Unless It's a GOOD Store It Will NOT Pay To Advertise It!

Unless you know a person—unless that person comes into your life in some way—you are not greatly concerned about whether he is good or bad, desirable or objectionable. It's so with a store. The people who never visit it care nothing about it one way or the other. It doesn't exist—for them. But when they are persuaded to patronize it—when they come to turn the spotlight of their attention on it—when it comes to have a part in their lives, as some stores must have in all lives—then it's different; then it does matter whether it strives to win confidence; it does matter whether or not its price concessions are genuine, dependable.

If it meets all tests that a good store must stand when it is advertised—when it thus invites the critical attention of the people—then advertising will "make" the store. If it fails in most of the vital things—if it proves, under the light of publicity not to be much of a store, THEN ADVERTISING WILL NOT PAY—for it will emphasize the shortcomings as well as the merits.

For these same reasons it is generally assumed that the store which does not advertise is seeking to avoid close inspection and comparison, and that the store which does is courting them.
