

Here's a Tip on the R

We show you the winners, the ones you can get every time. We've never missed on our yet. You'll make some money if you listen.

Here's Your Chance to Win Then Celebrate the Fourth

You're probably willing to spend your money if you see an opportunity to get a good deal of extra value for it. This is your chance.

We shall clean up our summer weight suits. The summer is over. We like to start the fall with a fresh stock when we move store.

Hart, Schaffner & Marx Clothes are among the ones to be cleaned up. We will give you prices on them that will bring you here in a hurry. Some of them you will win in this good clothes race in quick time. We are breaking the record for good quality.

You can buy these famous Suits or others not so well-known at a low price.

Suits that were sold for $25.00 are now
Suits that were sold for $20.00 are now
Suits that were sold for $18.00 are now
Suits that were sold for $12.50 are now

If you need a pair of extra Trousers To complete the "race" and "4th" you need, remember the Hart, Schaffner & Marx kind are the best shape and the most dressy; the pair $6.50 They cost only

Where Cash
Beats Credit

HAMPTON'S

Copyright 1907 by Hart Schaffner & Marx

The EUGENE DAILY GUARD

An Independent Paper.

Member of Associated Press.

Published every day of the week, Sundays excepted. Address all communications and make all remittances payable to The Eugene Guard, Eugene, Oregon.

CHARLES H. FISHER

Editor and Publisher

Subscription Rates—Daily

Delivered by Carrier, per week	$.15
Delivered by Carrier, one month	.50
Delivered by Carrier, one year	5.00
By mail one year (in advance)	4.00
Single copies	.05
Weekly Guard, per year	1.50
Three Months	.50

Advertising rates made known upon application.

FRIDAY, JUL Y1, 1910

THE STURDY YEOMAN

If I could sing as Austin does, and strike his master lyre, I would not give to kings and queens my words of living fire. For folks who loaf around on thrones don't need the poet's lay; they weary of his throbbing tones, and wish he'd go away. I'd sing about the man who rules his kingdom with a plow, who daily whacks his dusty mules, and milks the spotted cow. I'd sing about the sturdy plow, who most appeals to me, who bravely breaks the stubborn glebe, whatever glebe may be. The farmer raises wheat and corn, with plow and thingumbob; this world would be a place forlorn, if he should jump his job. The men that we consider great, the rich, the men of fame, the mighty pillars of the state, all these might quit the game, and this old earth would jog along, and never throw a fit; but things would soon be going wrong if all the farmers quit. And so I'd sing the yeoman's lay, if I had Austin's harp, immortalize the bale of hay, and boost the farming sharp; I'd pass up all the thrones and crowns, and all the princely trade, for men who come in hand-me-downs with eggs their hens have laid.

WALT MASON.

Copyright, 1909, by George Matthew Adams.

END OF THE STAR ROUTES

With the consolidation today of the star route postal service with the rural free delivery service, the former system goes out of existence. The star routes were established in 1845, and in the early '80s rumors of extensive frauds in this branch of the service convulsed the nation and had a profound influence upon the politics of the time. Colonel Robert G. Ingersoll was engaged to conduct the defense of the accused men, and he handled the cases in so masterly a manner that no convictions were secured.

For some years the star route and rural free delivery services have provided practically the same kind of mail facilities, but the management of each has been distinct. The star route service has been conducted by the division of contracts under the second assistant postmaster general, and the rural delivery service by a division in the bureau of the fourth assistant postmaster general. The new division will be known as the division of rural mails, and will have supervision over annual appropriations aggregating close to $50,000,000.

An investigation of the department recently completed into the cost of operating its several services showed that the rural delivery system was costing $28,000,000 more than the revenue derived from it. The department believes that the consolidation of the star and rural services will cut down the expenses of operation by several millions of dollars without loss of efficiency.

Following a popular example set by many rich men, another millionaire has determined to die poor. David Rankin, Jr., one of the wealthiest citizens of St. Louis and founder of the school of mechanical trades bearing his name, has deeded his entire fortune, estimated at more than $3,000,000, to be used in the maintenance and enlargement of this institution, which promises to become one of the largest schools of its kind in the world. The announcement of Mr. Rankin's endowment, under which he reserves less than $3000 a year for his support, was made public by the trustees when the last deed of transfer had been signed. The property conveyed consisted of land known as the Rankin tract, Mr. Rankin's home, stock in the Illinois Central and Rock Island Railroads and of the Mississippi Valley Trust Company, Mercantile Trust Company, Boatmen's Bank and Merchants' Laclede National Bank. There's a little verse in the good book about a camel and a needle's eye which gets on a magnate's nerves as he nears three score and ten.

The Guard is having the largest electric sign ever put up in Eugene placed on the front of its building. Of course, The Guard has no particular need of this sign, since everybody knows where it is located, but it will help illuminate the city, and as newspapers are public institutions they should always stand out conspicuously, and this sign will help some until we get ready to build a skyscraper home for The Guard—which will come in due time with the steady growth of Eugene.

About time the Portland, Eugene & Eastern began its road from Eugene to Albany, remarks the Albany Democrat. Second the motion, and offer as an amendment that the company try to break its record for fast track-laying established on the College Hill loop in this city.

The Fourth of July may hereafter be celebrated as the anniversary of the day on which the white race demonstrated its physical superiority over the black. But don't bet your money too freely upon it.

Eugene is becoming a noisy town, with the sound of the hammer and saw and cement machine adding to the clatter of the paved streets and the music of the trolley car.

A very insignificant Republican by the name of Theodore Roosevelt has come out in open advocacy of the direct primary plan. My, but won't the Oregonian roast the little fellow!

Those Minneapolis capitalists picked Eugene for the winner among Oregon towns. And there are many who agree with them.

Candidate promise to be more numerous than delegates in the Republican assembly.

And Eugene grows right along in spite of Southern Pacific discrimination.

Hang out the bunting.

EUGENE PEOPLE TAKE IN PASSION PLAY

A letter from Mrs. Adelaide Lilley, who with Judge E. O. Potter and family is traveling through Europe, states that they ended the passion play at Omeragau on the 26th inst. and expect to tour Germany during July.

LONG FEET WANT IN EUGENE

While working in the largest dyeing and cleaning works on the coast and while there seeing lots of garments shipped from Eugene to be dye-cleaned or dyed, and after investigating and going over the ground thoroughly, we saw at once that there was a good opening for a first-class cleaning and dyeing works in Eugene, so we decided to put in a first-class plant, and are doing well from the start. We are the only experts in this line north of San Francisco, and have had over 12 years' experience and guarantee all work. All articles dyed by us are treated separately for sanitary purposes and done by hand. In this way we obtain good results as no machinery is used in our work that will tear or injure the fabric.

Everything possible in cleaning or dyeing. Eugene Dye Works, 115 E. Ninth street, Phone Main 122. C. Marx, manager.

Don't Be Annoyed

With skin troubles, chaps, black heads, eczema or corns, use one 25c box of Dr. Bo's Salve. It will cure you. Try it at once. Sold by Dillon Drug Store.

NEW TODAY

STORE FOR RENT—Fixtures for sale. Closing out the entire stock. Great American Importing Tea Co. 30 East Ninth street. J74

FOR SALE OR TRADE—Doering binder nearly new; will sell cheap or trade for hay. Phone Reed 4291. R. Yergle, 585 West Seventh. J8

GIRLS WANTED—At Eugene cannery, Saturday morning, for stemming cherries. Apply at cannery. J1

R&G CORSETS

A model for every figure.

PROGRAM FOR MONDAY

Following is the program for Monday, July 4:

10:00 a. m.—National Salute at Sunrise.
10:00 a. m.—Grand parade of floats, automobiles, etc.
A prize of $50 for first and $25 for given for best representative float.
A prize of $50 for first and $25 for given for the best decorated automobile.
A prize of $5 for first and $5 for given for best decorated horse-drawn float.

10:30 a. m., at East Park—
1. Selection by Creswell Band.
2. Selection by Eugene Band.
3. Song, selected, Male Quartet.
4. Reading Declaration of Independence.
5. Song, selected, Male Quartet.
6. Introductory address by the president, Hon. J. D. Matlock.
7. Oration—By Hon. O. P. Coshaw.
8. Selection by Eugene Band.

AFTERNOON

1:30 p. m.—Concerts by bands and daylight fireworks.
2:30 p. m.—Rope climbing contest at the Merchants' prize, $5.
3:00 p. m.—Foot race from Eighth and Willamette and around the wireless telegraph office, to the Butte and back; prizes $10 and $5.
3:30 p. m.—Baseball, Roberts Bros. vs. Portland Park.
8:00 p. m.—Grand march of maskers from Sixth and Ninth and Willamette. The committee of $10 for first and $5 for second for the best character. Every one is requested to mask at good time.
8:30 p. m.—Sweep of the comet's tail.

EVERY ART

Of Crockery and China Must Be Sold
Marked Down to Move Entire Stock
Act Quick

GREAT AMERICAN IMPORTING

Fixtures for Sale. 30 E. Ninth

FREE TREATMENTS RUBLE HEALING

From the 1st to the 12th of July, and that only, special inducements to any one afflicted with any chronic ailment. I will make a careful examination and decide if I can bring about a cure, such can have a free trial.
That which keeps the healthy person in health is you to health. My methods vitalize not only the diseased organs in a direct way.
In some instances I am able to instruct country people at home and I will guarantee results.
My methods are drugless, and unquestionably safe. Try me in the interest of health.

W. N. RUBLE, Mechanic
Rooms 10-11 Nat. Bank Annex, Eugene