EVENING

Life's little day is fading fast; upon the mountain's brow the sinking sun is gleaming red: the shadows lengthen now; the twilight hush comes on apace, and soon the evening star will light us to those chambers where dreamless sleepers are. And when the curfew bell is rung, that calls us all to rest, and we have left all worldly things, at Azrael's behest, O may some truthful mourner rise and say of you or me: "Gee Whiz! I'm sorry he is dead! He was a honey bee!

Whate'er his job, he did his best, he put on all his steam, in every stunt he had to do he was a four-horse team. He thought that man was placed on earth to help his fellow guys; he never wore a frosty face, and balked at weeping eyes; the hard luck pilgrim always got a hand out at his door, and any friend could help himself to all he had in store; he toiled to make his humble home the gayest sort of camp, till death, the king of bogies came and slugged him in the lamp. I don't believe a squarer guy existed in the land, and death was surely off his base when this galoot was canned!"

There seems to be no reason why the high school students should not maintain an organization to promote athletics and publish a school paper, providing membership is not compulsory, and the student who does not care for such things, or is unable to bear the expense, is at liberty to stay outside the association. Of course, such expenses as are incurred in these enterprises should be borne by those who are benefited by them and not become a burden upon the taxpayers.

People sometimes patronize mail order houses because they think they cannot get the same goods at home. That business is a loss to his trade which the non-advertiser deserves because he does not tell the people through the newspaper what goods he carries in stock.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Commercial Club will hold an interesting meeting tonight. It should be well attended by the members, whose good work in the past has counted for the advancement of Eugene.

Something like a million dollars has been expended in buildings and improvements in Eugene this year as a kind of preliminary to the real building boom that will set in next year.

No good reason why a local business man should sit down and wait for trade to come when his mail order competitors are out hustling after it.

It will prove as difficult for Commander Peary to prove Dr. Cook was not at the North Pole as for either of them to show conclusively that he was there.

Every day that the electric railways delay work on their proposed extensions in the Willamette valley they are losing money.

Not much indicataions of an Eastern blizzard or a tropical hurricane here in Oregon.

Eggs seem likely to be worth as much as gold nuggets by mid-winter.

Its climate is Oregon's best booster.

SEVERE WINTER IN PACIFIC NORTHWEST

Old Indians Say, "Heap Cold Weather, Squirrels Put Away Many Nuts."

Two ancient warriors of the Warm Springs tribe, picturesque figures on the busy streets of Eugene, laid in a heavy supply of blankets, woolens, and flour at the Dodge Department store a few days ago. When asked why they bought such heavy woolens, they said, "Much snow. Heap cold weather." When the squirrels lay away large stores for winter, people should take warning and supply themselves well for cold weather. Our busy corner is the place to buy for we give you extra all-wool 11-4 blankets, $7.50 values for $5.00; nice soft, cotton blankets, 65c pair. Men's overcoats, $15.00 values, $10.00; $20.00 values for $15.00.

Our grocery department is full of bargains. Another cut in flour. Mount Hood, extra hard wheat flour, $1.35.

HOUSES FOR RENT

Are you looking for a house to rent? Which would you rather do—pay rent and let the other fellow own the house, or pay a small sum each month and in time own the house yourself? A house in Eugene is a pretty good thing to own. Wouldn't you like to live in a pretty, up-to-date bungalow, that has a fireplace, a fine hot air furnace, all the nice things that make life worth living in it, and feel that the money you are paying out each month is going to make it all yours some day? It is a mighty nice thing to own your own home. The Hill Crest Company can show you how to do it. Call up M. J. Duryea, manager, at Jack Rodman's office, No. 18 West Eighth street, and let him tell you about it.
