CATHOLICS HOLD GREAT MEETING IN PITTSBURG

Thousand Delegates From the Philippines, Alaska and the United States

Pittsburg, Aug. 7.—Catholics from Hawaii, Porto Rico, the Philippines and Alaska, two redskin converts from the Pine Ridge mission and several representatives of the negro catholics will mingle with the faithful from all of the states during the eighth annual convention of the American Federation of Catholic Societies, which opens in Pittsburg tomorrow. A large number of the thousand delegates expected are in the city tonight. The delegates will represent over 3,000,000 Catholics enrolled in the various societies of the church.

Special invitations have been issued to all the archbishops and bishops of the country, asking them to participate in the convention and to send diocesan representations. Subjects of great moment to the Catholics of this country will be discussed and special discussion will be given to the preservation of the Catholic Indian schools and missions.

A special request has been received by the committee for the encouragement of this work from His Eminence, James Cardinal Gibbons, of Baltimore; Archbishop J. M. Farley, of New York, and Archbishop P. J. Ryan, of Philadelphia.

The Federation was launched eight years ago, for the purpose of impressing Christian principles on the public mind for moral, social and business good.

Tommorow at 11 o'clock mass will be celebrated by Bishop Canevin, in St. Paul's cathedral, with a sermon by the Rt. Rev. Camillus Maes, bishop of Covington, Ky. At three o'clock a mass meeting will be held in the Carnegie Music Hall, and in the evening a musical program will be rendered under the direction of Prof. J. Otten, organist of the cathedral.

Business sessions at 9:30 and 2 o'clock will be held in the Carnegie Music hall on Monday, and mass at 8:30 in St. Paul's cathedral. On Tuesday business sessions will be held also at 9 and 2 o'clock. A second mass meeting will be held in Carnegie hall at 8 p. m. Thomas H. Cannon, of Chicago, will be chairman, and Thomas B. Minahan, of Seattle, the Rt. Rev. James A. McFaul, of Trenton, N. J., and Prof. J. C. Monahan, of New York, will deliver addresses. The closing sessions will be held Wednesday.

ENGLAND CELEBRATES ALFRED TENNYSON'S CENTENNIAL BIRTHDAY

Leading Men and Women Pay Tribute to Great English Poet

London, Aug. 7.—All of literary London joined yesterday and today in the observance of the centennial of the birth of Alfred Lord Tennyson. The leading men and women of letters of the nation took part in the formal tributes to the poet-laureate, and thousands of admirers of Tennyson visited the exhibition of his portraits, photographs, autographs and early editions at the gallery of the Fine Arts Society. The exhibit at the Bond street institution was continued today and the gallery is thronged with devotees who gaze in reverent admiration upon the hallowed collection representing the genius of the poet dead.

The portraits shown in the collection do not include the full face by Watts for the National Portrait Gallery, nor the three-quarter length by the same painter for Trinity College, Cambridge; but Lady Henry Somerset has lent the earlier portrait which Watts painted in 1859, and that is a satisfactory substitute. Lady Knowles has contributed her Millais—the large three-quarter in a dark-blue cloak, and one of the best portraits painted of him, ranking in quality and dignity with the famous Gladstone. There are Professor Von Herkomer's portrait of the poet, with Mr. Sandy's water color drawing, Mrs. Allingham's sketches, the head painted by Samuel Lawrence in 1838, and the earliest known likeness—a characterless face by Mrs. Weld. There are replicas of the Woolner bust, the originals in marble being in Westminster Abbey, Trinity College, Cambridge and the Adelaide Art Gallery, and there are many photographs and engravings. To these are added portraits and photographs of Arthur Hallam, Lady Tennyson and the poet's grandfather and other drawings.

You and everybody around you will feel better for it. Price 50 cents per bottle. Dillon Drug Co.

HUBERT LATHAM AND MONOPLANE IN WHICH HE TWICE TRIED TO CROSS CHANNEL.

Notwithstanding his two unsuccessful attempts to fly across the English channel, Hubert Latham declares he will try again. At his first attempt Latham fell into the water ten miles out from Calais. While Latham was repairing his monoplane for a second trial Louis Blerlot stole a march on him and performed the feat of flying from Calais to Dover in thirty-three minutes. Latham then undertook to fly from Calais to London, but fell again, this time only two miles out from Dover.

DOESN'T LIKE NAME OF FAMOUS GAME

New York, Aug. 7.—After today, Charles Krapp, a fireman of hook and ladder company No. 30, will be no more. To Mr. Krapp this is a sweet and solemn thought. Not that he is going to committ suicide. He is only to change his name, by permission of the courts, and henceforth will be known as Charles Krupp.

The fireman does not agree with the late Mr. Shakespeare as to the significance of a name. The boys of No. 30 are a facetious lot, and Krapp's neighbors in the Bronx more so. Their peculiar sense of humor found vent in a snapping of fingers and a repitition of "Come seven" and "come eleven" whenever Krapp hove in sight. The gallant fireman disliked such constant reference to the popular pastime of the colored population, and finally, in desperation, appealed to the courts for relief. This was granted, and tonight at midnight, by legal decree, Charles Krapp will pass away and be succeeded by Charles Krupp. Wherefore and henceforth his facetious colleagues will probably make a noise like a gun.
