BOHRNSTEDT PARTY ARRIVED LAST NIGHT, WENT TO CRESWELL

Driven About Eugene in Carriages—Party Consists of Representative Men.

The excursion of Minnesota people conducted by the C. Bohrnstedt Co., of Creswell, arrived here last night in a special Pullman car. The party consists of twenty persons, all well-to-do representative citizens. They were driven about the city in carriages this morning, taking in all the principal places of interest, including the University, Hendricks' park, where a splendid view of the city is afforded, and the Commercial club, where the Kiser pictures are on exhibition. All of the members of the party seemed delighted with the city and as much of the surrounding country as they have seen. They left for Creswell on the 2:18 train this afternoon and after looking over that part of the county will leave for Seattle to take in the exposition.

MERCHANTS SHOULD RALLY TO SUPPORT OF PAPER

The following letter from the firm which supplied the Oregon State Journal with its "patent inside" is self-explanatory:

St. Paul, Minn., May 29, '09.
Dear Sir: We have your esteemed favor of the 21st notifying us that you are thinking of discontinuing your paper after more than forty-five years' continuous management. We are very, very sorry indeed to hear this, and hope that the merchants of your town will rally to your support and make your business worth sufficient to you to continue the publication. It does not speak very well for your city to allow a paper of the standing that the "Oregon State Journal" has, to die for want of support. We thought there was more enterprise in the western country. We sincerely trust that they will make it to your interest to reconsider the matter and that you will send us notice to resume publication right away.

N. W. NEWSPAPER UNION.
John J. Dobson, Superintendent.

Dr. John W. Hisehoff, the blind organist of Washington, who lost his sight when 2 years old, died in Washington, D. C., Sunday. Dr. Hisehoff had been the organist of the First Congressional church for 30 years and was considered one of the greatest composers and organists of the country, among his compositions being "Good Night," "Sweet Dreams," "Unanswered" and "Bob o'."

KISER PHOTOS ARE ADMIRED BY MANY

Exhibit of Lane County Pictures for Seattle Fair on Display. At Club Rooms

The collection of Lane county and Eugene hand-painted photos, by Kiser, to be displayed in the Oregon building of the A-V-P. exposition at Seattle, in connection with the Eugene exhibit, were on exhibition at the Commercial Club today and were viewed by hundreds of Eugene and Lane county people, who already knew what there is in the way of scenery in this county, but wanted to see how it looked in colored photographs. Many strangers and new-comers also visited the exhibit and everyone expressed his admiration for the pictures. They are beautiful. That is the best word we can think of with which to describe them. And they are natural—we have seen every place and locality reproduced by the photographs.

The exhibit will be taken to Portland and shown at the Commercial club there and then taken to Seattle, where they will be viewed by hundreds of thousands. The pictures include several scenes on the University campus, a number on the mill-race, several farm and orchard scenes, a grand panoramic view of Eugene, several views of the Willamette and McKenzie rivers, several of Florence and the harbor, one of Talkeetna lake, one of Hecla Head and the light house, one of East Eleventh street, several views of the valley, looking in different directions from and toward Eugene, a view of Spencer's butte and a number of others. They are in six big and attractive frames.

TWO MEN IN TROUBLE BECAUSE THE GIRLS WERE TOO YOUNG

Drummer and Businessman Under Bonds On Grave Charge.

E. Halsey, a drummer from Seattle, and a young businessman of this city are in trouble for having what they called "a little fun" with a couple of girls who are under age. Saturday night, these men, it is alleged, met Addie Johnson and Ruth Jackson, employees of a restaurant, during the evening and took them out for a ride. They appeared on the streets early Sunday morning and took the girls to the Encore hotel against the wishes of one of them, it is said, who wanted to go home, so she tells the officers. The men were arrested later by Officers Purdy and Callison and a charge of contributing to the delinquency of minors booked against them. The men are at liberty on $500 bonds each and their examination will probably be held tomorrow before Judge Bryson, of the justice court. It is said the case against the Eugene man will be dismissed.
