SPRINGFIELD AND VICINITY

CITY COUNCIL HOLDS ADJOURNED MEETING

The Springfield council met last evening for a special session to finish some business on hand which including auditing numerous accounts, ordering sidewalks and accepting the remainder of the sewer contracts. Besides this, is a good strong dog tax ordinance was passed.

The balance of the $10,000 sewer contracts, amounting to some $9,000 was accepted. This marks the completion of a splendid sewer system for Springfield. The work has been quickly and well done by the contractors and satisfaction on all sides has been expressed.

A large number of new sidewalks, several blocks in all, was ordered laid, in the new addition of the city, especially North 7th street from F. street to the S. B. Hunt addition. The sidewalks of Springfield are much better now than ever before and are even remarkd about for a small city. The cement sidewalks on Main street are very noticeable of this fact.

The city fathers last night decided to place a curb on the number of canine inhabitants of the Springfield streets and hereafter every owner of a yellow cur or a fancy bird dog will have to pay the city an annual sum, according to the sex of animal or loose the dog. It is to be feared that this move may cause the daily dog fights on the main street, (the most interesting pastime that has the show line at the Springfield opera house beat a country mile for excitemnt or crowd drawing facilities,) may become scarcer. Still this will place the few that do occur at a better premium.

HARD WHEAT IS COMING TO MILL

The Springfield flour mill is expecting in a day or so a shipment of 10,000 bushels of hard wheat from the Inland Empire. From this Mr. Noel will manufacture a line of hard wheat flour that has become so popular here and which can be made here much cheaper than shipping in the flour already milled. The run of local fall wheat is practically over, although every day or so a large load of wheat is unloaded. The mill is now beginning to grind its own wheat, and this with the hard wheat will tax its capacity for the whole winter and next spring. The flour is called for faster than it can be ground and the mill has been unable to catch up to have flour on hand for some time. Mr. Noel contemplates a number of repairs this winter.

NEW POSTOFFICE CALLED MOHAWK

Beginning with Monday a new post-office will receive a sack from Springfield on the Wendling local at Donna, which is to be known as Mohawk. The new postmaster is Bert Lemon. This postoffice will handle the mail above Donna to Wendling, which includes a number of lumber camps. The Springfield R. F. D. carrier No. 1, will continue the same route, carrying all the mail below Donna. This route goes right by the new postoffice, and carries mail on each side of it. The office is located across the railroad from the old store in Mr. Lemon's new store on the cross roads.

VERY SUDDEN DEATH OF LITTLE CHILD

The six months' old child of W. R. Goddard, who lives at the corner of 5th and B. streets died yesterday morning between half past eight and nine o'clock by strangulation. The mother left the child at 7:30 to prepare the breakfast and later at 8:30 saw it asleep. At nine she was prostrated to find the babe dead when she picked it up. Its death was due to self-strangulation by choking from vomiting.

STEAM SHOVEL THAT CAUSED CAVE-IN

The steam shovel that played so much havoc in the tunnel in California, is on the way to Springfield for the Utah contractors at Natron. It was a large Marion shovel. The fault of the wreck will be placed at the hands of the train inspector, whose duty it is to see that no car is loaded higher than twelve and one-half feet in California, and 13 feet in Oregon and Washington. He probably is out of a job by this time.

DOG TRIES TO STEAL RIDE ON STREET CAR

Dogs are sometimes allowed on the cars of the P. E. & E., at least if they or their owners pay their five-cent fare, the same as a person. Yesterday morning on the nine o'clock trip from the Springfield end of the line, a large, black, good-looking dog with a good collar on, leisurely climbed on the car at the West Springfield station unobserved and lay down beneath one of the warm seats inside. When the conductor discovered him after the car had started, he politely asked the dog for his fare, or at least wanted to know who his owner was, to which Mr. Canine refused to reply. Then the collector of fares, embarassed several ladies on the car by asking if they owned the dog. None did and so the black dog must get off. At the hall block the car was stopped where the conductor ... to ... the off. The ... was warm and the dog did not wish to move. For several moments the passengers enjoyed the finally successful efforts of the man to oust the dog.

NEW REAL ESTATE FIRM ORGANIZED

The new real estate firm that has been recently organized in Springfield has incorporated under the name of the Springfield Realty Company and their principal office will be located in Springfield though it is the intention of the company to maintain offices in Eugene.

The company is composed of such men as Mayor M. M. Peery, John Kestly, A. J. Perkins, J. W. Machen, C. R. Mead, W. J. Barnes and G. W. Perkins, all successful business men who have large property interests here and are at the present time actively engaged in other businesses, with the exception of John Kestly, C. R. Mead, and W. J. Barnes, who have been chosen to take charge of the business and will devote their entire time to it.

The organization of this company has been hanging fire for the past month, but not until Monday of this week was it perfected and the papers signed up by the individual members. Tuesday evening a meeting was held and the officers elected for the ensuing year as follows: President John Kestly; Vice-President C. R. Mead; Secretary W. J. Barnes; Treasurer, M. M. Peery. By-laws were also adopted.

The second-hand store that has been run by B. F. Hendricks for the past two years, between Second and Third streets, has changed hands, and is now owned by Schrivner & Johnson. The members of the new firm are both well known here, having lived in Springfield for several years.

A change in the firm of Neff & Ronk has taken place this week, Mr. Ronk having sold his interest in the shoe repairing department to J. D. Woolson, a recent arrival from eastern Washington, who moved to Springfield about a week ago with his family.

The Guard published Wednesday that Mr. Hayward of Hayward and Company, had left Springfield and did not intend to remain in business here. This is a mistake, for Mr. Hayward had only gone to Portland to buy another plumbing stock and it was his intention to return. The information was obtained from what should have been a reliable source and this paper regrets the error.

Stinson & Co., Springfield's plumbers, have secured another fat plumbing contract from the Utah Construction Co. and will commence work at once at Natron.

The lights that have been placed by the P. E. & E. along the road from the end of the car line were turned on last evening for the first time. They are 32's, placed every few hundred feet as far as the bridge and give a good light for one to pick the shallowest mudholes. There may be a sidewalks along there soon.

A house of four rooms, been painted white. Two large barns, large shedding. A wood shed, a store house and chicken house. Good well on porch, and three good springs. A family orchard in bearing, one acre in Italian prunes, apples, peaches, pears, plums and all kinds of small fruit. It lies on a stage road, rural delivery daily.
