INDIAN NOBLE BARRED FROM HOTELS

Hindu Who Graduated at University of Oregon Has Nowhere to Sleep

(Chicago Tribune.)

Fort Collins, Colo.—To be turned out of every hotel in the city, refused even so much as a place to lay his head and compelled to spend a night wandering about the streets of Fort Collins, dodging in doorways for shelter to keep from freezing, was the unpleasant experience of Mahesh Charam Sinha, a descendant of a prince of Allahabad, India.

Mr. Sinha is a man of rare educational attainments, being the master of half a dozen languages and has been awarded his master's degree not only by a university in his native country, but by the University of Oregon as well. In spite of all this, and the further fact that he bore letters of recommendation from his professors and from the governor of Oregon, stating who he was, the Fort Collins hotel keepers, because of his color, refused to admit him, believing him a negro. Just how they came to reach this conclusion is difficult to understand, as, beyond his color, Mr. Sinha's features are directly the opposite of those of a negro, his hair being straight, lips thin and nose sharp.

Mr. Sinha, in speaking of his experience in this country, said:

"I have been in America for three years and took my master's degree at the Oregon University and agricultural college last June. I have always been treated with the greatest hospitality in the United States, and last night was the first time I have ever been refused a room at a hotel. I was afraid last night of suffering disgrace by being arrested for a burglar, as my action in hiding in doorways to keep from the cold must have been suspicious. Had I written President D. O. Eylesworth that I was coming to visit his college, I would have been taken care of, but I never dreamed of being refused a room in a hotel. My business in this country is to study agricultural methods, particularly farm machinery and irrigation. I am on my way home to India, where I expect to put in practice what I have learned in this progressive western country."

SENATOR ROOT STARTS FOR EUROPE

New York, May 21.—Senator Elihu Root today sailed for Europe in his capacity as special agent for the United States before The Hague arbitration court in the matters in dispute between this country and Great Britain on the fisheries question. Nobody here doubts that there will be a meeting between Mr. Roosevelt and the New York Senator in Europe prior to the departure of the ex-president for the United States.

Politicians here assume that Mr. Roosevelt will welcome the opportunity to discuss with Mr. Root the political situation in New York state, into which he will step, so to speak, when he sets foot on American soil.

OREGON BUNCOED OUT OF GAME BY JONES

pected happened. Keens had reached first on a hit. Then Cooper went out on a fly to first and Reed struck out. Reiben was given first when hit by the pitcher, and in the meantime Keens had stolen second and third. Then came the untimely error. The ball was thrown to second to catch Reiben, but it shot past and Reiben followed Keen over the plate, scoring two for O. A. C., and the game was over.

Afternoon Game Won by O. A. C.

The afternoon game was also won by the O. A. C. team by the score of 6 to 2. O. A. C. opened up the scoring in the first inning by putting one run over. Pops walked and was sent home by Keck's two-bagger. Three more were made in the fifth and two in the ninth, Pops clouting the ball over the fence for a home run in the last canto. For Oregon two runs were scored in the second inning, Henkle and Clark being brought home by McIntosh's two-bagger.
