WILL UNITED STEEL PASS DIVIDEND?

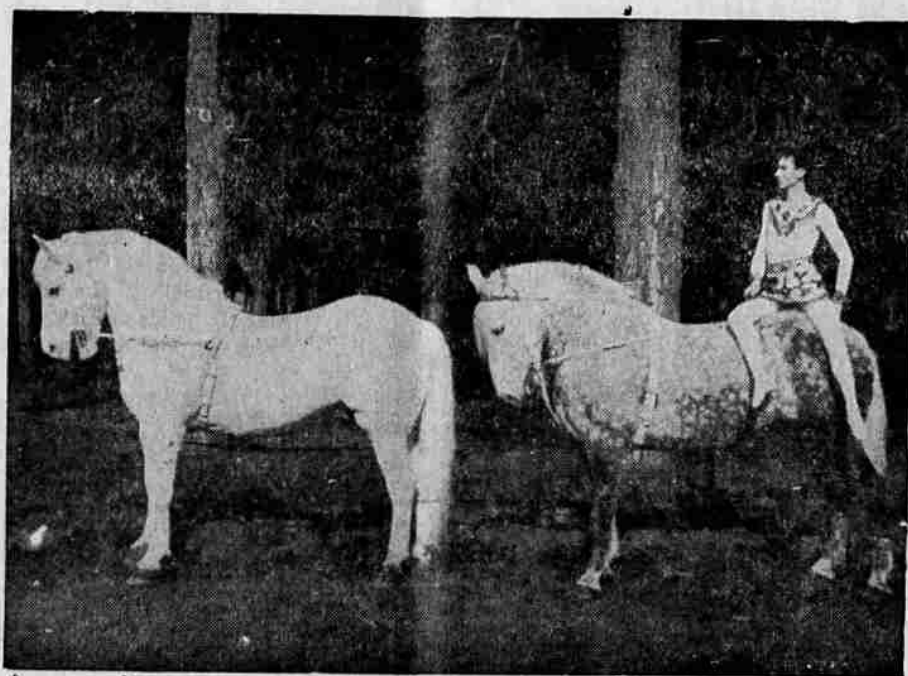

That is Question Wall Street Bankers Are Seeking to Answer in Advance

New York, April 26.—Will the directors of the United States Steel Corporation at their meeting tomorrow decide to pass the quarterly dividend on the common stock of that gigantic corporation? This is the question that is being asked in Wall Street today.

A representative of the general state of business of the country is the business of the United States Steel Corporation, and so great is the army of the holders of its se-

NORRIS & ROWE HERE ON WEDNESDAY

An act that has always proven of absorbing interest to the patrons of a circus is the long leaping and high jumping contests that bring the entertainment to a close, and Norris & Rowe have paid special attention to this feature this season and promise odd contests of a most exciting nature. The sight of men flying from a springboard over the backs of horses, camels, dromedaries, llamas and elephants is always spirited and interesting. It shows the courage and physical perfection of the trained athletes and that is what young America glories in. The clowns follow the leapers in a burlesque of their flights through the air, and curities, that any development affecting the standing of the Steel stocks is of the greatest interest to the country at large. That the passing of the two per cent dividend would be followed by general reductions on the part of other companies is regarded as likely enough—for which reason the meeting of the Steel directors tomorrow is looked forward to eagerly by the holders of all kinds of industrial common stocks.

Estimates of the net earnings of the United States Steel Corporation for the first quarter of the year vary from $15,000,000 to $20,000,000, with Pittsburgh claiming that the former figures are more apt to be right than the latter. In the last quarter of 1908, interest and sinking fund requirements and the preferred and common dividends amounted to $16,160,000, and in addition, sinking fund, depreciation and reserve items were $5,214,000, a total of $21,374,000. So that unless the highest estimates are exceeded, or the amount charged off greatly reduced, the common dividend hardly will have been earned during the past quarter.

But in view of the fact that the company's big surplus has been accumulated against just such a time as this, the fact that the dividend on the common may not have been earned in the last quarter by no means proves that nothing will be paid. Stability of dividends, as well as of prices has become the fixed policy of the United States Steel Corporation during the past few years, and in 1906 and 1907, when 14.3 per cent and 15.6 per cent respectively were earned for the common stock, the 2 per cent dividend was not raised. That was the time of the surplus accumulation, and the large fund then put in the treasury is now available to keep up dividends when earnings are poor.

With the big surplus on hand out of which the quarter's common stock dividend requirement of $2,550,000 so easily can be taken, the action of the directors at tomorrow's meeting will be governed more by the general outlook than by current conditions. For the second quarter the outlook for net earnings based on known orders is not bright, but decided improvement is expected when once the tariff is settled and manufacturers know where they stand.

The leaping tournament has been revived this year by the Greater Norris & Rowe show upon a scale in keeping with their all new circus. Many leapers, vaulters and high jumpers and high jumpers famous in Europe as well as this country have been engaged to take part in the tournament. A contest on the same order has been arranged for the acrobats and gymnasts in which the Banvard troupe, the LaVerne troupe and the Lewayne troupe will take part.

There is considerable rivalry between the acrobats and the professional leapers and the most dashing and spirited feats of skill are being accomplished. To increase the interest, a corps of lady gymnasts and physical culture experts have been added. Norris & Rowe will give a purse of gold and a diamond medal to the one who shows the most grace, skill and daring in successfully leaping the high barriers and clearing the backs of animals and obstacles.

Norris & Rowe will exhibit in Eugene on Wednesday, April 28. Reconstructs your whole body, makes rich, red blood. Drives out impurities that have collected during the winter. Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea is a family tonic, 35 cents, tea or tablets. Linn Drug Co.
