HUMAN FLAG TO SING WHEN 1200 CHILDREN APPEAR IN PAGEANT

Living Star Spangled Banner to Be Formed on Kincaid Field; Five Other Features in First Spectacle.

A living American flag 208 by 140 feet in dimensions, singing the "Star Spangled Banner," from 1200 of Eugene's public school children's throats will be the feature of the pageant to be held on the University of Oregon football field next Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Nearly 1500 yards of red, white and blue bunting ribbon will be required to produce the spectacle.

The flag formation will be the last of six features which will be held before a track meet in which about 400 boys of the upper grades will participate.

Miss Mabel Cummings, head of the women's physical training department at the University, has been directing the formation work. Miss Nell Sullivan, director of music in the city schools, is supervising the singing instruction.

Bugle to Start Event. The first section of the program will begin at the sound of a bugle when the children of 23 rooms will run on to the field and gather around as many penants. Each group will play some sort of game.

Following this 175 girls from upper grades will execute May pole dances of nine different kinds at nine different places. Preparation for the dances has been under the direction of Miss Frieda Goldsmith of the women's training department at the University.

In the next division of the program 1200 children will form on the field in 20 rows of 44 children each. Boys and girls will alternate. While in this formation a military setting-up exercise will be enacted.

Sing National Songs. Following this scene and while still in formation the children will sing the national songs of all the countries friendly to the United States.

The University band has offered its services free for the afternoon. Prof. Albert Perfect, director, is arranging music.

Three events will be held in the track meet: Broad jump, 880 relay and sprints. Competition will be between grades not individuals. However, individual records will be kept by 40 field directors, who will be picked from the public schools and from the playground classes at the University. Admission will not be charged if some other way for paying for the necessary bunting is found. If entrance fee is collected it will be very small, so that every citizen of Eugene who wishes may be able to see the first spectacle of this kind that has been attempted here.

Miss Cummings says that the work of preparation has been difficult and that she desires to thank teachers in the schools for their help and perfect cooperation.

Rehearsal on the field will be held some time during the week.

COQUILLE SUSPECT ARRESTED SUNDAY

Eugene Police Department Gathers in Man With Three Names Wanted for Larceny.

A dispute with the landlord at the Encore rooming house was the ending of Guy Wardrie, wanted at Coquille. Wardrie, who also goes under the name of Guy Ward, and who registered at local hotels as J. H. Hill, came from the Coos Bay country on the train Sunday. About half an hour after the train arrived Chief of Police C. B. Christensen received a long distance call from Coquille, asking him to be on the lookout for Wardrie, who was supposed to be on that train.

The police department found that a man bearing the description given had registered at the Encore and after staying there for a time decided to seek another hotel. The hotel man demanded pay for the time the room had been occupied and after some words the stranger paid it and left. This, however, so impressed his personality upon the clerk that when the police were seeking him an hour afterward that gentleman recalled him perfectly. From there the police followed him to the Griggs hotel, where he had also registered as J. H. Hill. He denied being Ward or Wardrie, but as the police had a good description of him, also of his arsenal, consisting of a 30-30 rifle, a 22-calibre rifle, a Colt's Automatic revolver and a 12-gauge shotgun, they gathered him in and lodged him in the city jail. A warrant was telegraphed from Coquille and the deputy sheriff left for Eugene this morning to take him there. He is charged with larceny.

Long and Short Haul Decided Against Roads

Washington, May 21.—Provisions of Missouri statutes of 1900 prohibiting railroads from fixing higher freight rates for a short than a long haul, whether such rate discrimination is reasonable or unjust, were today sustained as constitutional by the supreme court.

SEES PROSPEROUS ERA FOR AMERICA

President of Studebaker Corporation Says No Time for Any Man to Feel Pessimistic.

Now that our country has been thoroughly embroiled in the titanic world war, there exists in the minds of some men a feeling of uncertainty as to its effect upon business conditions here on this side of the Atlantic. Contrary to a rather general impression that prevails in this country, "big business" is apparently not at all worried over the international complications. The following statement from A. R. Erskine, president of the Studebaker corporation, certainly sounds an optimistic note concerning future prospects.

"A state of war always stimulates an active demand for the products of the mines, fields and factories," says Mr. Erskine, "and the United States has felt this demand from foreign countries for the past three years to an extensive degree. The entry of the United States into the war simply increases the demand, and consequently, large increases in price have ensued recently for all agricultural products, live stock and food supplies generally. The demand for munitions and war supplies continues very heavy, not only from the allies but from our own government, and consequently the industries of the country are and will continue to be operated at full capacity upon these orders. Thus, it is evident that our people in all pursuits are receiving large incomes, perhaps greater than ever before in our history, and as long as this condition lasts, business will be good."

"Our plants at Detroit, South Bend and Walkerville are operated at capacity, and we are selling our output as fast as it can be shipped. We believe that our business for 1917 will be larger than that of last year, and we urge all salesmen and dealers to take advantage of the existing opportunities and get their full share of the business."

"This is no time for any man to feel pessimistic. The great resources of the United States, its energy and power are being employed in the war, and large expenditures must ensue, which in themselves mean prosperity for our people, in spite of the high prices and increased taxes that will prevail while the war continues."

Young People to Give Musical Entertainment

Florence Miller, pianist, and Robert Haley, violinist, assisted by Fern Howden, violinist, will give a musical entertainment at the Eugene theatre Tuesday evening, under the auspices of the Pacific Conservatory and Normal College of Music.

Miss Miller is only 13 years old, but she has made a wonderful record as a pianist under the instruction of Mrs. Ellsworth Crocker. Master Hany is 12 years old, but he has had only 13 months instruction under Prof. Crocker. His progress as a violinist has been phenomenal. As a part of the entertainment he will render one of the most difficult concertos from memory. Little Miss Fern Bowden has appeared before Eugene audiences before and is quite a favorite with the music loving public of this city. The concert promises to be of more than usual importance. Admission will be 50c.

The Financial Brigade

THIS unit of the great International Service Army—will be composed of those who subscribe to the United States War Loan. Bonds are small enough for investment therein by everyone. Will this be your "BIT"?

Information on, and assistance in subscribing thereto will be accorded the Public by these institutions—without charge by, or compensation to us.

WE ARE READY To Receive Your Milk

All farmers or milk producers will please note that on Monday morning, May 21, we will begin to receive whole milk for the cheese factory. The milk to be delivered at the creamery not later than 9 a. m. every morning. At the present price of cheese and the proposition we have to offer we cannot but feel that it is going to be a paying proposition to the producer and will especially relieve some of the advanced cost of production as the returns will be greater per cow.

Don't forget to be on hand with your milk Monday morning bright and early.
