OPTICAL TALK NO. 9

Short days, long nights and poor artificial light cause a great strain on the eyes. The eye is more closely connected with the brain than any other organ of the body. The retina of the eye is a continuation of the optic nerve. Eye strain causes a derangement of the nervous system, resulting in headaches, drowsiness, and will if not corrected, affect the entire system.

Could you make a better Christmas present than a pair of glasses which will give perfect vision and ease and comfort? Call and let us show you the latest and best eyeglass mountings, ear loops and chains. Automatic eyeglass holders, silk cases, something neat and serviceable for Christmas. We give the best and most careful examination.

D. W. JARVIS, Optician
211-212 White Temple

Eugene Improvement Club will be held at the planning mill Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Matters of importance will be discussed.

The Humane Society will meet at the Hoffman House this evening at 8 o'clock for the purpose of perfecting an organization. All interested in the movement are urged to be present.

The Amelians' mock trial at the High school last night resulted in a conviction of Epps, who was charged with grand larceny. The attorneys for both sides did excellent work.

The fog today was so thick most of the time that the clock in the tower of the courthouse could not be seen from Willamette street. It is seldom that a fog so thick hangs over the city the entire day.

The Booth-Kelly Lumber Company today began suit in the circuit court against J. B. Hill and R. Rae and wife to recover money on a bill of lumber. Woodcock & Potter are attorneys for the plaintiff.

Our calendars will be ready for distribution amongst our patrons and friends on and after Tuesday. First National Bank, Eugene, Oregon.

Yesterday's Telegram had a story to the effect that there would be no customary holiday or student rates this year on any of the Western railroads. From the local station agent, A. J. Gillette, it is learned that as far as the Southern Pacific is concerned, this is a mistake. He received instructions, as did all the other agents at college towns in Oregon, to grant the one and one-third fare from Eugene on December 17 and 18. The holiday rates will be given as usual from December 22 to 25, for Christmas, and December 30 and 31 for New Year's. These later rates expire January 3; the student rate January 4.

If patrons would call at the postoffice tomorrow for their mail, it would be appreciated by the carriers, and patrons would get their mail earlier Monday morning. The Christmas rush is working the carriers very hard, and if mail is called for Sunday they will have less to deliver Monday. The Sunday hour at the postoffice is from 10 to 11 a. m.

A convention of boys' clubs was recently held at Albany, attended by a number of the local Y. M. C. A. It was a rousing convention. A report of it and a discussion of boys' club work will be given by Secretary Terrell at the Congregational church tomorrow night to which parents and boys alike are cordially invited. The pastor preaches in the morning.

Harry W. Clarke, who has been living in Eugene for several months, will again take a position as traveling salesman early next year. He will work for the Peck & Whipple Co., of Westfield, Mass., and will handle buggy whips, etc. Mr. Clarke is one of the oldest drummers on the coast and is known to merchants from British Columbia to Mexico.

Have you seen Overton's east window? Mrs. Sheridan has a fine exhibit of her paintings there in oil and water color. She also has some beautiful studies for rent at her home, 936 High st.

Manager Hartog of the Commercial Club, and Assistant Manager Waters, of the Northwestern Corporation, interviewed a number of property owners along Willamette street today in regard to the lighting proposition as given in full in yesterday's Guard. They met with remarkable success. They did not interview any of the merchants on account of the holiday rush of business.
