oregon during the coming summer season, and that hundreds will locate in Umatilla county.
The special fair rate is lower than the regular one-way rate, and is the result of a special effort of the railroads in the Northwest to attract prospective investors into this country. Coupled with it the roads will allow a six months' return limit on the tickets and stopovers wherever desired in the towns of the Northwest.

ROOSEVELT AND HARRIMAN MEET

In walnuts, Washington, Dec. 12.—President Roosevelt and his one-time friend Edward Harriman met tonight. Three hours they faced each other, with a table between them, and those who beheld the meeting sat spellbound. At the same time President-elect Taft and Speaker Cannon looked defiantly into each other's eyes; Frank H. Hitchcock, chairman of the Republican National committee and Norman E. Mack, chairman of the Bryan Waterloo, came together, while the "regulars" and "insurgents" from Congress were arrayed against one another in the office.

FIRST SUBSCRIBER TO THE UNIVERSITY VISITS EUGENE

Charles Kutsche, the first man to subscribe anything to the University of Oregon for a building or any other purpose, left for his home at Woodburn yesterday, after a visit in Eugene with his relative, Mrs. McGraft. About thirty years ago a subscription was started to erect Deady hall and Kutsche had the honor of putting his name down at the head of the list for $5.00.

Then he was a farmer living near Eugene, growing hops. Now he is an old man, still in the hop business, near Woodburn; but during all the years, though he has not once visited Eugene, he has followed the accounts of the growth of the University with interested eyes, and the success of the enterprises of the students.

What surprised him most was the wonderful growth of the community and the college. When he made his subscription there were no more than three or four hundred people in the town, and lots could be purchased on Willamette street for $30 apiece. While he missed this opportunity to be much richer than he is, no envy or jealousy has entered his heart at the wonderful prosperity in Lane county. Instead that $5 has given him a life interest in the University and Eugene.

Will Grow Walnuts.
Mr. Kutsche has just returned from an extended trip through the United States. He took a step-daughter to Tombstone, Arizona, for her health. There he saw splendid walnut orchards bringing in immense incomes. As a result he has lost his faith in hops, and will plant his land in walnut trees.
