NEWEST SCHEME IS "CIGARETTE SPECIAL TRAIN"

Walla Walla, Wash., June 30.—The strict enforcement of the new law prohibiting the smoking of cigarettes has been productive of much lamentation by those addicted to the habit in this city and has resulted in an ingenious scheme to evade the watchful sheriff. This forenoon, if there is no hitch in the perfected plans of the promoter, a "cigarette excursion will leave Walla Walla over the interurban line and will cross the Oregon state line, where a supply of "paper pills" of all makes, as well as plenty of the "makings," are to be provided.

The excursion idea was sprung as a joke by Al Bobliter of Portland, who represents a tobacco company, but so many men are hungering for a drag at the proscribed paper smoke were found who took the idea seriously that the traveling man announced his intention to really carry out the plan.

FALLS CITY COUPLE EXPECTS TO CIRCLE COUNTRY ON PONIES

Falls City, Or., June 30.—Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Crebs left here lately for a long journey on their native Oregon ponies. They plan to stop a little while in Idaho, and then cross the plains and thence on to Michigan, where they will spend the winter with friends, and in the spring resume their journey, going down through some of the southern states, thence west to California and northward back to Oregon and this place. Their baggage is only what can be carried on the ponies they ride. They are in search of better health.

NEWPORT MAKING IMPROVEMENTS

Newport is making rapid strides in opening up new sections by building and improving streets. A new street is being laid out to the ocean, half way between the life saving station and Nye Creek. Beach street, running to the ocean from Nye Creek hotel, was graded and widened, injuring the property belonging to A. N. Moores, Claud Gatch and Dr. Minthorn, as the perpendicular bank in front of their cottages has no bulkhead and is falling down. A new road, running from the ocean bluff between Nye Creek and Jump-Off-Joe, back to Nye Creek's source, has opened a section of beautiful building sites, which overlook the Pacific and are sheltered from the heavy winds by a thick forest lying directly north. The $2500 road to Olssonville along the bay and built on piling, will soon be finished, and places which were reached by winding trails are now securing good roads as fast as they can be built.

Many of these improvements are doubtless made not only on account of the heavy building, but on account of the water system to be put in as soon as the bonds are on the market. The water is to be brought in wooden pipes from the headwaters of Big Creek, and a modern city system will be installed. There is also considerable talk of building a ball park in the city's park, which could be done by draining the lily pond, leaving a natural amphitheatre. The location of the present ground is a mile from town, but nevertheless the Sunday games are well attended by the visitors and residents alike.

RAILS ORDERED FOR S. P. COMPANY'S NATRON EXTENSION

Orders have been placed by the Harriman lines for the steel rails to be used the coming fiscal year and out of the total amount 13,000 tons are to be awarded to the Oregon Railroad and Navigation company and the Southern Pacific lines in Oregon.

The Oregon lines' share of the order represents about $648,000 expenditure and amounts to about 92 track miles. Of this amount ten miles are for the Natron extension. The remaining 82 miles are partially for repair work to the main lines of the O. R. & N. and Southern Pacific, with possibly some for the Deschutes. All of the rails are to be 90 pounders—which is the standard adopted not only for the O. R. & N. but for the new portions of the Southern Pacific line.

The order for steel rails completes the list of supplies for the present fiscal year which ended yesterday. The rails are for delivery between July 1, 1909, and July 1, 1910.

SUFFRAGISTS IN BIG FAMILY ROW

Seattle, Wash., June 30.—The convention of the Washington Woman Suffrage Association today was marked by scenes of utmost confusion and almost of violence. A faction led by Mrs. Mary Arkwright Hutton, of Spokane, having about 50 members, sought to oust the present state officers, headed by President Emma Smith Devore, whose supporters numbered about 200.

The report of the committee on credentials declared the Spokane delegates not entitled to seats.

In the debate on the report some of the delegates called others "thieves," "liars" and "scoundrels," and there was hysterical weeping and screaming.

The speakers on both sides were hissed down, an especially hostile reception being given to D. C. Coates, of the Spokane Labor World, a Hutton partisan.

Both sides agreed upon ousting the newspaper reporters, one of whom, after his exclusion, telephoned to police headquarters that a riot was in progress.

A squad of bluecoats soon entered the hall and found the convention in tears.
