

SAVOY Theater

ALWAYS A GOOD SHOW—GO!

Monday and Tuesday

A Virile American Photoplay based on the Seventh Commandment.

"Thou Shalt Not Steal"

Featuring Very Clever

Virginia Pearson

Directed by William Nigh.

SUNSHINE COMEDY

"HIS SMASHING CAREER" Featuring BILLIE RITCHIE

TODAY IS BEGINNING OF $3000 WAR WORK CAMPAIGN IN EUGENE

Nine Teams Start Big Drive to Raise Eugene's Share of Y. W. C. A. Fund; Soldier Praises Hostess House.

Today saw the beginning of an enthusiastic $3,000 campaign which is to be carried on throughout this week by Mrs. W. P. Fell and her nine teams of workers, under the auspices of the Y. W. C. A. war work. At a very largely attended meeting held at the chamber of commerce rooms Saturday night, the teams were all rounded out, and all details perfected for the week's drive. On Tuesday a luncheon will be held at the Hotel Osburn at which the team captains will report on the first day's work.

At the meeting Saturday night, at which Mrs. Fell presided, Mrs. Robert McMurphy gave an interesting report of the trying time she had at Fort Stevens where she went to visit her son, Robert. There is no hostess house there and it is most difficult for a soldier to meet his relatives and friends when they come to the fort. It is to provide meeting places such as these, and to care for the women and girls affected by the war in an industrial way that the Y. W. C. A. campaign for funds is waged.

It is pointed out that in the case of providing warm meals and resting places for the women munitions workers here and in France, we are not only conserving the lives and the health of the women themselves, but we are contributing a very vital bit to the winning of the war. If the women do not have the necessities and comforts provided by the Y. W. C. A. war work, they cannot continue long with their important work. So one of the slogans of the Y. W. C. A. campaign is "Stand Behind the Women Behind the Man Behind the Gun."

Dean Elizabeth Fox, head of the campaign in the state, addressed the meeting on the different lines of Y. W. C. A. war work. Then each captain met with her team.

Following are the members of the nine teams:

No. 1—Mrs. Chas. A. Gray, leader; Mrs. David Auld, Mrs. T. J. Anderson, Mrs. George H. McMorrin, Mrs. David Graham, Mrs. Herbert Roome, Miss Edith Buell.

No. 2—Miss Amy Dunn, leader; Miss Flora McDonald, Mrs. L. H. Hubbs, Mrs. Jessie Vanscoy, Mrs. H. H. Hobbs, Mrs. A. F. Rapp.

No. 3—Mrs. W. W. Calkins, leader; Mrs. E. S. Rolfe, Mrs. A. C. Dixon, Mrs. E. B. Parks, Mrs. C. D. Rorer, Mrs. J. M. Shelley, Mrs. David Link.

No. 4—Mrs. C. H. Edmondson, leader; Mrs. H. C. Clark, Mrs. A. M. Spangler, Mrs. Karl Onthank, Mrs. A. E. Caswell, Mrs. Ronald Young, Mrs. S. M. Calkins, Miss Mary Watson, Miss Dorothy Collier.

No. 5—Mrs. F. E. Chambers, leader; Mrs. A. T. Cockerline, Mrs. Robert McMurphy, Mrs. Archie Livermore, Mrs. Laura Harris.

No. 6—Mrs. R. T. Burnett, leader; Mrs. Frank Jenkins, Mrs. Dean Walker, Mrs. H. D. Sheldon, Mrs. E. E. DeCou, Mrs. Robert C. Hall.

No. 7—Mrs. W. M. Case, leader; Mrs. John Jensen, Mrs. Horace Burnett, Mrs. Sherman Moody, Mrs. S. M. Andrews, Mrs. Lloyd Bolman, Mrs. C. W. Geller, Mrs. Henry Ruth, Mrs. O. R. Gallion, Mrs. B. A. Seelye, Mrs. W. Forest.

No. 8—Mrs. J. H. Blewett, leader; Mrs. George H. Parkinson, Mrs. E. L. Knapp, Mrs. A. G. Holman, Mrs. E. V. Ford, Mrs. Hazel Standard, Mrs. Geo. N. McLean and Mrs. A. R. Sweetser.

No. 9—Mrs. O. B. Pennington, leader; Mrs. Alton Hampton, Mrs. F. M. Carter, Mrs. E. P. Doris, Mrs. I. D. Wade, Miss Mae Kinsey, Miss Lucylee Dunn, Mrs. Leon Edmondson and Miss Maude Smith.

An instance of what the soldier thinks of the Y. W. C. A. hostess houses is shown by the following letter which has been received by Nicholas Jaureguy, last year president of the student body of the University of Oregon, who is now a second lieutenant at Camp Lewis.

The letter came in response to a telegram sent by the University Y. W. C. A., asking for an opinion in regard to the Y. W. C. A. work at Camp Lewis.

"To My Friends of the Oregon Y. W. C. A.:

"I was surprised, indeed, the other morning to receive your telegram asking my co-operation in the campaign which is now going on. I assure you I wasted no time in reaching as many Oregon men as possible, seeing some personally and reaching others by mail. I have read with pleasure of the manner in which Oregon girls are taking up different lines of war work this year, and I can assure you it is all being appreciated.

"I am sure that anything the Oregon students can do to raise funds for the Y. W. C. A. work in army camps should be undertaken by all means. It would be impossible to fully express the appreciation which every soldier in Camp Lewis feels towards the Y. W. C. A. for its hostess house.

"It has brought the home atmosphere into our camp, filling a very urgent need. Prior to the establishment of the hostess house, it was almost out of the question for a soldier to have visitors in camp, even in the best of weather. Since its establishment, already the Y. M. C. A. has entertained 60,000 guests, 34,000 of whom have been served meals.

"Can Sit Around Fireplace. "Rest assured, therefore, that when you come to Camp Lewis to visit us we can still sit around the fireplace, as we did on those rainy Sunday afternoons in the days of yore.

"With best wishes and hope for success in this and other lines of endeavor, I am, yours very sincerely,

"NICHOLAS JAUREGUY."

HOTEL ARRIVALS

New registrants at the Griggs Sunday were: J. W. Allgire, Portland; C. B. Faddock, Portland; J. D. Dean, Portland; J. E. Turnbull, Portland; Irving Smith, North Bend; C. Danfield, wife and son, city; L. P. Harrington, Salem; Mrs. Baker, city; J. W. Chandler, Albany; H. D. Forneri, San Diego; O. W. Schultz, Portland; Oscar Bain, Portland; Henry Knebel, Junction City; Mrs. Chas. Cardell, Ione, Minn.; J. A. Anderson, Irie, Minn.; Ira Branch, Yaquna; C. R. Smith, Portland; J. H. Gardner, Ada; O. W. Fox, Roseburg; John Belloni, Salem; Mrs. Orley Davis, Salem; L. M. Carr, Salem.

At the Hotel Smeed guests were: A. Wood, Oakridge; Mrs. M. E. Whitebeck, H. C. Stowe, Brownsville; E. A. Roney, Oklahoma; S. A. Lyster and wife, Roseburg; W. L. Cobb, Roseburg; C. L. Mason, Roseburg; J. S. Moore, Roseburg; Dr. and Mrs. Bull, Richland; M. Pope, Portland; John Downing, Wendling; E. G. Houston, Mabel; J. R. Sowles, Marcola; B. E. Layton, Salem; and Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Campbell, Cal.

These arrivals at the New Hoffman: Frank Gale, Mabel; A. J. Smith, Mabel; George Lauring and wife, Portland; Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Friel, Eugene; Mr. and Mrs. Scott, Eugene; R. M. McCrea, Portland;

Patrons of the Hotel Osburn were: D. L. Webster, Alpine; L. Rosenberg, Seattle; A. Lehman, Chicago; H. F. Gillbert and wife, New York; C. D. Williamson, Chicago; T. A. Fuller, Boston; J. C. Nordin, Portland; Jack Willis, Portland; C. H. Fisher, Salem; E. A. Barrette, Portland; Horace Addis, Portland; G. W. Goodwin, San Francisco; J. H. Haner, Bend; J. R. Steele, L. M. Clark, M. Griffin, J. Deitch, Julius Cohn, all of Portland; Fred Taylor, Helena, Mont.; C. M. Bristol, Portland; W. H. Masters, Portland; R. C. Jones, Portland; J. B. Steinbach, Mgr. Eaton hotel, Portland; F. W. Mourse, Portland; J. C. Hastings, Spokane and A. B. Caughey, Portland.

FUNERAL SERVICES WILL BE HELD HERE

Body of Joel McCornack, Late Resident, Arrives From East; Was Good Christian Man.

The body of Joel McCornack, who died a few days ago in New Jersey, has arrived in Eugene, his old home, and services over it will be conducted Tuesday, January 22, at 11 a. m. at the Gordon and Veatch chapel. Rev. W. M. Case will be in charge. Interment will be made in the Masonic cemetery.

Joel McCornack was born near Elgin, Ill., Oct. 13, 1840. He lived on the home place until he was 27 years old and then came to Eugene, where he engaged in business. October 10, 1882, he married Miss Hattie Collier.

In 1888 he moved to the North Fork of the Siuslaw and lived on a farm until 1895 when he returned to Eugene and engaged in business.

In the spring of 1908 he moved to a farm near the Mohawk near Marcola, where he made his home till last October. At that time he went east to visit his relatives, whom he had not seen for 37 years. While in New Jersey, visiting his brother Herbert, he became ill and died after an operation. He was a man who had a genuine love for his friends and a smile and pleasant word for everyone. His friends were from all walks of life. He was a sincere and earnest Christian who had a wonderful knowledge of the Bible.

He is survived by a widow and the following children: Margaret Sibyl Windham of Eugene; George Alexander of

BORN

JOHNSON—To Mr. and Mrs. Claude C. Johnson, of Irving, January 20, 1917, a daughter.

ROOT—In Eugene, Jan. 17, 1918, at Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Root, at 143 Monroe street, a son.

HAMBLEN—At their home on Eleventh avenue west, in Eugene, January 19, 1918, to Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hambleen, a son.

ANGELO—At their home at 440 Lincoln street, in Eugene, January 17, 1918, to Mr. and Mrs. Sanges Angelo, a son.

DIED

ROSS—At her home near Sinto Clara, January 19, 1918, Mrs. Emerson Ross, at the age of 42 years.

She is survived by her husband, two daughters, Loy and Marjorie, and a son, Dale. She was a member of the United Brethren church. The funeral was held at the Gordon and Veatch chapel, Jan. 21, at 2 p. m. Rev. Walter L. Myers, was in charge of the service.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank our many friends and neighbors also the lodges for their kindness and assistance, also for their beautiful floral offerings, during the sickness and death of our husband and father, Lewis B. Rossmann and Mrs. MEDORA A. ROSSMAN AND FAMILY. 321

ARE SOLICITING FUNDS

The committee appointed to solicit funds for the school exhibit and rally, to be held in Eugene May 17 and 18, began its work Monday morning. It will raise at least $200 to match the amount offered by the county court.

Attorney L. B. Sandblast of Roseburg, was a Eugene visitor the last of the week.

MAYOR PETERSON IS TREATED HARSHLY IN SAN FRANCISCO

Big Policeman Tells Him to Move On; Threatens Him With Patrol Wagon When He Stops to See Sights.

C. O. Peterson, mayor of Eugene, has returned home from San Francisco, where he succeeded in keeping out of jail after having been threatened with arrest. His small-town curiosity almost proved his undoing while in the great California metropolis.

Mayor Peterson was walking on the street with some friends. He noticed a great crowd of people assembled in front of the Hof Brau cafe. Soldiers and policemen were thick and civilians were coming from every direction. He walked on, but upon leaving his friends, a few minutes later, he decided to investigate the cause of the disturbance. When he returned to the front of the cafe order had been restored and traffic was moving normally. He asked a man standing near the doorway what had gone wrong.

"The fellow said that 50 or 60 soldiers had entered the cafe and demanded that the orchestra play 'Over There.' Mayor Peterson stated today. 'The leader of the musicians declined, stating that he did not have the music, and trouble ensued. The orchestra leader parried with 'The Star Spangled Banner.' The soldiers stood at attention and the officers, who had entered the building, sent in a riot call, the police rounding up the soldiers and taking them from the place."

Mayor Peterson stated that almost before the stranger had finished telling him what had happened between 400 and 500 soldiers and sailors came down the street, headed for the Hof Brau. The police headed them off, giving them direction to move on. After a time some of the soldiers succeeded in getting through the lines and into the building. A crowd of civilian onlookers quickly assembled. The officers became more vigorous in their efforts to keep the street open. A policeman told the mayor to move. He did. He moved over behind an automobile, where he believed he would be out of the way and could get a good view of everything that was going on in front of the building.

"I had just gotten nicely into my new location when I discovered that an officer had me spotted," Mayor Peterson stated. "Move on or a patrol wagon will help you," he said.

Mayor Peterson stated that almost before the stranger had finished telling him what had happened between 400 and 500 soldiers and sailors came down the street, headed for the Hof Brau. The police headed them off, giving them direction to move on. After a time some of the soldiers succeeded in getting through the lines and into the building. A crowd of civilian onlookers quickly assembled. The officers became more vigorous in their efforts to keep the street open. A policeman told the mayor to move. He did. He moved over behind an automobile, where he believed he would be out of the way and could get a good view of everything that was going on in front of the building.

Mayor Peterson stated that almost before the stranger had finished telling him what had happened between 400 and 500 soldiers and sailors came down the street, headed for the Hof Brau. The police headed them off, giving them direction to move on. After a time some of the soldiers succeeded in getting through the lines and into the building. A crowd of civilian onlookers quickly assembled. The officers became more vigorous in their efforts to keep the street open. A policeman told the mayor to move. He did. He moved over behind an automobile, where he believed he would be out of the way and could get a good view of everything that was going on in front of the building.

Mayor Peterson stated that almost before the stranger had finished telling him what had happened between 400 and 500 soldiers and sailors came down the street, headed for the Hof Brau. The police headed them off, giving them direction to move on. After a time some of the soldiers succeeded in getting through the lines and into the building. A crowd of civilian onlookers quickly assembled. The officers became more vigorous in their efforts to keep the street open. A policeman told the mayor to move. He did. He moved over behind an automobile, where he believed he would be out of the way and could get a good view of everything that was going on in front of the building.

Mayor Peterson stated that almost before the stranger had finished telling him what had happened between 400 and 500 soldiers and sailors came down the street, headed for the Hof Brau. The police headed them off, giving them direction to move on. After a time some of the soldiers succeeded in getting through the lines and into the building. A crowd of civilian onlookers quickly assembled. The officers became more vigorous in their efforts to keep the street open. A policeman told the mayor to move. He did. He moved over behind an automobile, where he believed he would be out of the way and could get a good view of everything that was going on in front of the building.

Mayor Peterson stated that almost before the stranger had finished telling him what had happened between 400 and 500 soldiers and sailors came down the street, headed for the Hof Brau. The police headed them off, giving them direction to move on. After a time some of the soldiers succeeded in getting through the lines and into the building. A crowd of civilian onlookers quickly assembled. The officers became more vigorous in their efforts to keep the street open. A policeman told the mayor to move. He did. He moved over behind an automobile, where he believed he would be out of the way and could get a good view of everything that was going on in front of the building.

Mayor Peterson stated that almost before the stranger had finished telling him what had happened between 400 and 500 soldiers and sailors came down the street, headed for the Hof Brau. The police headed them off, giving them direction to move on. After a time some of the soldiers succeeded in getting through the lines and into the building. A crowd of civilian onlookers quickly assembled. The officers became more vigorous in their efforts to keep the street open. A policeman told the mayor to move. He did. He moved over behind an automobile, where he believed he would be out of the way and could get a good view of everything that was going on in front of the building.

Mayor Peterson stated that almost before the stranger had finished telling him what had happened between 400 and 500 soldiers and sailors came down the street, headed for the Hof Brau. The police headed them off, giving them direction to move on. After a time some of the soldiers succeeded in getting through the lines and into the building. A crowd of civilian onlookers quickly assembled. The officers became more vigorous in their efforts to keep the street open. A policeman told the mayor to move. He did. He moved over behind an automobile, where he believed he would be out of the way and could get a good view of everything that was going on in front of the building.

Mayor Peterson stated that almost before the stranger had finished telling him what had happened between 400 and 500 soldiers and sailors came down the street, headed for the Hof Brau. The police headed them off, giving them direction to move on. After a time some of the soldiers succeeded in getting through the lines and into the building. A crowd of civilian onlookers quickly assembled. The officers became more vigorous in their efforts to keep the street open. A policeman told the mayor to move. He did. He moved over behind an automobile, where he believed he would be out of the way and could get a good view of everything that was going on in front of the building.

Mayor Peterson stated that almost before the stranger had finished telling him what had happened between 400 and 500 soldiers and sailors came down the street, headed for the Hof Brau. The police headed them off, giving them direction to move on. After a time some of the soldiers succeeded in getting through the lines and into the building. A crowd of civilian onlookers quickly assembled. The officers became more vigorous in their efforts to keep the street open. A policeman told the mayor to move. He did. He moved over behind an automobile, where he believed he would be out of the way and could get a good view of everything that was going on in front of the building.

Mayor Peterson stated that almost before the stranger had finished telling him what had happened between 400 and 500 soldiers and sailors came down the street, headed for the Hof Brau. The police headed them off, giving them direction to move on. After a time some of the soldiers succeeded in getting through the lines and into the building. A crowd of civilian onlookers quickly assembled. The officers became more vigorous in their efforts to keep the street open. A policeman told the mayor to move. He did. He moved over behind an automobile, where he believed he would be out of the way and could get a good view of everything that was going on in front of the building.

Mayor Peterson stated that almost before the stranger had finished telling him what had happened between 400 and 500 soldiers and sailors came down the street, headed for the Hof Brau. The police headed them off, giving them direction to move on. After a time some of the soldiers succeeded in getting through the lines and into the building. A crowd of civilian onlookers quickly assembled. The officers became more vigorous in their efforts to keep the street open. A policeman told the mayor to move. He did. He moved over behind an automobile, where he believed he would be out of the way and could get a good view of everything that was going on in front of the building.

Mayor Peterson stated that almost before the stranger had finished telling him what had happened between 400 and 500 soldiers and sailors came down the street, headed for the Hof Brau. The police headed them off, giving them direction to move on. After a time some of the soldiers succeeded in getting through the lines and into the building. A crowd of civilian onlookers quickly assembled. The officers became more vigorous in their efforts to keep the street open. A policeman told the mayor to move. He did. He moved over behind an automobile, where he believed he would be out of the way and could get a good view of everything that was going on in front of the building.

Mayor Peterson stated that almost before the stranger had finished telling him what had happened between 400 and 500 soldiers and sailors came down the street, headed for the Hof Brau. The police headed them off, giving them direction to move on. After a time some of the soldiers succeeded in getting through the lines and into the building. A crowd of civilian onlookers quickly assembled. The officers became more vigorous in their efforts to keep the street open. A policeman told the mayor to move. He did. He moved over behind an automobile, where he believed he would be out of the way and could get a good view of everything that was going on in front of the building.

Mayor Peterson stated that almost before the stranger had finished telling him what had happened between 400 and 500 soldiers and sailors came down the street, headed for the Hof Brau. The police headed them off, giving them direction to move on. After a time some of the soldiers succeeded in getting through the lines and into the building. A crowd of civilian onlookers quickly assembled. The officers became more vigorous in their efforts to keep the street open. A policeman told the mayor to move. He did. He moved over behind an automobile, where he believed he would be out of the way and could get a good view of everything that was going on in front of the building.

Mayor Peterson stated that almost before the stranger had finished telling him what had happened between 400 and 500 soldiers and sailors came down the street, headed for the Hof Brau. The police headed them off, giving them direction to move on. After a time some of the soldiers succeeded in getting through the lines and into the building. A crowd of civilian onlookers quickly assembled. The officers became more vigorous in their efforts to keep the street open. A policeman told the mayor to move. He did. He moved over behind an automobile, where he believed he would be out of the way and could get a good view of everything that was going on in front of the building.

Mayor Peterson stated that almost before the stranger had finished telling him what had happened between 400 and 500 soldiers and sailors came down the street, headed for the Hof Brau. The police headed them off, giving them direction to move on. After a time some of the soldiers succeeded in getting through the lines and into the building. A crowd of civilian onlookers quickly assembled. The officers became more vigorous in their efforts to keep the street open. A policeman told the mayor to move. He did. He moved over behind an automobile, where he believed he would be out of the way and could get a good view of everything that was going on in front of the building.

Mayor Peterson stated that almost before the stranger had finished telling him what had happened between 400 and 500 soldiers and sailors came down the street, headed for the Hof Brau. The police headed them off, giving them direction to move on. After a time some of the soldiers succeeded in getting through the lines and into the building. A crowd of civilian onlookers quickly assembled. The officers became more vigorous in their efforts to keep the street open. A policeman told the mayor to move. He did. He moved over behind an automobile, where he believed he would be out of the way and could get a good view of everything that was going on in front of the building.

Mayor Peterson stated that almost before the stranger had finished telling him what had happened between 400 and 500 soldiers and sailors came down the street, headed for the Hof Brau. The police headed them off, giving them direction to move on. After a time some of the soldiers succeeded in getting through the lines and into the building. A crowd of civilian onlookers quickly assembled. The officers became more vigorous in their efforts to keep the street open. A policeman told the mayor to move. He did. He moved over behind an automobile, where he believed he would be out of the way and could get a good view of everything that was going on in front of the building.

Mayor Peterson stated that almost before the stranger had finished telling him what had happened between 400 and 500 soldiers and sailors came down the street, headed for the Hof Brau. The police headed them off, giving them direction to move on. After a time some of the soldiers succeeded in getting through the lines and into the building. A crowd of civilian onlookers quickly assembled. The officers became more vigorous in their efforts to keep the street open. A policeman told the mayor to move. He did. He moved over behind an automobile, where he believed he would be out of the way and could get a good view of everything that was going on in front of the building.

Mayor Peterson stated that almost before the stranger had finished telling him what had happened between 400 and 500 soldiers and sailors came down the street, headed for the Hof Brau. The police headed them off, giving them direction to move on. After a time some of the soldiers succeeded in getting through the lines and into the building. A crowd of civilian onlookers quickly assembled. The officers became more vigorous in their efforts to keep the street open. A policeman told the mayor to move. He did. He moved over behind an automobile, where he believed he would be out of the way and could get a good view of everything that was going on in front of the building.

Mayor Peterson stated that almost before the stranger had finished telling him what had happened between 400 and 500 soldiers and sailors came down the street, headed for the Hof Brau. The police headed them off, giving them direction to move on. After a time some of the soldiers succeeded in getting through the lines and into the building. A crowd of civilian onlookers quickly assembled. The officers became more vigorous in their efforts to keep the street open. A policeman told the mayor to move. He did. He moved over behind an automobile, where he believed he would be out of the way and could get a good view of everything that was going on in front of the building.

Women's Shoes $2.50--$3--$3.50

We have several lines of Women's Shoes which we are closing out at very low prices.

These are high grade shoes and will give extra good service. See them at

Yoran's Shoe Store

THE STORE THAT SELLS GOOD SHOES.

Swift Current, Sask., Canada; Fred of Marcola and Helen and Alice who are both students at the Oregon Agricultural College.

Irish Flag Which Was Taken Is Asked to Be Returned

An Irish flag, thought to be the only one in Eugene, was taken from the armory the night the Canadian officers spoke here, and as it was much valued as a keepsake, the owner, J. A. Morrison, of the Eugene theatre, is very anxious to find it. The emblem, which was a small green flag bearing the words, "Erin Go Braugh," was borrowed by J. E. Shelton to help decorate the building, and was not to be found later. The flag was given Mr. Morrison 25 years ago by a very dear friend. It will be appreciated very much if it be returned or sent to the guard office.

Bids on North Fork Road Laid Over for Few Days

The County court on Saturday afternoon opened the bids for the road building and the bridge at North Fork and laid them over that there might be a more perfect understanding of the terms of the bids before letting the contract. The bids were as follows: Road work, Kenneth McCornack, $16,112; Hall Contracting company, by Ole Soleim, $16,233.30; on bridge, Collier and Stevenson, $1080; L. N. Roney, $1760.

DILLON AND BURDEN CAPTURE GOLF CUPS

Con Dillon and C. A. Burden capture the silver cups put up by the tournament committee, at the matches played at the Country club yesterday. Mr. Dillon won first with gross score of 105 and net of 83, "Prof." Burden got second with a score of 97 and a net of 85.

Other net scores were as follows: Price 87, Miller 88, Rapp 89, Morran 89, Dean 90, Bovard 91, 92, Young 92, Hayes 94, Geo. Schaefer 94, Dunbar 94, R. S. Bryson 95, Pa 90, Hamilton 97, Tiffany 97, McK. Hope 98, Prescott 99, Martin 99, Sen 100, Hobbs 100, Pennington 103, F. X. Schaefer 105, Moody 103, F. X. Schaefer 105, Moody 103, Seitz 109 and Bristow 113.

The final matches in the tournament that has been in progress since the first part of November, played between R. W. Prescott and H. Benn, the latter winning by 5 and 3. The match was up 30 holes at Prescott's score was 203, net 170. Burden's score of 184 was net as he was a man.

Con Dillon won third place in tournament by defeating L. I. Goshaw. Mrs. Paul Law, who has been away with her people at Creswell, returned to her home at Oswego today.

Today and Tuesday Lina Cavaleri - IN - The Eternal Temptress

A Paramount Photoplay.

3rd Episode of The Fighting Trail.

THE REX

Home of the Best.

Get Your House Wired or Re-wired

While our big campaign is on, there is no excuse for you not to have this work done.

Until February 15, we are offering special rates and on the Easy Payment Plan.

Brighten your home, kill the drug-gery, live better, be happier, by using Electricity.

We Furnish Cost Estimates and Can Save You Money.

COMET ELECTRIC COMPANY.

45 NINTH AVE. PHONE 644

6,000 DRESSINGS TO BE MONTHLY OUTPUT

Local Red Cross Is Asked to Furnish Almost Twice Former Output.

Six thousand surgical dressings! This is what the Lane county chapter of the American Red Cross is now called upon to make each month. On an average, 1500 dressings have been the regular output. Now a call has come from the northwest division for an additional 2500 pieces. Today starts a new working month, and it is especially desired that people turn out well tonight and start the month right. The Eugene orchestral band of 12 pieces, directed by Albert Perfect, will play for tonight's workers. The men are asked to come, too, and pick over oakum.

Again the appeal is made for old sheets or other clean old muslin or linen, which can be used as wrappings for the dressings.

The auxiliaries to the local chapter are keeping up their speed in turning out hospital and other garments. Irving leads this week's report with 91 articles. Five hundred and sixty-five articles were turned in Saturday, apportioned as follows:

- Irving, 91; Unity, 10; Santa Clara, 20; Mt. Vernon, 28; College Crest, 14; Alvador, 13; Leunburg, 15; Willing Workers, 8; Unity-Fall Creek, 12; Jasper, 4; Mohawk, 4; Unitarian, 0; Acme, 24; South Fairmount, 8; Wendling, 50; Riverview, 36; Crow, 20; Marcola, 12; Farnell, 10; Dexter-Trent, 14; Elmira, 9; Junction City, 10; Thurston, 23; River Road, 22; Hayden Bridge, 20; Harmony, 10; White Temple, 18; Pleasant Hill, 18; Fir Butte, 14.

For Burning Eczema

Greasy salves and ointments should not be applied if good clear skin is wanted. From any druggist for 35c, or $1.00 for extra large size, get a bottle of zemo. When applied as directed it effectively removes eczema, quickly stops itching, and heals skin troubles, also sores, burns, wounds and chafing. It penetrates, cleanses and soothes. Zemo is a clean, dependable and inexpensive, penetrating, antiseptic liquid. Try it, as we believe nothing you have ever used is as effective and satisfying. The E. W. Rose Co., Cleveland, O.

BLUE BEARD STORY TO BE WELL STAGED

"Ardiane and Barbe Bleue," the story of Blue Beard and his beautiful wives is the play next on the boards for production at Guild hall by the advanced major class in dramatic interpretation under the direction of Professor A. F. Reddie and will be staged Thursday and Friday evenings, January 24 and 25.

Ardiane, the last and most beautiful of the wives, comes to the palace of Barbe Bleue, who according to his usual custom, gave to her the keys to all his treasures. All of them are silver except one of gold which she is forbidden to use. But since she is the type of the new woman, she dares and, on opening the golden door, is taken into the dungeon where she finds the other five wives.