Only a few more notes,
Only a finer tone,
And lo! the world bows down
Before a singer's throne.

Only the same old thoughts
Clothed with a sweeter
sound,
And lo! a poet's brow
With laurel-leaves is crowned.

Only a finer ear,
Only a swifter skill,
And lo! the artist plays
On human hearts at will.

Only a tint or line,
Only a subtler grace,
And lo! the world goes mad
Over a woman's face.

This is the time of year when the newspapers, so frequently worried by lack of advertising, are taxed to their utmost to handle the holiday business that is offered. Last Saturday The Guard was forced to decline several pages of advertising matter because it was not prepared to handle it on short notice. Next Saturday, however, we will print extra pages enough to carry the business, if the copy is sent in early enough to get it set up. We will try our best to take care of our patrons during the next ten days if they will aid us by bringing copy in early.

This is a suspicious world. Instead of crediting the New York plumber who rendered a bill lower than his estimate for the job with honesty, they are charging him with getting a lot of cheap advertising for his business.

Well, that African hunting party has already grown into an "expedition, outfitted by the Smithsonian Institute." Maybe it will be an army of invasion by the time it really gets started.

With the big railway systems arranging for placing orders for something like $12,000,000 worth of rails, the steel trust has no doubt of the arrival of prosperity.

Perhaps one reason why the tariff is so little understood is that there are more brainy men personally interested in muddling it up than there are in clarifying it.

This forestry man who says the supply of wood will give out in twenty years must be trying to create a panic among the makers of breakfast foods.

Mannish Jewelry

In the appropriateness of men's jewelry. Some designs are too light and too dainty to appeal to men. We have taken great pains in selecting our lines of Men's Jewelry this year to get styles and patterns that are distinctly "mannish." Good substantial things that a man will appreciate and enjoy.

SPIRITED MEETING OF COMMERCIAL CLUB LAST NIGHT

Many Matters of Interest Discussed and Acted Upon

The most spirited meeting of the year was held last evening by the Commercial club, it being the regular monthly December meeting. After routine business was disposed of, Dr. Paine called attention to needed improvements and that started the ball rolling. Considerable good-natured banter was indulged in and after it was all over, everybody admitted that the heated discussion would lead to much needed improvement. Dr. Paine wanted the toilet rooms as well as the club rooms kept in better order, wanted a glee club formed, wanted the club to purchase a piano, also a comb and brush. All these things were disposed of, a committee being appointed to get figures on piano. Frank L. Chambers started another outburst by suggesting the buying of a pianola. Allen Eaton and other members spoke against this and created considerable merriment, but the motion was put to a vote and the no's were just about as emphatic as the ayes and President Williams declared the motion lost.

A committee was appointed to look into the enlarging of the billlard room, so that additional tables may be purchased.

Jack Rodman, chairman of the committee appointed to see if the intervening 140 feet between the eastern limit of the S. P. right-of-way and Pearl street could be purchased in order to give the merchants an entrance from the east to the freight houses, reported that his committee, together with Manager Hartog, had seen the warehousemen but had been unable to raise the required amount and on motion the committee's report was accepted and the committee discharged.

The purchasing of a set of the "Art Works of Oregon," a set of photographs to be issued by the W. D. Harney Co., of Chicago, was discussed and on motion the purchase was voted for. It will be the entire nine parts bound in leather and will be a splendid addition to the club's literature.

An invitation from the Washington, D. C., chamber of commerce offering intending visitors to the inauguration the courtesy of the chamber's headquarters and offering to arrange for accommodations for any who intend to go, was read.

Manager Hartog suggested disposing of the gymnasium fixtures to the new Y. M. C. A. and Vice-President Spencer stated that the board of trustees had just been considering that matter.

Assistant Secretary Callison read the names of the sixteen new members just elected by the trustees.

Dr. Whitson proposed the appointment of a committee of three of which President Williams was to be one to revise the by-laws and the Chairman announced that he would make the appointment later.

The board of governors had planned to receive Mr. Wells of Sunset in January to hear his advertising proposition, but the deal being one of considerable cost, the matter was placed before the club and it was decided to ask Mr. Wells to lay his proposition before the general meeting of the club in October.

Cards were authorized printed and mailed to all the members inviting them to the festivities to be arranged by the Ladies' Auxiliary for New Year's Day.

The chair appointed Dr. Paine, G. W. Griffin and A. C. Dixon a committee to finish up the promotion fund subscriptions, so that a complete list of subscribers may be printed.

JOHN B. COLEMAN MAKES BIG GIFT TO NEPHEW

Gives Him Three-Story Business Block on Willamette Street in Eugene

John B. Coleman, the capitalist, has just deeded the three-story building on Willamette street, occupied by Nadeau's cigar store and bowling alley, Hull's confectionery store and the Dreamland theatre on the lower floor and by offices and lodging rooms on the two other floors, to his nephew, Sam Cole, of this city. The deed provides that all the rents and revenues shall go to Mr. Coleman during his lifetime, but after his death his nephew shall have exclusive ownership of the building and the land upon which it is situated. The lot is 55x114 feet in dimensions.

It will be remembered that several months ago Mr. Coleman deeded the two-story brick building occupied by the Berger-Bean Hardware company on Willamette street to the
