ENDORSES EDITORIAL IN TUESDAY'S GUARD

Manager Hartog, of Commercial Club, Tells of Harm Done by the Neglect of Lawns

Eugene, Oregon, July 28, 1909.
Editor The Guard:—Your editorial in Tuesday evening's Guard is quite to the point, for it is a fact that Mr. Stewart was here, being attracted to Eugene through club literature, and went away with an unfavorable impression on account of the fact that many of the lawns were neglected, and as he puts it: "Some needed water and others a mower."

This was the third caller from the East within one week who was frank enough to state his unfavorable impressions. The worst of it is that this does not mean that through neglect of civic pride we lost those three families, for as a matter of fact it is impossible to estimate how far the harm carries. These visitors go back home and are anxiously asked for their opinion, and what they say in regard to a community means a great deal more than any literature sent out.

Yours very truly,
EUGENE COMMERCIAL CLUB,
John H. Hartog, Mgr.

PORTER BROTHERS BACKED BY HILL

Harriman's Great Rival Gradually Making His Plans Known

All doubt that James J. Hill is the power behind the anti-Harriman invasion of Central Oregon must be brushed aside. Too many developments bearing directly upon the gigantic struggle now being waged for this rich empire indicate this to admit of question.

The Oregon Trunk people are planning to bridge the Columbia to connection with the North Bank road. This has leaked out today. Porter Brothers, who own the Oregon Trunk rights, have been in conference today with Attorney James B. Kerr, the Hill lawyer who whipped and routed Harriman's legal lights at every issue when the O. R. & N. was trying to block the Hill line down the Washington shore of the Columbia. It is known that Mr. Kerr has been engaged for some time picking up the odds and ends of the situation that may result in litigation between the Deschutes road and the Oregon Trunk, and that one of the purposes of today's conference between the Porters and Lawyer Kerr is to decide upon a course of action that shall further harass the Harriman forces. —Telegram.
