

THE EUGENE DAILY GUARD

GUARD PRINTING CO., INC.
Charles H. Fisher.

All postmasters are authorized to receive and receipt for subscriptions to The Daily or Weekly Guard.

Published every day of the week, Sundays excepted. Address all communications and make all remittances payable to The Eugene Guard, Eugene, Oregon.

Agents for The Guard
The following are authorized to take and receipt for subscriptions or transact any other business for The Daily and Weekly Guard:
Creswell—J. L. Clark.
Coburg—Geo. A. Drury.

Subscription Rates—Daily
Delivered by Carrier, per week	$.15
Delivered by Carrier, one month	.50
Delivered by Carrier, one year	5.00
By mail one year (in advance)	4.00
Single copies	.05
Weekly Guard, per year	1.50
One Month	.50

Advertising rates made known upon application.

SATURDAY, MAY 21, 1910

AFTER THE WEDDING

The wedding day is bright and gay, the bride is blushing like a rose; the happy pair are free from care as on their honeymoon they mosey. A little while they live on smiles, and glance, and whispered adoration; but honeymoons pass by effusions, and then there comes a strained relation. The husband sighs when eating pies suggestive of some kind of leather; he gives a whoop when eating soup that makes his insides run together. He never thought before he brought the blooming damsel to the altar to ask if she could cook so he could eat her grub and never falter. The bride is filled with grief and chilled with dread; the skies seem dark above her; he stays away for half a day and doesn't swear he'll always love her. Have patience, though! This phantom woe will pass away, as they grow younger! The bride will bake a dazzling cake, and pies to soothe her husband's hunger! And he will learn to pause and turn, when leaving for his daily duty, and tell his wife that she's his life, his solace and his dream of beauty.

WALT MASON.

Copyright, 1909, by George Matthew Adams.

REPORT OF TOWN MANAGER

Charles E. Ashburner, the man who manages the town of Staunton, Va., has made his report for the fiscal year ending March 31. Staunton hires a man to administer its affairs, and his report will be of general interest. We find a condensed review of it in the Norfolk Landmark, which says that Ashburner established in the previous fiscal year an up-to-date system of municipal accounting, and therefore he is able to show in the present report the receipts and disbursements for every purpose in every department, and the exact cost of each piece of city work. Mr. Ashburner notes that the administration of the city's improvements during the fiscal year have apparently given complete satisfaction to the public, and that all that has been done has been accomplished without increasing the debt of Staunton a cent. Without going beyond the current revenues, Staunton was able during the year to add to its equipment 7000 feet of granolithic sidewalks, nearly 13,000 feet of macadam and asphalt streets, over 3000 feet of sewer, and about 8000 feet of water mains—an increase in each item, varying from a minimum of 30 per cent over the previous year to 450 per cent, and in each case at a diminished cost per foot.

A business manager brings as important results for a town as for any other public or private enterprise. The main thing is that it places the municipality on a business basis, something that so many of them lack.

CONTRAST BETWEEN RAILROADS

The Hill lines are sending out large quantities of "literature" advertising Oregon. They are not asking the towns in their territory to contribute a dollar, but are bearing all the expense themselves.

Such a course is in marked contrast with the policy of the Harriman lines, which have "worked" practically every town in Western Oregon for from $300 to $3000 to pay the expenses of an advertising campaign which the Hill roads pay for out of their own funds. The reason for this seems to be that Hill is in the railroad business exclusively, and has no side lines, and as far as possible is conducting a legitimate transportation business, having no desire to own and control the country through which his roads run. This policy was referred to by Louis W. Hill in his speech at Klamath Falls, when he said:

Upon our road we let the public own the towns and run them, but down here apparently the railroads have a hand in them. Now, I would not want to interfere with anybody's town, if it is a railroad town, and that is one thing we will have to consider. Klamath Falls seems to be a railroad town from the standpoint of railroad officials having property interests here, additions in which they are interested. Now, you can imagine what results we would obtain if we were to try to secure station grounds through the portion of the city that is owned by some other railroad, which would not do a great deal to encourage us in our work of development. But I presume that there are two sides to a town. If we cannot get in on one side we can on the other.

Not only does the Southern Pacific run a job printing office as a side line, but it seems, as is the case at Klamath Falls, its officials gobble up additions and other real estate for speculative purposes. They apparently are after everything in sight in Oregon, and only the invasion of the Hill interests gives the people the slightest hope of relief from the monopoly.

Springfield asked for motor car service over the Albany branch and got it, and later requested service of the same kind to Weading, and will get it. Eugene, after giving the company $3000 of its publicity fund as a subsidy, has not had a single request as to improved train service granted. Of course, the Sunset Magazine grafters are laughing at Eugene for being "easy."

A city of millionaires near San Francisco has voted to incorporate, and after a hot election a millionaire was chosen mayor. Another Croesus was elected town constable. The jail is to be a wisteria-covered bower and wild flowers will grow in the streets. Only applicants with certified bank rolls can buy lots.

"A carload of lobsters for Yaquina," says a Portland newspaper headline. The vacation season seems to be opening early this year.

President Taft says that he does not envy Carnegie his money but he does envy him his power to create happiness. Most of the pikers in the world prefer the coin itself, and they would create happiness for themselves by spending it on themselves.

The editor of a college paper was ducked by his fellow students who disapproved of his editorials. All the editor has to do now is to wear a bathing suit all the time and go on printing the same kind of editorials.

THINGS WE THINK
and
WHAT OTHERS THINK

By Elbert Bede

The government garden seeds are seeds of discontent.

A bald-headed man may not always come out on top.

The chancleer hat is causing considerable fuss and feathers.

The man who kills time is not worthy of a trial—by any employer.

The man or woman who marries for money seldom gets a wealth of love.

Those who have the least to say usually take the longest time to do it.

If every kick is a boost, the ballet dancer is certainly a persistent booster.

When a girl lets a man put on her rubbers for her, she usually puts her foot in it.

Some men try to make you believe you are "the candy" by handing you a bunch of taffy.

British consols are lower. The word should not be mistaken as referring to public officials. Consols in England fill about the same position as government bonds in this country.

When some smooth one tells you what fabulous sums you can make by investing in some industry located thousands of miles away, just bear in mind that there are such things as figures of speech.

Some one has complained that Americans do not die artistically. We must confess that we have no old masters in that line.

We men have kicked so long and persistently about the money women spend for clothes that some are trying to satisfy us by only clothing about half the body. The latest, the mermaid dress, is an example. It certainly does not bind on the lungs.

A friend of ours paid $300 for a dress for his bride, and then had the stolesman to turn to her and say, "Oh, you're the dearest darling!"

A Regular Tom Boy
was Stale—climbing trees and fences, jumping ditches, whittling, always getting scratches, cuts, sprains, bruises, bumps, burns or scalds. But laws! Her mother just applied Bucklen's Arnica Salve and cured her quick. Heals everything healable—boils, ulcers, eczema, old sores, corns or piles. Try it. 25c at W. A. Kuykendall's.

CONSTANTLY GROWING.
Several additional homes in Eugene and vicinity are enjoying the benefits and pleasures of a fine new piano bought within the past few days of the Stevens & Hullin Piano House, Commercial Club block, Eugene's leading exclusive piano and organ store. m21

Poison Oak Poisoning.
Ballard's Snow Liniment cures it. Mr. O. H. P. Cornelius, Turner, Ore. writes—My wife has discovered that Snow Liniment cures "Poison Oak Poisoning," a very painful trouble. She not only cured a case of it on herself, but on two of her friends who were poisoned by this same ivy. Price 25c, 50c, and $1.00. Dillon Drug Co.

WHAT TIME WILL THE CLOCK STOP ?

What's the Use—
To suffer with sore eyes when one 25c tube of Sutherland's Eagle Eye Salve will cure you. We guarantee it. You risk nothing. It's a creamy. Sold by the Dillon Drug Co.

If your stomach, heart or kidney are weak, try at least a few doses only of Dr. Shoop's Restorative. In five or ten days only, the result will surprise you. A few cents will cover the cost. And here is why help comes so quickly. Dr. Shoop doesn't drug the stomach, nor stimulate the heart or kidneys. Dr. Shoop's restorative goes directly to the weak and falling nerves. Each organ has its own controlling nerve. When these organs fall the depending organs must of necessity falter. This plain, yet vital truth, clearly tells why Dr. Shoop's Restorative is so universally successful. Its success is leading druggists everywhere to give it universal preference. A test will surely tell. Sold by Yerington's drug store.

Never before in the history of Grants Pass have the business streets presented such an appearance of activity as at the present time, says the Courier. Eighty men are at work improving the streets.

NEWS OF JUNCTION CITY AND VICINITY

Born—May 19, 1910, to Mr. and Mrs. Farra Dyer, an 8 pound girl.
Born—May 18, 1910, to Mr. and Mrs. Geo. H. Smith, a son. Mr. Smith is the accommodating operator in the S. P. depot.

Married—In Eugene, May 18, 1910, by Justice R. S. Bryson, Hector Kennedy and Miss Stella Starr, both of this place.

The steel tiling for the city culverts arrived. The surveyors were here Monday and run the lines for the pipes where they will cross the streets.

Wm. Tripp and family moved over from Coburg this week and occupy the property lately vacated by Geo. Fish. Mr. Tripp expects to have his picture show ready for exhibition Monday evening.

White & Miller have commenced work grading the streets. The teams were started Thursday east of the track. They will have a screener rigged up at the gravel pit which will be operated by an engine and gravel of cured. Screened gravel will be run into hoppers and can be used when needed.—Times.

Dr. Bell's Antiseptic Salve.
Is guaranteed for letter, ringworm, eczema, chapped hands and lips, running sores, ulcers and in fact all skin diseases. Good to use after shaving. 25c a box. Dillon Drug Co.

To Cure a Cold in One Day.
Take LAXATIVE BROMO Quinine Tablets. Druggists refund money if it fails to cure. E. W. GROVE'S signature is on each box. 25c.

MUST REGISTER AGAIN THIS YEAR

If You Want to Vote at Primaries and General Election

All persons desiring to vote in the general primaries September 24 and the general election November 8, must register again this year. Registration will then close until after the party primary.

After the nominating primary elections registration will again open on September 28 and will remain open until October 24. In this way additional and ample opportunity is provided for everyone to register. Unless a qualified voter shall register during the time named, according to the Oregon law, it is difficult to exercise the voting power.

The present law governing this phase of elections commenced with 1900, providing that registration of voters must occur biennially thereafter. At that time registration commenced with the first Monday in January. Since then the time of holding elections has been changed from the spring to the fall and in consequence the time for registering was also changed.

As soon as registration commences the organization of all political parties will start an active campaign to the effect that all voters affiliated with each may be registered. Probably the attention paid to this feature of their work is second only to getting out the vote on election day.

ALBANY'S POPULATION LESS THAN 5000

Albany Herald: In common with many other cities the 1910 census is sure to prove a disappointment to optimistic Albanyites, who have been certain that the enumeration would show a population of at least 5,500. From unofficial sources, which are considered reliable, the Herald learns that the 4,300 mark will scarcely be reached when the returns are footed up. However, with the outskirts of the city, which should have been included in the city limits, the total will easily reach 5,500.

Adds Health to the Economized Butter and

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

The only baking made from Royal Grade of Tartar
No Alum—No Lime

BRIDE AND GROOM SURPRISED BY GRANGE

Pleasant Social Function in Honor of Mr. and Mrs. Homer McBee

Special Correspondence.
Springfield, May 21.—A party of grangers, about 40 in number, gathered at the groom's father's home, on May 12, two miles from Springfield for a surprise given in honor of Omer McBee and bride, and it was a complete success. Four hours were very pleasantly spent playing croquet, visiting and having a good time in general. About five o'clock in the evening, the table was spread in the beautiful grove, and was loaded down with good things. Sisters of the Grange prepared, but the strawberries, nearly all were raised at Younggreen. At the close of the party, the bride and groom were surrounded by the Grange members of Springfield. About seven o'clock, the bride and groom were responding to the wishes of the Grange members. Three Grange members, including Gold Hill, were present. The party was very pleasant and enjoyable. The bride and groom were very much surprised by the surprise given in their honor. The party was a great success and was enjoyed by all present.

Monday Morning

At 8:30 the final week of the most colossal

Bargain Event

Eugene has ever known before

Take An Inventory of Your Personal and Home Needs and GET HERE Early In the Week

This sale is advertised for to close

Saturday, May 28th

And from the way goods are going it may not last that long

Harous Mit Dem Everything in the Store

TRIPLETTS

Closing Out Sale Look for the Sign
618 Willamette Street, Eugene, Oregon