M'KENZIE BRIDGE OUTING PARTIES MAKE MERRY

Big Five Hundred Party at Log House Hotel—Other Items
 From the Resort

Special Correspondence.

McKenzie Bridge, Aug. 12.—On Friday, August 6th, everybody in the vicinity of the Log Cabin hotel forsook mountain and mountain stream for one of the loveliest afternoons with Mrs. Alice Crover, who gave a "five hundred" party in honor of Mrs. C. H. Metcalf, of San Francisco.
 The decorations were taken charge of by the ladies at the hotel, and they proved master hands, turning the upper veranda into a forest bower with hemlock, Oregon grape and ferns. Guests began to arrive about 2 o'clock, and soon after a jolly company were engaged in playing "five hundred." At 5 o'clock dinner was served by the Misses Charlotte Young, Frieda Rhodes and Augusta Young. In the evening an informal dance was indulged in, the Virginia reel being the feature number, and so a most pleasant afternoon was enjoyed at the Log House hotel on the McKenzie. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Miller, Miss Laura Miller,
 Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Talner, Miss Besse Tanner, Meredith Tanner, T. C.
 Putnam, Mrs. Mettie Kelly, Mrs. R.
 M. Pratt, and Mrs. M. F. Briggs, Miss Netta Kress, Mrs. J. L. Page, Mrs. A. A. Battinger, Mr. and Mrs.
 C. F. Winters (Los Angeles), Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Flint (Los Angeles), Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Metcalf (San Francisco), N. E. Metcalf (San Jose), Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Frissell, Miss Mabel O'Leary, J. A. VanGross (Portland), Harold Mayer (Portland), Miss Charlotte Young, Miss Gussie Young, Miss Frieda Rhodes, Master Charles Croner, H. S. Huston.

Other Notes
 Al Montgomery, of Vida, says the McKenzie is becoming so attractive now that he has to turn around and look two or three times while going from his house to the barn to prevent being run over by automobiles.

A dancing party was given by the lady guests at the Log House hotel Tuesday evening. The music was furnished by Ira Iskam, with Wm.
 Yale as floor manager. "The birds hopped out and the crow hopped in, and they swung their partners again and again." The smiles that continued on the faces, the laughter that was heard above the fiddle, told the tale of joy that had captured those present and made them think of only the pleasure that life held on the McKenzie.

Judge Tanner and family, of Portland, are enjoying a summer outing here.
 W. A. T. Bushong and wife, Petronella G. Connelly and Melrose R.
 Kaiser, of Portland, are arrivals at the Log House hotel and doing great fishing stunts.

J. H. McClung is here on his annual outing.
 Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Metcalf and child, of San Francisco, and N. E.
 Metcalf, of San Jose, after an extended visit with Uncle and Aunt Frizzell, have returned home. The Messrs. Metcalf are sons of Auntie Frizzell.

Consul H. B. Miller, wife and daughter, Miss Laura, of Yokohama, Japan, are spending the summer as guests at the Log House hotel.
 Will E. Corning, of Florence, Colorado, a nephew of Uncle George Frizzell, who has been spending the summer here, returned home last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. T. G. Hendricks, Mr. and Mrs. Philby Snodgrass and Miss Snodgrass arrived in an auto Tuesday afternoon and went to Foley Springs. They expect to return to the Bridge soon.

Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Winters and Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Flint, of Los Angeles, are enjoying a month at the McKenzie Bridge as a part of the summer's travel. This is their first visit here and they are now strong friends at this place.

EUGENE MAN IS LUCKY IN LAND DRAWING

Jacob F. Olsen, a Laborer, is No. 168 in Drawing at the Flathead Reservation

Lane county people who were lucky in yesterday's land drawing at the Flathead Indian reservation were as follows: Jacob F. Olsen, Eugene, No. 168; Garland H. Campbell, Leaburg, No. 1272; Robert B. Fullmer, Wendling, No. 1345.

Olsen's name appears in the Eugene directory as being a laborer, and his address is the west end of Sixth street. He will doubtless get a very good farm, as he is among the first choice, and there is much more good land in the Flathead reservation than in the Coeur d'Alene.

Neither Campbell's nor Fullmer's name appears in the list of taxpayers of Lane county as given in the last Polk's directory.

Olsen is a man of family and has lived here several years. He will doubtless live on his claim the required number of years in order to establish residence.

UNIVERSITY GRADUATES NEED CERTIFICATES, TOO

In response to a request from State Superintendent Ackerman, Attorney General Crawford has rendered a decision to the effect that graduates of state normal schools or universities cannot teach in grades above the eighth in country schools without having a county or state certificate.
 The law provides that teachers of normal or college training may teach in high schools without passing an examination, but the attorney-general concludes that where schools of the second-class add grades above the eighth, the are not high schools within the meaning of the law, and the teachers employed for those grades must pass the regular examinations prescribed for grade teachers.
