Peruna Secrets You Should Know

Golden Seal, the root of the above plant, is a very useful medicine. Many people gather it in our rich woodlands during the summer. Few people know how valuable it is in dyspepsia, catarrh, and as a general tonic. Many thousand pounds of this root are used each year in the famous ostarck remedy, Peruna. This fact explains why everybody uses Peruna for catarrh.

NOT BRIGHT OUTLOOK FOR OREGON'S TRACK TEAM THIS YEAR

Captain Hawkins Is Sick and Other Good Men are Scarce

Six weeks ago, the University of Oregon was congratulating itself upon the fact that the outlook for a track team was better than ever before, and Trainer Bill Hayward declared that it would be the first year since he has been here that he would not have to "make" a new team. Today the outlook is changed. Several of the best men will not be here next semester and today the veteran trainer optimistically declared: "If I can 'make' some good men for the sprints, and for the weights, and the broad jump, and the half mile, and the 220, and the 440, why then, Oregon ought to have a very good team." The outlook at Oregon is not encouraging. Among the men who will not form a part of the 1911 squad are Captain Hawkins, the hurdler. Hawkins has a severe attack of the grippe and Hayward fears that it will weaken him so that it will not be safe to train. Benny Williams, the holder of the polevault record, and Riddell, the mile man, have graduated. Fizer, a freshman from Ontario, whom Bill has counted upon for filling vacancies in the high and broad jumps, and the pole vault, has left college. Ted Ho'mes, a hurdler of promise, has left school. There are several athletes that Oregon can count on to win her annual victories in the Greek sports. In the sprints Oregon is weak. Kay, a sophomore, whom Hayward worked with last year to some success, is at present the only representative. Hayward, however, believes that "Jimmy" Johns, the holder of the 51.1 quarter record, has the making of a sprinter, and will try to transfer him to this event, but of McDaniel's, last year's sprinter, Hayward will try to make a hurdler. A new high hurdler is Bob Kuykendall, the Eugene boy, whose brothers have covered themselves with glory in athletics.

For polevaulters, "Bill" is counting upon Murphy, who went 16 feet last year, and Sam Robinson, a former 10-footer, who has just returned to college after a two years' absence. Keat, of California, is a new and unknown man, but is said to have ability.

In the half mile is O'Connell, a man from Boise, who covered it in 2:2 3-5 at Walla Walla, taking the interscholastic record. Miller, who later broke this record with 2:02 in Portland, is also on hand. There are possibilities with either of these men in Hayward's hands.

In the mile is Huggins, a new man from Hood River, who took the interscholastic mile at Stanford in 4:39. McClure, the runner for Oregon last year in the two mile, is good for 4:30 in the mile. In the high jump is some good new material in Brooks, of Silverton, and in Wallace Benson of Salem, both of whom have been up to five feet six. "Jumper" Johnson is an old man, but is able to do five feet seven in practice.

In the weights there are no new men, Kellogg and Halley being the veterans. Nell also can be counted on for the javelin, holding the college record on the coast with 148.6. Cross-country running begins next Monday. There will be interclass teams and contests with cups as trophies. There will be no intercollegiate meet this year because of relations with Corvallis.

PORTLAND HAS GREAT TEAM, ON PAPER, AT LEAST

Chadbourne, right field.
Rogers, second base.
Hall, shortstop.
Krueger, left field.
Peckinpugh, third base.
Ryan, center field.
Rapps, first base.
Bradley, catcher.
Pitcher.

Think of the possibilities of the batting order presented above. Truly it looks as if McCredie is right when he says the fans will be thrown into a dizzy spell, trying to watch these fellows on the bases. Let McCredie have two more good pitchers as good as Bill Steen and there are fans here who will bet their heirlooms that Portland breezes in on the bit.

Portland mixed things up a bit in their playing last season and invariably had the other fellow guessing. If McCredie could do that with a team as slow as the one last season, what might he not do with a lineup that is like greased lightning. Think of the "hit and run," and the "sacrifice" stuff that they couldn't pull off.

What Might Happen. Here's a brief analysis of what might be expected. Let Chadbourne lead off. Here's a fellow that Artie Krueger says will walk two out of four times up. He is a dangerous man on the bases and liable to start a steal at any time. The lead-off man should be able to get on base at any time he comes up. He doesn't have to be a wonder with the stick, but at that Chadbourne batted .252 in the American Association last year. Let Chadbourne get on base and then have Rodgers follow him. Rodgers batted .26 last year, and only stole 52 bases in 124 games, one pillar in every two games. What might not this pair do with a sacrifice hit and a run? Let both of them get on base, and you've got Ball who ought to hit around .300 in the minors, the same as Krueger. Ball is just about as fast as the pair ahead of him. Suppose they all get on base, and you have three on and Krueger as the cleanup man. The fans know what Krueger will score on a double or a long single and a boot. That's because they know how to run bases and have the speed in their legs. Last year Krueger's long hits oftentimes went for nought, for Olson, Spens and Ort were about the only ones fleet enough to score from first.

OREGON WINS FROM PACIFIC UNIVERSITY BY GREAT SCORE

Forest Grove Lads Played Off Their Feet—63 Points to Seven

In a whirl of glory the University of Oregon basketball team opened the season last night in the men's gymnasium and came far above the most enthusiastic expectations of the students by playing Pacific University off its feet by the score of 63 to 7. Regardless of the comparative strength of their opponents the University players showed a class of playing that has never been developed here before. The basket accuracy seems to be perfect, and team work was all of what effort has been made in this training so far. It was a team of veterans. Jamison, last year's star, a Portland boy, made the greatest number of baskets, throwing 18 and two fouls; Fenton, the center of the famous Oregon team of Dallas college last year, was really the star of the game. Careful and apparently indifferent to excitement of the game, was always with the ball, and shot a number of remarkable baskets. His baskets numbered 19, with one foul. Elliott, another of last year's team, threw five baskets. Walker, a former California star, and Simms, who played last year with the University of Minnesota, although playing guard, threw one and two baskets respectively.

The seven points for Pacific University were made by their captain, Shaver. The following was the first line-up of the teams: Oregon—Fenton, centre; Jamison, left forward; Walker, right forward; Elliott, left guard; Simms, right guard.

The Laraway silver cup was won by the sophomores, who defeated the juniors 12 to 7 in a spirited game. The interclass series has been watched with unusual interest because the three teams, the freshmen, sophomores and juniors were tied for three preliminary series. The teams lined up as follows: Sophomores—Bredwell, right guard; Nitzki, left guard; Nell, centre; Broughton, right forward; Kay, left forward.
