PREVENTS GUMMOSIS BY FREE USE OF LIME

Corvallis Farmer Reports Raising Perfect Sweet Cherries by Feeding Soil.

A preventative and an efficient remedy for the control of gummosis in sweet cherry tree has been discovered and tested out by W. M. Faulkner, of Corvallis, and this remedy is nothing less than lime. An article describing the process follows: "Several years ago the writer took up the work as a representative of the Albany Nursery company, in the Willamette valley, who advertised to fill in the second year all trees that failed to live, and soon observed that the filling in process required more sweet cherry trees than all other trees combined, and accordingly began a study of the causes of the loss of the cherry trees. The writer purchased a farm two miles north of Corvallis and made tests of the soil and found that the acid soil caused the gummosis and found that the use of slaked or ground lime would counteract this acidity, and if used in the right proportion would sweeten the sour soil. As a preventative of gummosis the writer used the lime when setting out his orchard, using at the rate of one to three tons of lime to the acre, according to the nature of the soil. A hole three feet square was dug for each tree, and from two to three pounds of lime mixed with earth. As the trees grew more lime has been added, being worked into the soil by cultivation. This treatment should be continued until the trees are 6 or 7 years of age. By this time the roots of the trees, if they have been properly planted and cared for, will have penetrated to a depth where they have come in contact with plenty of lime to counteract the acid at that depth. "This is why that after the sweet cherry tree has attained to the age of 7 or 8 years in a healthy condition will care for itself. Really, it is the lime taking care of the trees, for trees infected with gummosis, if they are not too far gone, treatment with lime worked into the soil will improve them, and in many cases restore them to a healthy condition. The lime should be worked well down to the roots of the trees. Here is where the lime will come handy to apply by the ton, one to three tons to the acre. It may be possible that we will be forced to obtain this lime by the Sam Moore plan of production, but judging from the way that the writer has heard from 2000 to 3000 men talk in the last four months, it can't be very long until we will be hearing the whistling of the lime and rock crushers. It will then be that we can afford to buy lime for any and all purposes that we may want it for. "The writer has made tests of all the sweet cherries, including the Royal Ann, Bing, Lambert, Centennial, May Duke, Black Tartarian and the Royal Ann grafted on Massard seedlings, and never has sprayed with anything and has had three crops of cherries, and has never been bothered with gummosis except on trees of some varieties planted near by without the lime treatment. These were badly infected with gummosis, most of them already dead and pulled out, where he has young trees now of the same varieties growing nicely, but filled the holes with lime and earth, as he did with the trees that have never been bothered with gummosis."

Miss Catherine Bleecker. Miss Catherine Bleecker, who is the first woman to reach that height of the theatrical profession—the management of a theatre on Broadway New York City—has inaugurated her new venture with a proposition which women of the United States will appreciate. She says if you will give her ideas which can be made profitable on the stage she will give you sugar, not money, in payment. She thinks sugar will draw more ideas now than will cash.

Men of Hoquiam, Washington Will Aid in Spruce Production

Hoquiam, Wash., Jan. 21.—One of the most effective "win the war" drives held on the Pacific coast has been carefully planned by local business men, and will be launched within ten days in the form of a big move to get out a vast quantity of spruce from virgin timber belts around the Grays Harbor district.

To handle the matter, Hoquiam and Aberdeen business men have formed the Aircraft Spruce and Lumber company. It has bonded itself to produce the maximum amount of spruce for the government and will have between four thousand and five thousand men working in the timber tracts. Power rigging and portable sawmills will be used to hasten production of wing beam length straight grained stock. In the name of the state of Oregon: You are hereby required to appear and answer the complaint filed against you in the above-entitled cause on or before the last day of the time prescribed in the order for publication of this summons, to-wit: on or before February 2nd, 1918, and if you fail to appear or answer for want thereof, the plaintiff will apply to the Court for the relief prayed for in the complaint, to-wit: For judgment against the said defendant, Pacific Land Company, for the sum of $11,775.00, the amount of principal, due upon said promissory note, together with interest thereon, from the 30th day of August, 1915, at the rate of 8 per cent per annum, less the said sum of $375.00 interest paid thereon, on the 5th day of June, 1917; for the further sum of $292.50, the taxes for the year 1914, together with interest thereon at the rate of 15 per cent per annum from the 5th day of October, 1916, for the sum of $301.24, the taxes paid for the year 1915, together with interest thereon at the rate of 15 per cent per annum from the 5th day of October, 1916; for the sum of $156.58, together with interest thereon at the rate of 15 per cent per annum from the 5th day of April, 1917; for the sum of $156.58, together with interest thereon at the rate of 15 per cent per annum from the 5th day of October, 1916; and for the further sum of $500.00 attorneys' fees, and for costs and disbursements of this suit.
