S.S.S. NATURE'S PERFECT TONIC

Something more than an ordinary tonic is required to restore health to a weakened, run-down system; the medicine must possess blood-purifying properties as well, because the weakness and impurity of the circulation is responsible for the poor physical condition. The blood does not contain the necessary quantity of rich, red corpuscles, and is therefore a weak, watery stream which cannot afford sufficient nourishment to sustain the system in ordinary health. A poorly nourished body cannot resist disease, and this explains why so many persons are attacked by a spell of sickness when the use of a good tonic would have prevented the trouble. In S. S. S. will be found both blood-cleansing and tonic qualities combined. It builds up weak constitutions by removing all impurities and germs from the blood, thus supplying a certain means for restoring strength and invigorating the system. The healthful, vegetable ingredients of which S. S. S. is composed make it splendidly fitted to the needs of those systems which are delicate from any cause. It is Nature's Perfect Tonic, free from all harmful minerals, a safe and pleasant acting medicine for persons of every age. S. S. S. rids the body of that tired, worn-out feeling so common at this season, improves the appetite and digestion, tones up the stomach, acts with pleasing effects on the nervous system, and reinvigorates every portion of the body. NORRIS & ROWE MAKE ANNUAL VISIT TO EUGENE

"Shrieking his roundelay, a monster marched through the town; he woke the echoes, disturbed the peace and shouted defiance to the police. He frightened the horses, annoyed the dogs, and even the autos tremoled, but the youngsters rejoiced at the din he made and followed his way with glee, as youngsters have done since in Hamlin town, another piper of great renown, created havoc across the sea. So the latter-day children are wont to be entranced by the singing cal-i-o-pe."

Again the painted wagons rolled through the streets and everybody, young and old, who could gain a vantage point, feasted their eyes on the classic spectacle of the circus parade that Norris & Rowe brought to us this morning. When a man or woman becomes so old as to lose all interest in circus day it is time for him to call in Dr. Osler. When the long circus trains unloaded at the depot this morning, Norris & Rowe received their annual demonstration of welcome. The small boy was much in evidence, as was also the big boy, and they worked with unflagging interest in assisting men and horses to the circus lot. The big tent is filled this afternoon and for the convenience of those unable to attend the matinee the whle thing will be repeated tonight, when a number of the matinee, the whole thing will be added. There is a set formula for modern circuses, and one which, departed from, it would fail for want of patronage. They may vary somewhat in form and quantity, but in spirit they must follow the traditions. The Norris & Rowe circus is properly conducted and it offers all the ecstatic thrills and aesthetic delights demanded of a circus. It begins in the good old way. Three bands are united and march around the ring to a most inspiring air. Elephants come lumbering after, holding each other's tails. After that it is the camels, dromedaries, and then delight of delights, shades of chivalry, the Knights and Princesses ride in graceful ranks, garbed in such glory as to outshine the pomp of power. Then comes the clowns, humble yoricks of the sawdust, and then the pageant melts away, and in the two rings, upon the elevated stage and high aloft toward the billowing tent top there is a riot of daring deeds. It is hard to follow all the things they do and say in a circus, but the excitement of trying makes life worth living. From the shrieking of the calliope to the spieling of the concert and sideshow, Norris & Rowe's is a real big circus just as good as any other and maybe better. Young or old, you cannot afford to miss it, and if you did not go this afternoon go tonight, and if you went this afternoon go again. It will make your big troubles little ones, and your little ones disappear altogether.

WALTERVILLE ITEMS

(Special Correspondence.)

Walterville, April 26.—Mrs. Ina Garrison, Mrs. Agnes McLain and Miss Fannie Millican visited at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Millican, last week. Mr. and Mrs. Marion Brubaker, of Portland, were also at the family reunion.

Rev. Shrode preached at the school house Sunday evening, and preached at Deerhorn Saturday evening and Sunday morning.

The Y. P. S. C. E. has very interesting meetings every Sunday evening. They are instructive, also, and well conducted by the president, Frank Page.

Mr. and Mrs. John Holmes are home from Blue River, where Mr. Holmes taught school.

The school children are somewhat concerned about getting the seeds to plant to raise flowers or vegetables for the fair this fall. It is nearly impossible for the children of the county to apply in person for the seeds. Could not the distribution be entrusted to the teachers?

Mrs. Miller entertained the Ladies' Aid Society last week. Mrs. Post was kin denough to take the ladies to and from the place of meeting in their automobile, making a merry afternoon for all. The next meting of the society will be held with Mrs. M. R. Storment on May 6th.

IF A UNIVERSITY GRADUATE YOU CAN CERTAINLY GET JOB

A greater demand for high school teachers is being made upon the University of Oregon than can be filled. The particular demand in the state this year is for men who can not only teach some line of work but can train or coach some branch of athletics. The lowest salaries usually offered for men is $75, while some better offers have been made for students of known ability.

Twenty University students have signified their intention to enter teaching, when they are graduated. Two-thirds of these are women, and the demand for teachers in the state is so great that positions will probably be provided for every one.
