HOW TO PACK

CHRISTMAS GOODS

Some Suggestions That Will Help Overworked Post-office Clerks

This is the time of year when the postal clerks are working light and day to keep up with the rush of the Christmas business. The people of Eugene are remembering their friends in the East and other parts of the country in the most substantial manner, judging from the large volume of packages being received at the office in this city. But as usual at this time the people are not giving the proper attention to the wrapping and tying of their parcels, which works confusion and causes a great deal of unnecessary labor to the overworked postal clerks.

Here are a few rules that will make the clerks at the postoffice happy and facilitate the handling of the Yuletide mail, if one obeys them: Mail matter should be addressed legibly and completely. To insure return in case of non-delivery the sender's name and address should be written in the upper left-hand corner of the letter or parcel.

Many articles are damaged in the mails for the reason they are not securely and sufficiently wrapped to withstand the weight and handling to which they are necessarily subjected.

It should be borne in mind that articles are thrown into bags with other mail matter and when addressed to small towns where mail trains do not stop, the bags containing them are thrown from a fast-moving train.

There are four classifications to domestic mail matter.

First class includes written matter and matter not open to inspection.

Second-class includes newspapers and periodicals bearing notice of entry as second-class matter.

Third-class includes all printed matter upon paper not having the nature of actual personal correspondence, except newspapers and periodicals bearing the notice of entry as second-class matter.

The fourth-class, which probably is the most popular at this season, includes merchandise not comprehended in the first three classifications.

Four pounds is the limit of the weight of matter in domestic mail for each package.

Matter of high class inclosed with matter of low class subjects the whole to the higher rate.

For first-class mail the rate is two cents for each ounce or fraction thereof.

Second-class unsealed requires one cent for each two ounces or fraction thereof.

Fourth-class unsealed requires one cent for each ounce or fraction thereof.

Postage on all domestic mail must be paid in full.

One can inclose in a package of fourth-class matter a single card bearing the name of the sender and such inscription as "Merry Christmas," "Happy New Year," "best wishes," etc., without affecting its classification.

All valuable letters and parcels, as well as those without intrinsic value, the correct delivery of which is important, and those for which the sender desires the addressee's signature, should be registered.

The registry fee is eight cents for each separate parcel or letter.

THE SLEEPING SICKNESS WHICH MEANS DEATH

How many readers have heard of this terrible disease? It prevails in that far-away country--Africa--especially the Congo district. It is caused by the bite of the tsetse fly. When it bites a person, the sleeping symptoms begin and finally the sufferer sleeps until death occurs.

Contrast this with the peaceful, balmy sleep of health. Is there anything more wearing than to lie awake at night, tossing about, nervous, with cold feet, hot head and mercy knows what else? Short of letting the tsetse fly bite us we would do almost anything for relief. How can we prevent it?

Mr. George Hayes, of Union City, Pa., writes: "I had lost my appetite, was all run-down, could not sleep nights. I had tried everything without relief. Vinol was recommended, and to my surprise, it helped me at once; gave me a splendid appetite, and now I sleep soundly."

What Vinol did for Mr. Hayes, it will do for every run-down, nervous and overworked person who cannot sleep.

Vinol is sold in Eugene by the Red Cross Drug Company.

CRYSTAL CONSOLIDATED

SOLD AT SHERIFF'S SALE

Bohemia Mining Property Goes Under the Hammer--Other Cottage Grove Notes

The Crystal Consolidated Mining Company property was sold at sheriff's sale at the court house in Eugene yesterday to the highest bidder. The property was purchased by Ben Lurch, of this city, who, it is said, paid a little over $1000 for it. The property has been considered very good, and the purchase at this figure is a surprise. Good ore has been shown, and the machinery, buildings, etc., make it quite valuable. The company has expended many thousands of dollars in development work to date. An Eastern capitalist held the mortgage for which it was sold. The property is on Chastanot creek.

The poultry show at Eugene the first four days of this week is drawing a number of Cottage Grove people there. Something like seventeen coops of fancy birds from this place have gone to scoop up all the blue ribbons, and a large number contemplate attending the show tomorrow and the next day. The show has been very successful, and is another factor in poultry producers breeding good stock and getting better results from their poultry.

Go down to the evening local some evening--any evening--and see the people returning from the city, or Eugene, loaded down with bundles. You wonder why Cottage Grove has not got a park, and merchants complain of slow holiday trade. Roosevelt's "desirable citizens" do not include any of the away-from-home buyers.

Max Stodacher, employed at the Booth-Kelly mills, had a painful accident last week. He caught his thumb between a heavy cable and a block, tearing the flesh from the bone to the first joint. Dr. Kime dressed the wound and reports the injured member as doing well.

W. B. Dennis and wife, of Black Butte, spent Sunday in town. They left Monday evening for Bellingham, where they will spend the holidays with her relatives. During their absence "Laddie Dennis" will visit over Christmas with the Russells, of Dorona.

MARKED FOR DEATH.

"Three years ago I was marked for death. A grave-yard cough was tearing my lungs to pieces. Doctors failed to help me and hope had fled, when my husband got Dr. King's New Discovery," says Mr. A. C. Williams of Bac, Ky. "The first dose helped me and improvement kept on until I had gained 58 pounds in weight and my health was fully restored." This medicine holds the world's healing record for coughs and colds and lung and throat diseases. It prevents pneumonia. Sold under guarantee at W. A. Kaykendall's drug store, 50c and $1.00.
