LAST CHANCE TO SEE TEAM

Oregon Baseball Squad Have Last Game Before O. A. C. Contests

The game with the Salem high tomorrow afternoon will be the last appearance of the varsity nine until the O. A. C. games one week from Saturday. The game will be the last indication of how the 'varsity' will average with the Aggies in baseball. In baseball, in track, and in football, there is invariably the same feeling concerning the matches with the Corvallis institution. Those games are more important than any other. Not only do the students feel this spirit, but it is spread over the whole state of Oregon. Even the boys of the public schools stop to hear the results of the matches of the two largest educational colleges in Oregon.

For this reason Coach Kelly and Manager Bean want all the support for the team they can get. Last year Corvallis won four games straight, one or two by large scores. Their secret of play was hard hitting. This year they have lost half of their team, and those on the team have not made the same showing.

Satisfaction Always Desired

And Satisfaction is what we give our customers. Take for instance, we advertise to do first-class upholstery, drapery work, make and refit all of carpets with or without borders and guarantee our work. We employ these men and they have made good in the big city stores—compare this with methods of smaller firms who represent they have employed expert upholsterers, etc., but who farm the work out to "fly by night" concerns. When we contract to do a piece of work it will be exactly as represented. If our contract calls for hair, leather or any other goods, it will be as represented. We do not substitute imitation leather for genuine leather, or moss for hair.
