CROPS AROUND HARRISBURG BETTER THAN EXPECTED

Hay Harvest in Progress—Other Interesting News of the Lively Linn County Town

(Special Correspondence). Harrisburg, June 28.—A lack of news here this week is a notable condition. "All hands and the cook" attended the meeting of the pioneers at Brownsville, leaving the city with but a faithful few.

Hay harvest is getting under way with the prospect of a good crop of vetch and alfalfa but the wheat will be a light crop. A full supply of Kentish cherries have been canned and stored for winter use. The yield of this fruit is below the average. The fall wheat is coming on with good promise, expected to be full average. The spring-sown wheat will be a light crop.

The buzz of the wood-saw is warning us that the long days of summer have passed and that another winter is approaching.

Everything possible is being done to make the celebration here on the 3rd of July an interesting occasion. Good speakers have been engaged and a program arranged that will keep something doing every minute for the amusement of the attendance.

Dr. W. H. Dale returned home Friday. During his vacation he met with the grand lodge A. P. & A. M. in Portland, and attended the A-Y-P Exposition at Seattle and many other enjoyable functions while away. Dr. Russell, of Salem, had charge of his practice during his absence. Dr. Russell will visit his home folks ten miles east of Eugene before returning to Salem.

Damon Smith, the druggist, took a well-earned vacation this week, going to points north.

Of course, we have a kick coming on the late schedule of the S. P. Co. However, when the larger cities have spent their wrath it might appear more modest for the little ones to keep still.
