PORTLAND MARKET REPORT

Portland, Jan. 28.—Several local creameries cut their price on butter this morning 2c a pound, to 35c, and others are asking 37c. The market is showing an easier tone all the way through, although as far as local business is concerned, the local trade has thus far experienced no difficulty in maintaining values. A small surplus is beginning to make its appearance and it is on this account that some of the makers decided to cut their values this morning and which may in turn bring about a lower range on all makes tomorrow morning. The fact that the market here is still quite well supplied with Eastern butter is the one depressing feature of the present situation. So far as the small surplus now being shown in the market of city creamery, the same is not at all bearish, but the time for larger quantities of cream to come forward is close at hand, and for that reason the trade wants to keep abreast of the market as much as possible.

Egg Market
 Way up in the air the egg market sailed during the past 24 hours. With arrivals the smallest ever seen in this market—not even excepting the period of the cold snap—the demand is quite fair, and one or two sales have been made along the street as high as 50c, although the general market ranges about 35c. Even this figure would be hard to maintain were there any material increase in the supplies of home eggs. The fact that Eastern fresh eggs are being brought to this market by express has not altered the situation in the least because local supplies are so small that without the Eastern stock eggs would rapidly advance to, the highest price ever seen in this market.

Several Hop Sales
 Two large lots of hops were sold in the local market yesterday at 7 1/2 cents. They were the Twin Wo and Goon Dip lot of 274 bales, bought by Julius Pincus, of Salem, and the Cheekmans Hop Farm Company's lot of 257 bales, bought by Klaber, Wolf & Netter. Both were of good quality, especially the latter lot.
 Isaac Pincus & Sons, of Tacoma, have been operating heavily in Oregon hops of late, their purchases in the past week aggregating 750 bales of prime and choice quality at 7 to 7 1/2 cents. Most of these were secured from dealers. According to Harry Pincus, the firm can buy to better advantage from dealers than from growers.

In reporting a number of sales of common to medium New York hops at 10 cents, the Waterville Times says:
 "These stocks four weeks ago received no attention from dealers, but now all this grade of hops are being bought up. There were also reported the purchase of two small lots of choice hops grown in Augusta for which the buyer paid 12 cents. The general feeling reflected on this market, therefore, is that of a firm, active trading, with a growing demand for all grades of hops."
Orion Apples in Europe.
 Again have Oregon apples scored a decided hit in the European market and realized a price that causes much envy among the producers of the entire world. Recently in the London market the Oregon product sold within a fraction of double the price obtainable for the best that any other section in the world can produce.
 W. Dennis & Son, of Covent Garden market, report the condition of the London apple market under date of January 8 as follows:
 "Since our last mail the opening of business in the apple trade after the Christmas and New Year holidays has been more satisfactory. While supplies have not been very heavy, buyers' purchases are going into immediate consumption, and this, in our opinion, will create a gradual advance in values. As is invariably the case in London at this season of the year, the demand is sharp on all red stock. At today's auction the following prices were realized:
 "New York state Baldwins, 23@25c per barrel; Nova Scotia Baldwins, 18@21c per barrel; Nova Scotia Russets, 18@22c per barrel; state Greenings, 26@27c per barrel; Nova Scotia Greenings, 16@22c per barrel; Nova Scotia varieties, 15@22c per barrel; Hood River Spitz, 10@15c 5d per box; Hood River Newtons, 10@11c per box; Oregon Newtons, 8@11c per box; California Newtons, 6@8c 5d per box."
Life in Cereals.
 California buyers were in the market strong yesterday for wheat and oats and holders who were in a mood to sell had no difficulty in disposing of their grain at top prices. A considerable amount of business was done for Southern account, one deal involving 30,000 bushels of wheat and a large quantity of oats.
 Not only was business in demand, but club and Red Russian wheat sold freely. A sale of blue wheat at $1.00 f. o. b. ship was reported and Red Russian sold at 94 cents. Club wheat was quoted at 96@97 cents.

 The buying price of oats was raised to $24, and feed barley was systematically raised to $22. It is again actually strong at $22. Up to the first of the year it was difficult to interest Californians in Northern grain but they have at last been compelled to come here for their supplies and they must pay the price.
Chickens Slightly Steadier
 There is a slight increase in steadiness of the local chicken market and while demand is not healthy enough to make any change in quotations, the accumulations along the street are decreasing and all through the market the demand is better.

Good Tone in Dressed Hog
 For dressed hogs the tone of the local market is quite strong today. While only in exceptional cases will the trade obtain as high as 9 cents for hogs, the figure has been received during the past 24 hours for something select, and would very likely rule for additional shipments providing the quality was there and the present market stood.
 Dressed veal demand is holding well, with the price of the best quality hanging close to 16c a pound.
Potato Shipments Are Starting
 Potato shipments to the south have started from here in a limited way, and further shipments will start in a few days. The potato market is very firm here, both for buying and jobbing, with the latter ruling at $1.50@1.65 for the best quality, and buyers freely offering as high as $1.25 at country shipping points.

PORTLAND LIVESTOCK MARKET

Portland Union Stockyards, Jan. 27.—The extreme top price for even select steers today in the Portland yards was $5, and only for one lot was the figure obtainable. Some very good stuff which would ordinarily be called top was sold from 15c to 20c under that amount as will be noted by the itemized sales in this report.
 There are hopeful signs in the market even at this period. Receipts show signs of letting up for awhile and if this is continued for a short time it will enable killers to get rid of some of their accumulating surplus and allow them to again send their buyers into the open market.
 The extent of the overload which packers and killers are carrying is shown by the fact that six loads of cattle were carried over from yesterday because of the lack of demand even at the lower range of quotations.
 The following is the general range of values on stock ruling in the yards for late shipment.
