PRESENT COUNCIL OF SPRINGFIELD HAS DONE GREAT WORK

Has Built City From Country Village to What It Is Now

Springfield, Dec. 13.—The city council which met last night in regular session for the last time under the old regime will probably go down in history as the body of men which changed Springfield from a small country town, that had lived for 50 years without change, into a growing city. The new councilmen will be installed at the next regular meeting. Summary of the important ordinances that were made laws during the past two years show the reasons for the remarkable growth of Springfield into a city of 2500 people.

Under the head of civic improvements this council has just completed the building of nearly 40 blocks of macadam streets, with more under construction. It has purchased with which to do this work, all necessary machinery, which includes a rock crusher and quarry equipment, a road roller, scrapers, dump wagons and other necessities. It has given the people the benefit of the Harecroft act in order to have this work done and by individual supervision it has had it done for far less than the contractors price. It has adopted a system of sewerage, having constructed over three miles of sewers and has plans for as much more. It has adopted a system of street and sidewalk grades, which, after much opposition, has saved the property owners much in the cost of filling. Through its ordinance, cement sidewalks have been built the entire length of the principal streets. The principal business streets have been lighted by a system of festoons containing thousands of incandescents, and are lights have replaced small incandescent lamps in the residence section.

Through the discretion of this council satisfactory franchises have been granted to public service corporations and when the gas mains are extended to Springfield from Eugene within the next 50 days the city will have every modern convenience.

The most important of all is that the credit of Springfield is considered the best of any city in Oregon, and on this the city has not secured a $50,000 bond issue to further the civic improvements. To do this the council extended the limits of the city, thus accomplishing a two-fold purpose of at the same time adding several hundred to the population.

Among the other ordinances passed by this body are numerous ones pertaining to the health, the enforcement of strict order laws, building and fire ordinances and laws encouraging the beauty of the city, which include, for instance, an ordinance not permitting a wooden awning over a sidewalk on the business street.

For all of this great credit must be given to the retiring president of the council, John Kestly, who has served for three years, and made many a strong and even personal fight for the benefit of the city.

LOGGERS CAPTURE COON WITH BELL ON IT
Thought Bear Dogs Had Big Game Treed in Canyon—Six Coon Captured

Special Correspondence. Lowell, Dec. 12.—A few days ago as a number of "timber jacks" at Joe Hills' logging camp, about eight miles above Lowell, were coming in from the woods, they heard some bear dogs making a terrible noise down a deep canyon back of the camp. They decided to go and see what the fuss was about, and to their surprise they found that the dogs had treed six coons. The joke is that one of the coons had a bell around its neck. A farmer up the river caught the coon in a trap last July for stealing chickens. He tied the bell on and turned the animal loose, thinking he could follow it to its little ones and capture them all, but he lost it in the thick brush and last

Sunday Johnny Hills and his big bear dogs caught the one with the bell on and five others with it. Eugene. It is considered hard to cure. Try Dr. Bell's Antiseptic Salve and you will change your mind. You will see an improvement from the first application. Sold by the Dillon Drug Co. Photographs on easy payments at Eugene Gun Co. tf
