

Father Time—who makes the fire burn brighter—who makes cigars more fragrant

Green wood burns but badly. Wood seasoned by time burns brightly with a cheerful glow. Time-seasoning, time-curing is responsible for the change. So—with tobacco. Green tobacco is harsh. Tobacco properly time-cured is mellow and fragrant.

And time-curing it is that insures the fragrance of your OWL Cigars. Months of time-curing. Time-curing backed up by $1,000,000 worth of reserve leaf. And often more. Time-curing of leaf guarded by time-curing experts.

Such time-curing is OWL flavor insurance. It's the OWL "fragrance-pledge."

Why don't you buy an OWL Cigar and redeem this OWL "fragrance-pledge"?

PARTS PLANNED FOR UNIVERSITY TO PLAY IN WORLD WAR TOLD

President Campbell Returns From Meeting at Washington, D. C., of College Heads; Government in Co-operation.

Machinery for directing the part which American colleges and universities must play in the war was organized in a far greater and efficient way than people of the United States know. This was the statement made by President P. L. Campbell, of the University of Oregon, who returned from Washington, D. C., Sunday where he attended the conference of 183 college heads.

A committee from these educational heads will be a sub-committee of the council of national defense. This body will offer suggestions and plans of operation. Executive force will be supplied through the board of education, already a government department.

Three general heads are included in the plans which the University heads decided to put into action at once: First, addition to curricula of military and scientific subjects; secondly, programs for disseminating correct information about the war; thirdly, co-operation with the Red Cross.

The last matter was brought up by President Campbell and enthusiastically accepted by the body.

President Campbell called a meeting of the heads of all scientific departments in the University and military committee at 4 o'clock Monday afternoon and immediate plans for further action than that already taken will be adopted by the institution.

"Schools of the east are broken in pieces as far as regular work goes," said President Campbell. "The universities have come to be military camps and studying a matter of form only."

"Lamar and Leslie Tooze, former students here, intend to go into officers' reserve training camp at Plattsburg or Presidio."

University men are being urged to stay in school by Secretary of War Baker, says Mr. Campbell. "The government expects a long war and will need their brains later," he declared.

President Campbell was present at conferring of degrees on General Joffre and Premier Viviani.

Four Operations Performed in Local Hospitals Today

Mrs. J. C. Nelson, of Junction City, underwent a surgical operation at the Mercy hospital in this city this forenoon. She is getting along nicely. Miss L. McDaniels, of Crow, Or., was brought to Mercy hospital, Eugene, today, suffering from acute appendicitis, and was operated upon this afternoon.

At the Eugene hospital Miss Una B. Wood, from the St. Frances apartments of this city, was operated upon this morning, as was Miss Opal Webber, of 272 Seventh avenue east, the latter a little girl of eight years. Both rallied nicely and are doing well.

G. W. Cooper, a sawmill man from Troutdale, Oregon, was in the city today. He was on his way to the Coos Bay country on business.

The Proudest Moment of Marshal Joffre's Visit to the United States.

These two photographs show Marshal Joffre and his party as they walked out on the parade ground at West Point to review the future military commanders of the United States who are all ready for war in Europe. West Point, Marshal Joffre knows, is considered the best military school in the world. He was a teacher in military schools in France, so there was no one to appreciate more a work of the boys at West Point.

PIONEERS HUNT AND FISH FREE IN OREGON

Important Changes in Law Licensing Fishing and Hunting Are Made.

The last legislature made several important changes in the law regulating the granting of hunting and fishing licenses. A new provision is that pioneers who came to the state of Oregon prior to the year 1890 can now hunt and fish without paying a license. Their identity must be established, together with proof that they are pioneers, by affidavit if necessary. The law also permits veterans of the Civil war and of the Indian wars to fish and hunt free. Special licenses will be granted to men in these classes.

Under the new law women may fish without licenses, but cannot hunt without a license. Boys over 14 must have licenses for either hunting or fishing.

The fee for hunting licenses was raised from $1 to $1.50 and the fee for fishing licenses was also raised from $1 to $1.50 and the fee for a combination license from $2 to $3. The new law went into effect this morning, May 21, and the higher rates are now in effect.

Farnum Veteran of 42 Miles of Film

William Farnum, who stars in his fifteenth William Fox production, "The Price of Silence," at the Savoy today, is the veteran of almost forty-two miles of film. These figures are astounding, but here's proof:

Each of the photoplays in which Farnum has appeared as a William Fox star has been a five-reeler. There are 1000 feet of film in a reel. This would make 75,000 feet of celluloid for the fifteen productions. But the total is raised to 221,000 feet by the fact that each scene is photographed from three angles. This costly, and apparently wasteful, triplication is practiced to insure the public the best possible view of the action, the director choosing the particular "take" that he thinks is best. The length of the film in miles is obtained by dividing the 221,000 feet by 5280.

The list of Mr. Farnum's photoplays is: A Soldier's Oath, Fighting Blood, The Bondman, A Man of Sorrow, The Broken Law, The Wonderful Adventure, The Plunderer, The Nigger, The Man from Bitter Root, The End of the Trail, Battle of Hearts, A Gilded Fool, Samson, Fires of Conscience, The Price of Silence.

Mrs. Marhoff Not Guilty of Shooting Her Husband

San Francisco, May 21.—Mrs Geraldine Marhoff, arrested on charge of assault with a deadly weapon, was dismissed in a police court hearing here today. An official naval statement was presented in court saying that her husband, Lieutenant William C. Marhoff, United States naval reserves, had been shot accidentally in the foot, and would be able to resume his duties.
