INFLECT HEAVY LOSSES UPON NATIONAL PARTY

Sixty Were Killed and One Hundred Wounded at Tabriz

Tabriz, April 21.—The nationalists lost sixty killed and one hundred wounded yesterday. The armistice has been arranged by the Shah for the purpose of bringing in provisions is not regarded with enthusiasm here as the absence of transportation facilities makes provisioning the town difficult.

Turns Them Down.
Teheran, April 21.—The Shah has declined to receive the British and Russian diplomatic representatives, illness being his excuse.

SQUALL ALONG LAKE ERIE CAUSES GREAT DAMAGE

Cleveland, April 21.—A squall on the southern shore on Lake Erie today left death and ruin in its wake. The velocity of the wind was nearly one hundred miles per hour for a few minutes, and trees and frame houses were blown down in all parts of the city. Lightning started many fires. One young woman was blown into the Wade park and drowned.

ROOSEVELT REACHES DARK CONTINENT

Mombassa, East Africa, April 21.—The steamer Admiral, with the Roosevelt party on board, arrived here today.

Hon. James M. Shoup, former United States marshal of Alaska, and a brother of the late Senator Shoup of Idaho, will arrive here tomorrow to visit his old time friend, J. F. Campbell. Both were old time residents of Boise, Idaho, and were in the government service in Alaska together.

SEATTLE HALIBUT BOAT GIVEN FOUR ROUNDS FROM MACHINE GUN AND IS CAPTURED

Vancouver, B. C., April 21.—For the first time since the Canadian fishery cruiser service was organized, it has attempted to interfere with American halibut fishing in northern waters alleged to be contiguous to Canada.

The Dominion government cruiser Kestral last Sunday afternoon got into real action with her big Nordenfeldt machine gun. Four rounds were fired at the Seattle halibut fishing steamer Charles Levi Woodbury. Three rounds were merely directed to call attention to the command to heave to, which had been issued from the Kestral to the American schooner, but the last series of shots meant business. When two hundred yards distant from the American schooner, which was making for the open sea, the gunboat fired into the fishing boat's rigging, doing some damage.

Immediately the engines of the Woodbury were stopped and her sails, gashed by British bullets, were hauled down. But even then Captain Sinclair, of the Woodbury, refused to tie a hawser aboard his vessel, and an officer and three men from the Kestral went aboard and took charge of the fishing steamer. Captain Newcomb, of the Kestral, says the case against the American vessel is a clear one. He claims that on Sunday afternoon he caught the Woodbury fishing between the east and west Haycock Islands, which lie about ten miles above Cape Scott, the northernmost point of Vancouver Island.

The Islands themselves are five miles apart, so that from Captain Newcomb's figuring it was impossible for the American boat to be more than two and a half miles from either shore.

Captain Sinclair, of the Woodbury, apparently did not notice the proximity of the Kestral until the government vessel was within three miles, then the American ran along, picking up her dories, the fishermen cutting their gear without wasting time to pull in a fathom of it. The motor engines were set at full action and with all sails spread to the breeze the American vessel set out for the highway of the Pacific. The cruiser gradually overhauled the American after a chase of four and a half miles, the Kestral signalling during the chase for the American to stop, but no attention was paid to the signal until her guns got into action. The American captain thought it was a bluff, and not until her rigging was damaged did he stop the progress of his vessel.

The two captains exchanged conversations by megaphone, the captain of the Kestral threatening to sink the American, to which Captain Sinclair and the few Americans on the upper deck laughed, Sinclair replying:

"I don't think so."

The gun belched forth and it was all over but the swearing. Captain Sinclair was indignant and refused to do anything to operate his vessel and the Canadian gunboat had to take her in tow.

One thousand pounds of fish on the American will have to be destroyed.

BULL LEADER LEAVES CHICAGO FOR WHEAT BELT

Patten Will Personally Investigate Condition of the Wheat Crop

Chicago, April 21.—James Patten, the bull leader in wheat, left the city today, possibly to inspect the crop on foot, particularly as it bears on the amount of wheat which may be delivered to him on July contracts. Patten's departure was not discovered by a majority of his associates until he had gone. He is accompanied by an expert and it is believed will inspect the winter wheat crop in Illinois and adjacent states, and particularly in Missouri, where reports are conflicting.

The market was nervous today and opened rather weak, with prices for July $1.12 3-8 @ $1.12 3-4. It advanced to $1.13 3-4 but later dropped back to $1.12 1-8.

Closing prices: May, $1.25; July, $1.14; September, $1.05 5-8; December, $1.03 7-8.

NEAR-BEER PLACES AT COTTAGE GROVE ORDERED TO CLOSE

City Council Takes Decisive Action to Stamp Out Evil

The city council of Cottage Grove took a stand which will not only be sanctioned by the citizens of that city, but will be a representative stand for which the members of that body believe to be right, and which they intend to enforce. There has been one "near beer" place in operation, formerly by Hanna & Cline and recently by Mr. Thompson, who paid a fine of $100 recently for violation of the local option law, which was ordered closed by the council last Saturday night. As a result, members of the near-beer article are languishing with their threat which will not be quenched soon. Mayor Job informed the Western Oregon yesterday that the time had arrived when Cottage Grove would be governed strictly by the laws of local option, in their fullest sense. For a year past the enforcement has been more or less slack, places where "near beer" and the like beverages were sold, gradually going out of business, their places being filled by responsible business houses. To this order from the council there will be a rigid enforcement of the law pertaining to the illegal sale of liquors, and any person acting in violation of the law will be prosecuted.—Western Oregon.

CAPTAIN SINCLAIR FILES FORMAL PROTEST

Captain Sinclair has lodged a complaint with Colonel West, the American consul. Sinclair claims he was seized in open waters, that he was not fishing when seized. That all dories were aboard, that the seizure was not justified.

Asked if he was fired on, Sinclair said he was not prepared to say, but that some of his men told him they were.

Colonel West is making an investigation and if he concludes the seizure was not justified, he will make a protest.

TAFT FAVORS FRANKLIN LANE

Interstate Commerce Commissioner Said to Be Slated For Reappointment

Washington, D. C., April 20.—That Franklin K. Lane of California will succeed himself as a member of the Interstate Commerce Commission is believed here by many of his friends. Although Lane's term does not expire for several months, it is known that several Democrats have their eye on the berth. The work done by the Californian, however, is said to have won the approval of President Taft. Lane is believed to regard another term with favor.

UP-TO-DATE LODGING HOUSE IN DUNN- WILKINS BUILDING

Mrs. Long, of Cottage Grove, formerly of San Francisco, has leased the two upper floors of the new Dunn-Wilkins block on West Eighth street and will conduct a first-class lodging house there. She will furnish the rooms in elegant style and will cater to the first-class trade only. This is a splendid location for such a business.

After an illness attending over many months, J. S. Fitzhugh, an Oregon settler of 1857, and the first county judge of Douglas, died at his home in Roseburg Tuesday evening at the age of 78 years. During his active life, he also served as county clerk and later as mayor of Roseburg. He leaves a wife and one son.

The first of four 6000 horse power alternating current motors, the largest in the world, recently was successfully put into service in a steel mill at Gary, Ind.
