REORGANIZE STATE WORK OF THE CHURCH

Committee Report on Reorganization Adopted by Congregationalists Today

The Congregational Association convened this morning at 9 o'clock with devotional exercises led by Rev. D. T. Thomas.

Rev. J. W. Sprenger, of the U. B. church, and Rev. J. R. Knodell, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League of Oregon, were voted in as corresponding members.

The report of the committee on reorganization of state work was presented by Rev. E. C. Oakley, chairman. After discussion and amendment the report was adopted.

In the matter of ministerial relief it was recommended that the Oregon society be co-ordinated with the National Ministerial Relief Society, and that the details of the adjustment be referred to the Home Missionary Board of Oregon, with power to act, and that the state society turn over the funds on hand to the national society.

Rev. J. R. Knodell, of the Anti-Saloon League, presented its work most forcibly, and a rousing resolution of approval was adopted.

In this connection the following associational yell was enthusiastically adopted:

"Oregon, Oregon, my, my, my, Oregon, Oregon, why? why? why? Oregon, Oregon, dry! dry! dry! Oregon, Oregon, when? when? when? Oregon dry in nineteen ten!"

Rev. John J. Staub spoke briefly of the Congregational Church Building Society, and the necessity for a forward movement in the matter of church building, particularly in the centers of population in Oregon, if the Congregational idea is to be maintained in this state. A strong resolution was adopted pledging the association to a national movement which will bring this society to a position of adequate strength and ability to meet the demands made imperative by the rapidly growing work.

An excellent address on "The Spirit of Jesus as Interpreted in the Life of the Scholar" was given by Professor Joseph Schaefer. The central thought of the address was that the task of the scholar was to impart exact truth. Warm discussion followed.

Yesterday afternoon Rev. W. A. Rice, D. D. of Boston, secretary of the National Congregational board of ministerial relief, spoke of the importance of the state organization of that character affiliating with the national body, on the ground that the expenses would be less and a more efficient service would be secured. This matter was referred to a committee composed of Rev. H. V. Romlinger, moderator; Rev. E. S. Hollinger and Rev. Arthur J. Palsom.

From 2 to 4 the time was devoted to Woman's Missionary Work—first home missions, with Mrs. E. W. Luckey presiding with program as follows: "The American Highlanders"—the people living in the mountain districts of the South—Mrs. C. A. Wann.

Soprano Solo—Mrs. H. S. Gilbert. "The Missionary Education of the Child." Mrs. F. A. Frazier. "The Missionary Cradle Roll" Mrs. H. S. Gilbert.

Second—Foreign missions, Mrs. Walter Hoge presiding, Miss Frances C. Gage gave a brief address on conditions in Turkey. Having been a missionary there for a number of years, she was able to speak out of her own personal experiences. In this she made it clear that the missionary in Turkey had had a most important influence in ameliorating conditions there.

Mrs. William N. Ferrin, of Forest Grove as her subject gave a paper on "A Model Missionary Society."

The closing hours of the afternoon were occupied by representatives of Young Peoples' Society of Christian Endeavor, with Miss Tripp, of Eugene, presiding. Brief addresses were made by Clarence Sprague, of the Highland church, Portland, and Rev. G. L.

Dick, of Portland. A vocal solo was rendered by Miss June Warner. The points emphasized were "How the Sympathy of the Church May Become an Efficient Agency," and "The Responsibility of the Young People."

In the evening an address on "Our Veterans" was given by Rev. W. A. Rice, followed by an address by Rev. H. V. Romlinger on the "Spirit of Jesus in the Life of Today, Interpreted by Individual and Character."

CITY NEWS

A number of the members of Canton Hovey, I. O. O. F., of this city, visited the Springfield encampment last night.

Henry Fisher, John Barker, Clint Branstetter and Dave Markley have returned home from a hunting trip in the Bohemia mining district. They killed nine fine deer.

Arthur Hendershott wires that he will be home from San Francisco about Monday, coming by water. Kidwell and Moulton will come later by rail.

The county court has granted the city of Eugene a franchise for the erection of the poles and wires for the transmission line from the power plant on the McKenzie to Eugene along the county roads.

The foundation for the new Christian church in Fairmount has been completed and the frame would have been up this week had not the rain interfered. The building will be 50x50 feet in dimensions.

There is an exhibition at Polders & Davis' haberdashery a picture of one of the world's championship games at Pittsburg, showing the immense crowd and the players in action. It has attracted a lot of attention today.

Tomorrow at 11:10 a. m. Judge S. A. Lowell, of Pendleton, speaks on the subject, "A Christian's Administration of Government." Judge Lowell is one of our strong Oregon men. Come out and hear him. His running mate in speaking is Rev. D. V. Poling of The Dailies. Hear them both.

Ellermann, the hypnotist, put a man to sleep in the show window of Campbell-Fellman Company's store this afternoon and will keep him there until the performance opens at the theatre tonight. The sleeping man attracted large crowds.

The funeral of Mrs. M. P. Dommersmae, wife of the Norwegian Lutheran minister of this city, was held at the church this afternoon and the remains laid away in the I. O. O. F. cemetery. The services were largely attended and were very impressive.

The Women of Woodcraft have at last allowed the claim of $1000 to Little Melba Markley, whose mother, Mrs. Tressa Markley, formerly of Eugene, succided at Seattle by jumping into Lake Washington. The claim was held up for a long time on account of alleged irregularities.

A. C. Woodcock has begun suit in the circuit court against the Southern Pacific Co. to recover $253 damages alleged to have been sustained by the company's employes setting fire to the right-of-way and the fire spreading to Woodcock's land, destroying grass and fence. The land in question is north of Irving.

If they've lived in Oregon two or three years, they never want to go back to an eastern state; or if they do, with more smiles than tears, they soon retrace their track. Even visitors who but briefly stay the Oregon fever contract, and dream by night and think by day, of the Oregon charms that attract. So they're coming, coming, more and more, and to stay, in the best state of all, where Opportunity's thousand faced door stands open to great and small.

DIED

At the Eugene hospital October 20, 1909, Harvey E. McLaughlin, aged 31 years, 11 months and 23 days, of tuberculosis. The remains were removed to Chehalis, Wash., for burial. He leaves a wife and mother, who were with him at the time of death.

CLERK'S OFFICE FEES DOUBLE IN 5 YEARS

The business done at the county clerk's office is a true and infallible index to the growth and prosperity of the county. According to figures furnished The Guard by Clerk Lee, the receipts of the office have more than doubled in the past five years, indicating a rapid growth in that time. For the month of September in each of the past five years, the receipts of the office have been as follows: 1905, $500.55; 1906, $595.45; 1907, $627.30; 1908, $744.55; 1909, $1027.45.

CITY COUNCIL MEETS IN SPECIAL SESSION THIS AFTERNOON

Makes Payment on Machinery and Wire for Power Plant on McKenzie River

The city council met this afternoon in special called meeting. It was thought the matter of the Booth-Kelly Lumber Company's injunction suit to restrain the city from diverting the waters of the McKenzie river to the city's proposed power canal would come up for discussion, but it was found that none of the city officials or the councilmen had been served with notice of the suit.

A second payment of $3837.32 was made to the Portland Machinery Co. for electrical machinery for the power plant, and a payment of $4900 in round numbers was made to the American Steel and Wire Company for transmission wire.

The council instructed the police officers not to interfere with William Naylor if he reopens his cigar store in the temporary building in the alley next to Moran's shoe store.

The fire and water committee was directed to sell or dispose of in some way the injured fire horse.

The matter of protection to the sidewalk in front of the proposed Watson-Goldsmith theatre building was discussed and it was stated that Contractor Bell would see to this.

The projection on the new front of A. H. Eaton's building was discussed, and the city attorney was directed to draw an ordinance making it a misdemeanor for architects to draw plans for buildings contrary to the building ordinances.

The council adjourned to meet in committee of the whole tomorrow night.

IMPORTANT ADDRESS OF SPECIAL INTEREST TO THE STUDENTS

Miss Anna Louise Strong, Ph. D., late of the Chicago University, is to speak tonight at the Congregational church on the subject, "The Psychology of Prayer."
