THE ROCK-A-BY LADY

The rock-a-by, Lady from Hushaby street
Comes stealing, comes creeping;
The poppies they hang their head to their feet
And each hath a dream that is tiny and fleet—
She bringeth her poppies to you, my sweet,
When she findeth you sleeping!

There is one little dream of a beautiful drum—
"Rub-a-dub" it goeth;
There is one little dream of a big sugar plum,
And so, thick and fast, the other dreams come,
Of pop-guns that bang and tin tops that hum,
And a trumpet that bloweth

And dollies peep out of their wee little dreams
With laughter and singing;
And boats go a-floating on silvery streams
And the stars peek-a-boo with their own misty gleams
And up, up and up, where the Mother Moon beams,
The fairies go winging.

Would you dream all these dreams tiny and fleet?
They'll come to you sleeping;
So shut the two eyes that are weary, my sweet,
For the Rock-a-by Lady from Hushaby street,
With poppies that hang from her head to her feet,
Comes stealing, comes creeping.

—Eugene Field.

HOW AN IDAHO CITY WAS MADE

The growth of Boise, Idaho, is an exemplification of what persistent enterprise will do in the up-building of a city. In this instance the moss-back proclivities of the early settlers, who refused to raise a moderate-sized bonus, lost them the main line of the Oregon Short Line railroad, and for several years they were without railroad facilities at all. Then a twenty-mile stub road was built connecting with the main line, which was and is still their only steam railway. The town was surrounded for hundreds of miles by sage brush deserts, and had but one commercial advance to build its future upon—that of being the capital of a new and sparsely settled state.

But the people there had learned their lesson from the loss of the Oregon Short line through lack of the proper public spirit. They determined to overcome all obstacles and build up a city. How well they have succeeded is demonstrated by the fact that the town, which had a population of less than 6000 when the federal census of 1900 was taken, is now a beautiful city of 25,000 people, with one million dollars' worth of buildings under construction this year, including a seven-story hotel which will be one of the finest in the Northwest.

Boise owes nearly all of its growth and prosperity to the enterprise of its people. They not only erected fine homes and business buildings, paved streets and laid cement walks, but they built electric railways down the irrigated valleys to the towns on the Short Line, and thus extended the area of their retail trade. Local capital built one of these roads, twenty miles long, without the assistance of a dollar of outside money, and local men began and promoted another thirty miles in length. It was this faith in their city and willingness to back its enterprises financially which made Boise the city it is today and overcame the many obstacles that would have discouraged less determined communities.

Eugene has every natural advantage and should outgrow a city like Boise with only reasonable effort on the part of the people. All that is required is for the local capitalists to stand back of every movement that promises to increase business and draw trade from a larger area of territory. The proposed Siuslaw railroad is one of these. It means a large and increasing revenue to our merchants and increased values to property owners. But it will never be built unless the people of Eugene want it badly enough to put their money into it, and convince foreign capital of their faith in investments tending to develop the country.

And here's another freak at large. A Scotchman visiting in this country, says he pays an income tax of $5000, and would be glad to pay more. Bet he is not on the Skibo, Castle visiting list.

America is to have a crowned head, without a protest from any quarter. Italy is to present a duplicate of the ancient Roman civic crown to Miss Mabel Boardman, of Washington, for her work with the Red Cross for the earthquake sufferers.

President Cammell, of the City Historical Society of Philadelphia, must not be "skeered" of ghosts—he denies that Betsy Ross made the first American flag.

The bottom dropped out of a Belgian canal the other day and all the water leaked out. That will probably tempt the Panama canal knockers to get out their hammers agin.

Truth does not stay down a well all the time. She was with the Swiss merchant who said: "American tourists are more welcome in Switzerland than those of any other country because they spend their money more freely than others."

DIED

At the home of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Taylor, near Coburg, July 20, 1909, Miss Lela May Horn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Horn of Portland, aged 21 years. She was a Eugene girl, having been born and raised here. She was talented, having possessed much educational ability and often appeared in public entertainments in Portland and elsewhere. She failed in health some time ago and came to Coburg to stay on the farm with her uncle and aunt, but she grew worse instead of better, as hoped. She left many friends here and numerous relatives. The funeral will be held Thursday morning at 10:30 o'clock at the Episcopal church with interment in the I. O. O. F. cemetery.

THOMSON BROUGHT BACK TO EUGENE

Albert C. Thomson, a Portland drummer, was brought to Eugene last night by Sheriff Bown, having been arrested there yesterday on the charge of contributing to the delinquency of a minor, who is a Eugene girl. Thomson and the girl went to Portland from here a few days ago for the purpose of marrying, but the girl being under age her parents objected and the man was arrested. Today the matter was settled by the couple securing a marriage license. The wedding will occur late this afternoon or this evening.

In sickness, if a certain hidden nerve goes wrong, then the organ that this nerve controls will also surely fail. It may be a stomach nerve, or it may have given strength and support to the heart or kidneys. It was Dr. Shoop that first pointed to this vital truth. Dr. Shoop's Restorative was not made to dose the stomach nor to temporarily stimulate the heart or kidneys. That old-fashioned method is all wrong. Dr. Shoop's Restorative goes directly to these falling inside nerves. The remarkable success of this prescription demonstrates the wisdom of treating the actual cause of these falling organs. And it is indeed easy to prove. A simple five or ten days rest will surely tell. Try it and see. Sold by all dealers.
