HESS WAS FAMOUS THEATRICAL MAN

Now Critically Ill At Home in Indiana—Introduced to Public Many Famous Stars

Chicago, Ill., Jan. 30.—News of the critical illness of Charles D. Hess at his home near Westville, Ind., has been received with regret among old-time theatrical men in Chicago who remember Mr. Hess as one of the most famous members of the profession twenty-five or thirty years ago.
For a number of years Mr. Hess has lived in quiet retirement on his farm in Indiana and to the great majority of players as well as playgoers his name was little more than a memory.
But the older generation will recall him as the greatest operative manager of his day and the man who introduced to the operatic and theatrical world such well known stars as Emma Abbott, Clara Louise Kellogg, Christine Nilsson, Minnie Palmer and William H. Crane.

The son of a Mohawk valley Dutchman, Mr. Hess was born in Livingston county, New York, seventy-one years ago. At the age of 13 he ran away from home with a strolling minstrel troupe whose supply of funds was so limited that railroad fare was out of the question, and so the members tramped over the Erie road from town to town, playing wherever they could get trusted for half rent.

Mr. Hess had numerous experiences as a strolling player and manager and until the outbreak of the civil war, when he enlisted and served two years as a lieutenant in the Thirtieth New York Volunteers.
At the time of the assassination of President Lincoln Mr. Hess was part owner in Grover's opera house in Washington, and, though a staunch Unionist, was called as a witness in the trial of Mrs. Surratt. Later he went to Philadelphia, as manager of the Chestnut street theater. Alternating between Philadelphia, Pittsburg and Washington, Mr. Hess eventually came to Chicago and assumed the active management of the Crosby opera house. It was while managing, with great success, this beautiful opera house that Mr. Hess first conceived the notion of organizing an opera company for the production of grand opera in English, a project which at that time was considered by all managers as both dangerous and hazardous. Parepa-Rosa was engaged and the English Grand Opera Company was enthusiastically received everywhere. The singer nected in the neighborhood of $100, 000 as her share of the profits, while Manager Hess received perhaps one-tenth of that sum, with the added prestige resulting from having achieved a brilliant success in attempting the daring role of manager of an English grand opera company.

Having lost his valuable library and theatrical wardrobe in the fire that destroyed the Crosby house, Mr.
Hess retired for a time from active management. But soon, he was in active business again and in partnership with the late Maurice Grau, conducted a season of English grand opera with Clara Louise Kellogg as the prima donna. The season proved a failure, and when the company returned to New York, the managers had suffered a loss of $25,000. Mr.
Hess wisely decided to drop grand opera. Organizing a light opera company he netted another $15,000 in the venture within a few weeks.

Among his other ventures Mr.
Hess toured an opera company through Mexico and a part of South America. Upon his return to this country he managed the Grand Opera house in Chicago and later directed the affairs of the Lillian Russell English Opera Company. Then came a season as manager of the Minnie Palmer company, which he gave up to assume the management of the Cora Tanner company. His last operatic directorship was with the Vivian Maurer opera company. In 1893 Mr. Hess retired permanently from the theatrical world and has since lived quietly on his well-stocked farm.

SPORTING NOTES

"German" Schaefer, as been appointed captain of the Detroit Tigers.

Jim Barry and Marvin Hart will meet at the Springs, February 11.

Mal Bacon wants Pitcher Kruger of the Brooklyn team for his lawrence, Mass., draft.

Phil McGovern, brother of Terry, has been rather successful in his recent bouts.

In selecting D. J. O'Leary to act as captain of the Boston Red Sox Manager Lake has just set the new trend.

Frank ("Shag") Shaughnessy, who played at Reading last season, will manage the Roanoke Virginia league team this year.

Jim Jeffries has started wrong in doing light training. What Jim needs is dark training.

Sam Langford will meet three men in the same ring in Los Angeles. Stanley Ketchel isn't one of the three.

Peter Maher has tripped another one. A husky smoke by the name of Bill Turnage fell into one of Peter's jolts the other night.

Miss May Sutton, the world's champion tennis player, has declined an invitation to take part in the Tri-State tournament at Cincinnati next summer.

Members of the Down and Out club of the Tri-State League will hold their annual meeting at Harrisburg, February 24.

Jack Hayden, the Chicago Cub's outfielder, will continue to play ball in Cuba until it is time to report to Manager Chance.

The Toronto ball club has secured a fine first sacker when they signed Ben Houser, who played last year with the Scranton team.

Indianapolis fans entertain hope that the Sunday base ball bill will become a law. It doesn't do anybody any harm to hope.

Battling Nelson says he is waiting for Freddie Welsh to claim the lightweight championship, then he will go out and lick him. Go on and claim it, Freddie.

Why do people persist in raking up the past in the lives of our celebrities? They say that George Stallings the New York leader, once played ball in Columbia, S. C.

Lou Criger has decided to sell his diamond rings and go to farming. But it's a plank steak to a "hot dog" that Lou will do his farming in the St. Louis American league ball park.

Ira Thomas who was sold recently by Detroit to Philadelphia is willing to buy the Hartford, Conn., club, if he can make the present owners understand the value of cigarette coupons.

North Dakota baseball enthusiasts hope to have a State League to open the season. The cities to form the proposed circuit are Fargo, Bismarck, Devils Lake, Minot, Grand Forks, Mandan, Jamestown and Valley City.

DATE OF COMMONWEALTH POSTPONED TO SATURDAY

The date of the University Commonwealth Day has been postponed from February 12 to February 13 on account of conflict with the semi-centennial of Oregon's entrance to the Union, which will be held at Salem. The change of date puts the Commonwealth Day on Saturday instead of Friday.

CHRISTIAN PRINCIPLES ARE DIVORCE REMEDY

Dr. Martin Says Joy or Misery in Marriage and Hereafter Depend on Righteousness

The status of "Marriage and Divorce" from a Christian standpoint was explained last night by Dr. Martin in his revival services at the Christian church. He showed and proved that the only real solution is by Christian principles, such as love that Jesus Christ has given to the world.

He considers that the divorce evil is simply a part of wrong-doing and unrighteousness. The importance of beginning and continuing in the right way, in the true life, can not be over estimated. Whether it be joy or misery in the marriage bond and in the hereafter depends on whether the present life is one of sin or righteousness.

At tonight's service the subject will be "Misplaced Trust." This is one of the strong sermons.
