

Women's Secrets

There is one man in the United States who has discovered more women's secrets than any other man in the country. These secrets are not secrets at all, as you know, but the secrets of suffering, and they have been discovered by Dr. V. P. ...

AMUSEMENTS

One of the most ludicrous scenes in that sensational musical triumph, "The Queen of the Moulin Rouge," which comes to the Eugene theatre tonight, is done in pantomime. After the great dancing of the ballet in the safe Quat-z-arts scene, it is necessary to set the stage with chairs and tables with the curtain up. For a long time Samuel E. Rork, the manager, worried over a means of doing this naturally without causing a stage wait. Vincent Bryan, who wrote the lyrics for the piece, dropped into the theatre with John T. Hall, the composer, to watch a rehearsal.

of the big laughs of the piece and to his credit he said that the comedian has had the good sense to eliminate all horse-play, and play it "straight." His dignified bewilderment makes the scene screamingly funny.

The first fruits of the truce declared between the warring theatrical factions, the National Theatre Owners Association on the one side and Klaw and Erlanger, called the theatrical syndicate on the other, will be the first presentation here of Klaw and Erlanger's production of Nale and Stark in their great scene in "The Barrier."

Rex Beach's stirring story of life in Alaska, "The Barrier." This play had its first production at the New Amsterdam theatre, New York, and comes direct from there on its first trans-continental tour. No play in years has gained the notoriety that this one has, and this is perhaps accounted for by the great interest taken in Alaska by the people of the country from coast to coast. In fact it is predicted that the next summer will see a greater rush to Alaska than ever was known, even in the wildest Klondike days. This great play will be seen here Saturday, January 14.

There is no work being done on the new Christian church building on account of the cold weather.

Dr. Olive Waller is in Portland attending the Oregon-Washington-Idaho convention of the osteopaths.

E. L. Scott and family are moving to Salem to reside, their household goods having been shipped today.

The W. R. P. L. will meet at the home of Mrs. Laura Harris at 113 West Fifth street on Saturday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock.

The funeral of James Watts was held at the family home north of the city today and the remains were interred in the I. O. O. F. cemetery.

Potatoes are still coming in at the local commission houses and the price remains about stationary. The cold weather does not seem to have any effect on the prices.

Andrew Charles, the young Indian from the Stuslaw, charged with a statutory crime, is still in the county jail, as his friends whom he counted on to go his bail have failed to arrive.

A meeting of the Lane County Automobile association will be held in the Commercial club rooms tonight at 7:30 o'clock. Matters of importance to all auto owners will be discussed and for that reason a large attendance is desired.

J. M. Saffer, recently from Belingham, Wash., has opened his new and second-hand clothing and shoe store at 71 West Eighth street. He is very favorably impressed with Eugene as a place for business and intends to remain here.

The school beyond Spencer's butte, five miles south of Eugene has been dismissed until the snow goes away. There are only six children in the school and all are too small to go through the deep snow on the mountain. Miss Alice McCormack, of Marcola, is the teacher.

The tax levy has not yet been fixed by the commissioners' court and it will be several days yet before a final decision is reached. While there is no official information on the matter, it is generally reported that the levy will be 13 mills, the same as last year.

Stage passengers out this morning were the following: Charles Gruning to Blue River; J. N. Lindsay to Doyle's; J. A. J. Crow to Crow; Robert Jones to Mapleton; D. Neely and W. Whisman to Hale; P. J. Inman to Elmira, and W. Guiney to Mapleton.

Last night was the coldest night of the present winter, with the thermometer at 28 at 7 o'clock this morning. The mud in the streets was frozen quite hard and thin ice was formed on mud puddles and ponds. The sun shone today pretty brightly at times and more of the snow was melted. Indications are that there will be another freeze tonight.

It is understood that a junk shop will be opened in the old McFarland shack at the corner of West Eighth and Olive streets. It is probable that a protest will be made by a number of citizens in that vicinity to the city council against allowing such an establishment to do business on a prominent corner. The old building should be condemned, say the other property owners in that vicinity, and ordered torn down.

EARLY CONSTRUCTION OF LINE ACROSS STATE
Harriman Interests Securing Right-of-Way for East and West Road

Early construction of the Harriman system of an east and west line from Vale to Odell or some other point on the Natron-Klamath road, now nearing completion, is made possible by the transfer of important right-of-way through Malheur canyon by the Hill interests to the Oregon Eastern railroad, a part of the new Oregon-Washington Railroad & Navigation Co., as announced in the Oregonian yesterday, says this morning's Oregonian.

Definite steps to build this line have not yet been taken, but that the work is part of the plans contemplated by the officers of the new organization is admitted. Surveys already have been made and a complete report of the condition of the country through which the new road will pass is on file in the Harriman offices in Portland and New York.

Morning Headache

Take Hood's Pills
Northwest is such as to demand adverse legislation, thereby discouraging railroad enterprises, the value of the bonds may shrink and the company may decide not to offer the full issue for sale. Without these funds available, they point out, future development may be retarded.

Now that the Harriman system has secured title to virtually a through right-of-way from the Idaho boundary to its line in Western Oregon the construction of this stretch of track is considered one of the earliest projects to be undertaken. This scheme has been discussed from every viewpoint for many years, and the actual start of operations has frequently been announced.

Springfield, Jan. 13.—There is little complaint in this city concerning the telephone service, in spite of the fact that the Commercial club has a committee working on the possibilities of a new company. It is generally admitted that the actual Springfield service is almost above improvement. With the new switchboard and the operation of an unusually efficient central force, all the complaint against the city telephone service has been eliminated. In company with Manager Heaton, of the telephone company, a Guard reporter interviewed a number of leading citizens of Springfield yesterday in an effort to learn the nature of the Commercial club's complaint. It seems that what is objected to is the practice of running the farmers' lines into Eugene when they are in reality in Springfield's territory. It was claimed that the telephone company had refused the farmers' request to be allowed to connect with the Springfield exchange. It was also thought that the lines running up the McKenzie river, as well as to Wendling and Natron, should be entered in Springfield office. Mr. Heaton explained that where the farmers had requested to be connected with the Springfield exchange he had never encouraged them to come to Eugene, and that he would be perfectly willing to put any line on the Springfield exchange where the nature of the parties desired. In regard to the McKenzie and Wendling lines he stated that the actual business done on these lines from Springfield was insignificant in comparison with that done from Eugene, and that it would not be wise in any way to put these on the Springfield exchange at present.

NOT GREAT DEAL OF COMPLAINT ABOUT TELEPHONE SERVICE

There was also an objection in regard to the rates. It was claimed that some of the farmers are paying as high as $7.50 a year, while others only pay a dollar. Mr. Heaton explained that there was no party on a Springfield farmers' line paying $7.50 and that there had been no increase in the rates for "phone service" in Springfield. If there had been he said that such parties would be entitled to a rebate. He stated that he would be pleased to consider any complaint from the Commercial club, and thought that matters could be arranged by a definite and friendly understanding as easily as from a hostile vantage point.

BILL PATTON PAYS TEN DOLLAR FINE
Springfield, Jan. 13.—"Bill" Patton, a Goshen farmer, who stepped off the streetcar from Eugene yesterday in a "beastly condition," was judged by the Springfield police. He was brought before City Recorder Mullin and sent home after depositing a cold eagle for disturbing the city's tranquility. This is the second sum paid by the same "boozey" within the past ten days. Several other lines have been paid for similar offenses recently.

LONG DISTANCE FOR ALL PHONES

Bill to Compel Telephone Companies to Connect With Other Lines

Salem, Or., Jan. 13.—A bill of importance to residents of many towns in Oregon will be introduced at the present session of the legislature by Representative Edward G. Arman of Multnomah, compelling the telephone companies to connect with the long distance lines.

The situation at present exists, in which the Pacific Telephone & Telegraph company has long distance lines into places where the exchanges are independent, systems with no agreement with the larger corporation. The same frequently applies to the Northwest Telephone & Telegraph company. Where such a situation occurs the company having no local connection establishes a booth in some central part of the municipality and the party called by long distance must come from his home to this booth. Very often it may be a matter of miles and at the same time there may be a telephone of the other system in the residence of the person called.

DIED

At St. Anthony, Idaho, January 12, 1911, Dr. William J. Middleton, aged 64 years. He was well-known in Eugene, being the father of Mrs. J. W. Kays.

was simply figuring on the roofing order to be handled through a local hardware firm.

THIS SUBSCRIBER SAYS SERVICE IS GOOD

Editor Guard:—I noticed in the Daily Guard, on two different occasions of rural phone users complaining of charges and service.

Now in regard to charging, of course, will all like to get it as reasonable as possible, but about the service, I can't agree with those who are complaining.

We can get central always unless there is something wrong with our line. I only know of one occasion, and that was only for an hour or so, and I do not think it was the fault of central. We only have 11 phones on our line, and a double wire line at that.

The most trouble with these farmers' lines are they have too many phones on one line, and wastes it, and you can't expect good service with those conditions.

MARX DRY CLEANING

The art of Dry Cleaning is comparatively new, and is misunderstood by a great part of the public. Much of the so-called Dry Cleaning is "dry" but not "cleaning."

The inferior work is the result of the method employed by many small places who have no machinery or proper equipment for doing the work and consists merely in brushing the material, either by hand or with a small apparatus (so-called vacuum cleaning), and spraying the surface with a liquid other than water. This method cleans the surface of the goods to some extent, but leaves all the dirt and grease on the reverse side and in the center of the cloth, and in the case of coats, jackets and other lined garments, the dirt is left in the inter-lining, padding, etc., and in a short time will work out to the surface and the garment is as soiled looking as it was before it was cleaned.
