POLITICAL ISSUES SILL STIR CAPITAL OF GREAT BRITAIN

Guard Special Service.

London, February 19.—With the preliminaries over, parliament will settle down to business next Monday. The King will open the new session with all the ceremony for which the occasion calls and will be accompanied by Queen Alexandria in his state procession to Parliament. During his speech her Majesty will sit at his right. A great deal has been said in forecast of the action of Mr. Asquith and his party but little is known as to the purpose of the Lords regarding the laws to be made. They are not inclined to do a great deal of talking until some definite action is taken concerning their interests, then they freely open the flood-gates of their oratory.

It may be assumed, however, that the Lords will pass whatever budget is sent up to them without further question. There is no longer any doubt that the reform of the House of Lords must be undertaken immediately, but there is no hope of its accomplishment in the near future, except by a compromise with the unionists or by the upper house itself taking the initiative in this respect. It is hardly probable that the collation Government will undertake to deprive the Second Chamber of the veto power by ultra-constitutional means in the face of the indecisive verdict of the people of Great Britain at the present election.

Financial Conditions

Financial conditions, which have been rather unsteady because of the uncertainty of the political situation, are expected to undergo a change for the better very soon. Everything now depends upon the policy of the cabinet. The whole situation is really summed up in the sentence: Will Mr. Lloyd-George and Mr. Winston Churchill be the dominating influence in the new Cabinet as they were in the old one, or will Mr. Asquith, Sir Edward Grey and Lord Morley take the lead? The former course spells a renewal of all the disturbances which have affected English securities for the past four years. The latter means reasonable government, a strong navy, and less socialism.nUntil the answer to these questions is determined, markets must be more or less unsettled, though, conceivably there will be all the while an undercurrent of strength by reason of the assurance resulting from the knowledge that there will at least be a strong opposition to face any extreme government measures.

Indian Question

It is doubtful if any institution in its infancy has ever caused Britain more anxiety than Indian terrorism. This movement of unrest is hardly two years old, yet its dread shadow is inspiring awe in the hearts of the manliest English and native officials concerned with the government of India. The situation has become so serious that it no longer can be ignored by the home government. As shown by the recent anarchistic outrages in Hindustan, disaffection is not only on the increase but actually is assuming an alarming phase. During the last year or two Great Britain has made a tremendous effort to quell the spirit of revolt among educated East Indians, both by conciliation and coersion, but this dual policy has failed to solve England's problem in India, which, indeed, day by day, is becoming harder of solution.

As yet, so far as is known, terrorism is strictly confined to half-educated Hindu youths. No Mohammedan has brought to book as concerned with the movement. The Hindu masses and the more intelligent, better educated Hindu classes have not been convicted in taking part in hatching nihilistic plots.

Terrorism is believed to be propagated in India by the surreptitious circulation of scurrilous literature and secret rabid preaching. The English government is represented as sucking the life blood of Hindustan and causing plague and famine. The Mother (Hindus refer to their country in this way) is represented as lying prostrate in the dust, being shamefully trampled underfoot by the unscrupulous foreigner. All patriots are urged to make it their sacred duty to avenge this desecration of "the Mother." Indeed, the virulence of the Hindu pamphleteer is deadly in its venom. In the face of the rigid postal vigilance these poisonous leaflets are smuggled into the country by the ton from the United Switzerland, and even England, and circulated in secret from hand to hand. Daring spirits go to the length of producing such literature in India itself, despite the precaution taken by the police to make such practices impossible.

Saved at Death's Door

The door of death seemed ready to open for Murray W. Ayers, of Transit Bridge, N. Y., when his life was wonderfully saved. "I was in a dreadful condition," he writes; "my skin was almost yellow; eyes sunken; tongue coated; emaciated from losing forty pounds growing weaker, daily. Virulent liver trouble pulling me down to death in spitet of doctors. Then that matchless medicine, Electric Bitters, cured me. I regained the 40 pounds lost and am now well and strong." For all stomach, liver and kidney troubles they're supreme. 50c at W. A. Kuykendall's.

In sickness, if a certain hidden nerve goes wrong, then the organ that this nerve controls will also surely fail. It may be a Stomach nerve, or it may have given strength and support to the Heart or Kidneys. It was Dr. Shoop's Restorative was not made to dose the Stomach nor to temporarily stimulate the Heart or Kidneys. That old-fashioned method is all wrong. Dr. Shoop's Restorative goes directly to these failing inside nerves. The remarkable success of this prescription demonstrates the wisdom of treating the actual cause of these failing organs. ### UNIVERSALIST MINISTER REPLIES TO SERMON

To the Editor:—Your report of a recent sermon by Dr. Oliver, who is conducting a revival in your city, has been called to my attention, and I note his characterization of Christian Universalism as "a wolf in sheep's clothing," and a child of anarchy. He asks: "Is God so good that he will place that pure daughter of yours on a level with that low-lived debauchee?" According to Universalism, this nation has done a criminal act when it shuts up law-breakers to be punished. Permit me to say in reply. It was Josh Billings who said: "It is better not to know so much, than to know so much that ain't so."

I commend these words to Dr. Oliver. It is difficult to believe that there is a public speaker as ignorant of the message of a Christian denomination as this individual shows himself to be by this utterance. Any one who visits a Sunday school of the Universalist church hears the little children answer: "Universalists believe in punishment for every sin. How long will punishment continue? Until we cease doing evil, and learn to do well. Universalists believe that no man is saved in his sins, but from his sins. That none is saved any way but God's way, by loving obedience to the divine order." Regarding the preacher's query about the pure girl and the debauchee being on the same level—he said truly that the question of "your entrance into heaven depends upon your fitness to enjoy heaven." That is a moral truism which Universalists and all sane thinkers accept. Heaven would not be heaven, but misery, to the rebellious and wicked. As well expect a dunce, who has fooled away his days in idleness and foolishness, to be comfortable and happy if the faculty of the University permitted him to enroll in the senior class. He can never enjoy that companionship until he has studied and learned enough to fit him for entrance.

Mr. Oliver declares you will be through eternity what you are at death. I note in passing what St. Luke says, 20:37-38: "For he is not the God of the dead but of the living; for all live unto Him." And Paul writes to the Romans. 8:21, 38-39: "Because the creature itself also shall be delivered from the bondage of corruption into the glorious liberty of the children of God. For I am persuaded that neither death nor life, things present nor things to come, shall be able to separate us from the love of God which is in Christ Jesus our Lord." Again in the fourteenth of Romans he says: "Whether we live, we live unto the Lord, and when we die we die unto the Lord; whether we live therefore or die, we are the Lord's."

Now as to Universalists proclaiming anarchy. I should think it is Mr. Oliver who proclaims anarchy. For the endless continuance of sin means everlasting anarchy in God's moral universe. Every wise state today commits the law-breaker to prison, not for one year, nor ten, but until cured, just the same as the man with the broken leg is not sent to the hospital for thirty days, but till he has recovered. Now Universalists believe and teach that God punishes every sin, because He would turn the wicked from evil to obedient goodness. If Mr. Oliver's contention were true, that any sinner can successfully resist God's loving pleading and His wise punishment, and resist them forever, that is anarchy of the most awful kind. And for God to say: "I cannot cure you but I can torment you forever," is simply the confession of divine failure. No man loyal to God and believing in His success, as Universalists do, can ever be an anarchist.

As I read the report of Mr. Oliver's tirade against his fellow Christians, whose worst sin is that they differ from him and believe God is more loving, I can only repeat in humility the words of our Saviour when hanging on the cross: "Father, forgive them for they know not what they do."

Superintendent of Universalist Churches.

THE MEN AND WOMEN
Who Enjoy the Choicest Products of the World's Commerce.

Knowledge of What is Best More Important Than Wealth Without It.

It must be apparent to every one that qualities of the highest order are necessary to enable the best of the products of modern commerce to attain to universal acceptance. However loudly heralded, they may not hope for world-wide pre-eminence unless they meet with the general approval, not of individuals only, but of the many who have the happy faculty of selecting and enjoying the choicest products. Their commendation, consequently, becomes important to others, since to meet the requirements of the well informed of all countries the method of manufacture must be of the most perfect order and the combination the most excellent of its kind. After thirty years of general usage, Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna is everywhere accepted as the best of family laxatives. Its quality is due not only to the excellence of the laxative and carminative principles of plants known to act most beneficially on the system, but also to the method of manufacture of the California Fig Syrup Co., which ensures that uniformity and purity essential in a remedy intended for family use. It cleanses and sweetens the system effectually, when a laxative is needed, without any unpleasant after effects. To get the beneficial effects of Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna, buy the genuine only; the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—is printed on the front of every package. Price, 50 cents per bottle.
