ROLLING ALONG

Don't you come a-whinin' an' a-pinin' 'bout de way
Dat de day keeps a-rollin' along;
Dar wouldn' be no sense in hangin' roun' de same ol' day
An' a singin' de same ol' song.
De snow has got to fade away to bring along de spring,
De trees mus' shade der branches so's de birds can come an' sing,
An' de blossoms got to drap frum what de fruit is g'ineter swing
As de days keeps a-rollin' along.

De little boy is weepin' ca'se hewent an' stubbed his toe,
But de days keeps a rollin' along;
But he's clean forgot his botheration in an hour or so,
An' is laughin' so sweet an' strong;
An' as he keeps a-growin' he is gwine foh to meet
Among de flowers dat pleases his eye de stones dat bruise his feet,
Fohgit about de bitter chile, an think about de sweet
As de days keeps a-rollin' along.

—Washington Star.

The year just closed has been one of great growth and prosperity for The Guard. Its business has increased not less than 25 per cent over last year and it is now installed in new quarters, with the best and largest newspaper and job plant in Oergon outside of Portland. For this prosperity the publisher has to thank the people of Eugene and Lane county, upon whose appreciated patronage the paper depends for its support. In return we are trying to make a better paper every year, to give the news fairly and without bias, and to advocate those measures that tend to the "greatest good to the greatest number." We owe no allegiance to party, clique or corporation, and believe that to this recognized fact much of The Guard's success is due, and explains why not less than 20,000 of Lane county's people are its regular readers. Circulation is the basis of a newspaper's business, and brings the advertisements of the businessmen who desire to reach the people. The Guard has both quality and quantity in circulatoin, permanent home subscripers. We are grateful to the people of Lane county that they appreciate our efforts to give them a real newspaper, and wish all a year blessed with happiness and prosperity.

The Oregon Agricultural College is going before the legislature with a demand for a large appropriation for new buildings and improvement of grounds. Two years ago when the State University was granted adequate support by the legislature every friend of the O. A. C. objected, and Benton county rolled up a big majority against the appropriation, after the University supporters had been put to the expense of fighting the referendum before the people and had suffered from the suspense of having their funds held up for nearly two years. If the friends of the University should retaliate against the O .A. C. this year they will have an opportunity to know how the dirty methods it has encouraged tend to embarrass a state institution. These are plain words, but they are true, and it is time the Corvallis bunch are impressed with the idea that it is better from every standpoint to "play fair."

The year just closed has been one of unsettled buscinees conditions, owing to the panic of the fall of 1907, but conditions are rapidly improving throughout the country. In the West the panic was not seriously felt, except in a sympathetic way, due to conditions in the Eastern money centres, and almost every trace of the flurry seems to have disappeared here. Eugene has grown in spite of the drawbacks of the past year, and should have a great increase of prosperity during 1909, since there is every assurance of big railroad developments in Oregon in which this city seems likely to have a large share. The idle mills are reopening and those in operation are increasing their output, which adds materially to an already bright outlook.

The salary of the czar of Russia is exactly $23,000,000 a year, and the fact that he doesn't earn that amount or anywhere near it is probably the least of his worries. What perplexes his mind more than anything else is the fact that some of his loving subjects may take it into their heads to place a stick of dynamite under his pillow some night and blow him into the next world. So he really needs the $23,000,000 to pay out for detective hire in order to prevent just such an occurrence.

What is known as the "church cough" is now said to be due not to an ungodly affliction, but to the architecture of the ordinary church building, which is notoriously bad for contracting colds. This has been brought out by a thoughtful physician who has devoted considerable time to his investigation. Now we can go to church and cough and cough without fear of being classed among those past salvation.

Perhaps if the Washington Post knows what it is talking about when it says the new tariff bill will probably put a thariff of 5 cents a pound on coffee, but we have a sneaking idea that a press agent employed by the Porto Rico coffee planters is responsible for the "probability."

The new year opens with a day of sunshine in the Willamette valley.

Maybe it will console some fellow inclined to be grouchy over the size of his fuel bill to know that Uncle Sam paid $5,168,824 for the coal burned by his navy during the last fiscal year.

Gompers, Mitchell and Morrison will overlook a bet if they fail to take advantage of the advertising while it is hot to gather in a few barrels of coin, via the box office mint.

If free speech, oral or written, is not the constitutional right of every American citizen, the sooner it is made so the better for the future welfare of the country.

THE IRVING GRANGE ELECTS OFFICERS

Contest Being Waged for New Members—Will Work for a New Hall

Irving, Dec. 31.—The Irving Grange met in regular meeting Decembe r26, and elected officers for the year 1909, as follows: C. J. Hurd, Master; A. Ward, Overseer; Ed Zumwalt, Chaplain; Ed Bond, Secretary; J. M. Day, Lecturer; Mrs. Ed Zumwalt, Treasurer; W. R. Lord, Steward; William Robertson, Assistant Steward; Mrs. Ed. Bond, lady assistant steward; Miss Nida Wing, Ceres; Mrs. John Parker, Pomona; Mrs. Harvey Plank, Flora.

Twelve candidates were received by ballot, and eight applications handed in. At the Friday evening meeting, December 11, six candidates were initiated. And there will be a special meeting Friday evening, January 1, to initiate candidates.

Irving Grange just now is in the throes of a contest—the ladies against the gentlemen, to see which can get the greatest number of candidates, the contest ending the 1st of March. Some of the gentlemen were somewhat reluctant to enter into the contest, for they knew the ladies would win, even if they had to turn down some of the opposition's applications for membership. Notwithstanding that it was the day after Christmas, everybody did justice to the splendid dinner the ladies provided. If the men could farm as well as the ladies can cook, things would be in a very satisfactory condition.

The Grange is growing rapidly, in numbers and influence, and expects to have a membership of 100 or more by the 1st of March, 1909.

Its membership is composed of many of the most influential farmers of the vicinity. It is noticeable that most of the farmers have brought their entire families into the Grange, and all are very enthusiastic in the work. In fact the young men and the young women are doing what they can to make the Grange a success in all its departments of work.

The installation of the officers will take place Friday evening, January 8th at 7:30. Mr. R. J. Hemphill of Pleasant Hill will conduct the installation ceremonies.

The Watch-word for the Irving Grange for the year 1909 will be

BUTTER SHIPPED IN IS SHY ON WEIGHT

Several Rolls Weighed at Local Grocery Store Quarter of a Pound Short Each

A good argument in favor of patronizing home industries was advanced Thursday when one of our prominent creamerymen called at an equally prominent grocery store with the idea of selling an order of butter. The grocerymen were securing their supply of butter from an Albany creamery and were loud in their praise of that product. They showed the creameryman samples of the Albany butter, claiming full weight and fine flavor. The size of the roll attracted the attention of the caller and taking several rolls he placed them on the scales and demonstrated to those present that each roll was at least one-quarter of a pound shy in weight. The groceryman has nothing to say. Moral: Buy your goods of home manufacturers and be sure that the weight as well as the quality is there.

FARWELL MAY SUCCEED GARFIELD

Chicago, Dec. 30.—The Record-Herald today prints the following news article under an Augusta, Ga., date:

The newest name suggested for a member of Mr. Taft's official family is that of John V. Farwell, of Chicago, a former Yale man, and one of the best known business men of the western metropolis. It is likely that Farwell will be asked to take the portfolio of Secretary of the Interior. Mr. Ballinger of Washington, has been mentioned for the place and it was considered possible for a time that James R. Garfield would continue at his post. It is certain now, however, that Mr. Garfield will be made an Ambassador, probably at Rome. It is believed now that Mr. Ballinger has been eliminated.

DO AS THIS MAN DID

Only 24 years ago I sold to S. P. Sladdon 133 acres of land for $6500, or about $49 per acre. He planted it to fruit, raised enormous crops. This land is now selling at $325 to $500 per city lot—equal to $1300 to $2000 per acre—a profit of over 100 per cent on the original investment for each and every year of the 24, on the land alone, to say nothing about the fruit raised in the meantime. "Go thou and do likewise," Buy now. Suburban acreage is the only land that will produce city lots at a profit. Ten acres of City View Park property staked, will make 40 city lots that, in a comparative short time, will be worth $325 to $500 each. While you are waiting for your crop of city lots to ripen you can plant the land to fruit, poultry or vegetables, raise big crops without irrigation—and it is no crime to make a home on the land while these things grow. City View Park has good drainage, fine outlook, some building restrictions, No. 1 soil, pure soft water, accessibility and good society. I sell only to the better class, assuring purchasers of great increase in values. List of buyers, so far, include James J. Prichard, capitalist; A. W. Ross, capitalist; L. L. Constance, retired attorney, now building handsome and costly residence; E. S. Rolfe, capitalist; G. W. Prater, fruit raiser; G. D. Linn, druggist; Edith Prater, secretary Puyallup Fruit Growers' association, and Paul Bond, high school teacher. City View Park fronts on West Eleventh street, the street that has the University of Oregon, Bible school, library, high school, Central school, many fine residences; more blocks of pavement than any other street, and is the only street in the entire city that is open throughout the city at both ends. City View Park adjoins the Dr. McCornack orchard on the east and is proven fruit land of the best quality. In all my experience of 26 years of selling land in Lane county, I have never handled a tract of land that gave the buyer better values for his money than I am able to offer in City View Park. This property is not only the best thing I ever handled, but it is the best property on the Eugene market today at the price. The tract contains 275 acres, enabling a homeseeker or investor to secure either level or rolling land, either cleared or timbered, and at prices to suit anyone and on terms that he can easily meet. YESTERDAY WAS BANNER DAY IN EXPOSITION CONTEST

Candidates who send their photos to us will have their pictures run in the paper as the contest progresses. This tends to arouse interest among the friends, and sometimes it brings votes from strangers who will select their candidates from among those whose pictures are printed. If you have no suitable photograph, or prefer a new one, come to Eugene and the Guard will pay for having one taken at a leading studio. Don't delay about this matter.

Yesterday was a great day in The Guard's exposition contest, and more coupons were issued than during the entire time the contest has been on. One candidate who will show a heavy increase when the votes are printed tomorrow is Miss M. V. Johnson of Blachly, who sent in seventeen Weekly subscriptions, the result of a few days' work among her friends in that neighborhood. In the city of Eugene several candidates reported many subscriptions, and by the time the votes are totaled up this evening probably it will be found that not less than a dozen candidates have won the 5,000 special vote coupon to be awarded to all having a total of 20,000 votes on New Year's day.

It has been a big week for the contest and the young ladies find that their friends enter into the spirit of the contest and support them loyally, once they are approached and their interest aroused. "I am going to win," was the declaration of every candidate who reported at the office in person or by mail yesterday, which is the proper spirit for those who wish to take the great Seattle Exposition trip.

The Guard is going to do its part after the contest is over. It will give the winners the trip of a life-time, one of education and enjoyment combined that will linger in the memory for years to come. There will be special arrangements made for entertainment and sight-seeing that no visitor to the fair, under any other circumstances, could procure, because the exposition management has assured the Guard of their co-operation and tells that special guides will be at the service of the party when they reach Seattle. Splendid hotel accomodations, visits of the exposition and points of interest on the Sound, and various entertainment will cause the stay in the metropolis of the Great Northwest, to pass all too quickly.

Wouldn't you like to take that trip?

If you would get busy now, and your friends will rally to your support. If you have been late in starting and are a few thousand votes behind the leaders, remember you have eight weeks in which to overcome the lead—and only a few yearly subscription paid for by your friends will even up the score. Come to the Guard office and we will give you all possible information concerning the work, and assist you, as we do every other candidate, to the extent that the interest of another does not suffer. It's going to be an open, fair contest, no favor or special privileges to any, but courteous assistance to all who wish it. The Guard places its guarantee as a reputable business house back of the statement.

Watch for the announcement of votes tomorrow.

Special Offer.

For a short time only we are going to make the following offer: This is a grand premium for the subscribers to the Daily or Weekly Guard.

A large fine wall map of the state of Oregon, the United States and the world, showing Panama canal, batteship fleet's trip around the world. Call and see them, or send your remittance (by mail) for the Daily Guard, one year, or for the Weekly Guard, and one of these maps will be delivered to you. The map alone is worth more than the price of the paper. Every year's subscription to the Daily or Weekly Guard also entitles you to 1000 votes for your favorite candidate in the contest.

The ballots will be counted three times each week until further notice, the announcements being made on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday.
