HOME GUARDS TO BE PART OF UNIVERSITY MILITARY SECTION

Colonel Leader Tells Why It Is Necessary to Organize as Battalion in Connection With College.

There will be a second military battalion of the University of Oregon organized at the chamber of commerce Saturday evening, according to the plans of Colonel John Leader and the committee working with him. There is also a battalion planned to be organized at Springfield.

"My address Saturday night will not be to get every man present into the battalion," said Colonel Leader Thursday, "but to keep quitters out. We do not want any man in who is not ready to enlist for the term of the war, and every man joining will be pledged to stick through the war and attend to his duties regularly."

Colonel Leader stated that one of the reasons that the battalion was being organized as a part of the University is that he is a servant of the school and cannot give any time to any organization not a part of the school.

All members of the second battalion will be admitted without any charge except the fee for joining the battalion to any or every lecture or class in the military department of the University.

To Be Liberal Education. "Military drill will form but a small part of the training," Colonel Leader stated. "The course of lectures which will be given three evenings a week will be a liberal education, specializing on military needs."

Another reason which bears upon the necessity of making the battalion a part of the University is the question of discipline. Colonel Leader stated that the battalion officers must have power to expel members of the battalion who fail in their duty or in any way disgrace the organization and if it were merely a home guard attached to nothing attempts to enforce discipline would result in division and disorganization.

"The only members who will be admitted without paying a fee," stated Colonel Leader, "will be members of the hand. They will be expected to furnish their own instruments and this will be accepted in place of the fee.

The fee charged will be placed in a separate fund at the University and will be used solely for the benefit of the battalion.

Many Subjects Taught.

Bayonet fighting, bomb throwing, typography and mapping by lectures, scouting, theory of musketry and practice with sub-calibre arms will be among the branches taught. Members of the University faculty who are now teaching special subjects to the first battalion will also lecture from time to time to the second battalion.

It is planned that the second battalion will meet at the armory for drill and lectures.

A third battalion, on the same lines has been planned for Springfield. Colonel Leader stated Thursday that he had nearly a dozen letters on his desk already regarding battalions or companies in various parts of the state.

One of the imperative reasons urged for the organization is that no man, unless uniformed, has the right under international law to oppose the invasion by an enemy, or to protect the women. "I wish I was at liberty to tell what I know about this enemy and its plans for invasion of the Pacific coast, it would startle the people," Colonel Leader stated.

KNOWS A PRO-GERMAN

Eugene, Or., Feb. 27. Editor Guard:—There is an old character down the River Road on River avenue who is bemoaning the fact that our government is sending men to France just to fight, implying that we have no cause. He is the same old parody on the human race who says with other imprudent slanders, that the Kaiser is a better man than our president.

Girl Suspended From School for Refusal Salute Flag

San Francisco, Feb. 21.—Sixteen-year old Hazel Stewart was suspended from the girls' high school today because she refused to salute the flag with the other students.

"I am a socialist and it is against my belief to salute any flag," declared Miss Stewart.

"I back my daughter's action. All her belief has come through my teachings," was the statement of the girl's mother.

LANE COUNTY WAKES TO THRIFT SAVINGS

Many Stamps Are Being Sold; Schools Take Interest in Drive in County.

Lane county is awakening to the Thrift Stamp call. Word received from outlying points is to the effect that the school children in particular are responding to the invitation put their savings into Uncle Sam's war chest at 4 per cent compound interest.

Following an address made by F. L. Senter, deputy county superintendent of schools at Crow, one day last week, W. J. Holland, clerk of the district school board, came to Eugene Monday with the contents of their little savings banks. The banks were the property of his three children, aged 10, 8 and 6. With the money obtained from these little strong boxes he bought three Savings Certificates, now worth $4.13, placing one to the credit of each.

In Eugene also the children are taking a lively interest in the Thrift Stamps.

A little fellow barely able to see over the stamp window at the postoffice invaded the place yesterday morning with a handful of coppers and nickels.

"I've busted my bank," he said. "Here's my money. Gimme some Thrift Stamps. I want to lick the Kaiser."

His treasure amounted to 77 cents. The little fellow was sent on his way rejoicing with three stamps and his extra two cents.

One Eugene man, George Towner, tobacco dealer, has signed up for one stamp every day of the year. The order was handed by Robert Biddle, Eugene's oldest mail carrier.

All over the country the savings campaign is gaining momentum. Already, according to official announcement, the sales on Thrift Stamps are exceeding $11,000,000 a week. It is pointed out that the increase in savings deposits the country over has been at the rate of $700,000 a day. The stamps, purchased at the rate of $1,500,000 to $2,500,000 a day, are, therefore, being taken at the rate of two and three times the daily increase in savings before the campaign began.

At the meeting of the county campaign committee Tuesday evening F. F. Cooper was appointed to take charge of the drive in Pleasant Hill district, and M. M. Peery at Springfield. These men succeed the original appointees, who find themselves unable to undertake the work.

The speaking campaign was opened last night with an address by County Chairman J. S. Workman, who also is a member of the Four-Minute Men, at the Rex theatre.

DR. ARTHUR WALWYN EVANS. "What America Means to Me" is the attractive title of the lecture being largely used for the present Lyceum season by the distinguished Welsh orator, Dr. Arthur Walwyn Evans, blood relative of the English premier, David Lloyd George. Born and educated in Wales, where he made an enviable record as a preacher and lecturer, Dr. Evans came to America to take the pulpit formerly occupied by the distinguished author and preacher, Dr. Edward a Stolner, at Springfield, O. Here his work attracted the attention of Lyceum bureau managers, and the calls for his services became so insistent that he resigned his pastorate to devote his entire time to lecturing. In the past four years he has filled almost 1,200 engagements. His lectures, bubbling over with wit and humor, are none the less thrillingly patriotic in character and should be heard by every American. "What America Means to Me" is a lecture from the heart of a man who sees clearly and speaks fearlessly, and while it makes folks laugh it makes them think seriously and deeply and feel a new affection for their country. Dr. Evans will speak on the Lyceum course here in the near future.

Mrs. Hugh Ham of this city left Wednesday for a visit in Portland.

The Hotel Osburn will give a Dinner Dance on Washington's Birthday, Friday evening, from 7 to 10 o'clock. Dinner 75c per plate. 122

SIMPSON ANNOUNCES POLITICAL CREED

Candidate for Governor Tells What He Will Do If Honored by Oregon Voters.

Louis J. Simpson, of North Bend, announcement of whose candidacy for the republican nomination for governor appears in The Guard today, sets forth his platform of political creed and pledges himself to the people in the following statement.

"I am a republican and believe in the principles of the republican party, and above everything, I am an American and believe in the principles of my country. I am not a member of, nor affiliated with, any particular faction or part of the republican party; nor am I pledged to support any of the candidates for office at the coming primary election. I pledge the people of Oregon, that, in conducting my campaign, I will not support any particular candidate for office in preference to the other candidate for the same office; that I will not promise appointment to office or political patronage to anyone; that if nominated and elected I shall enter office with neither promise nor pledge to redeem, except those which I give to the people themselves; reserving the right to make such appointments and to conduct the office with whatever unprejudiced independence the best interests of the people of Oregon and the development, peace and welfare of the state shall demand. If the voters decide that they do not desire that I be their candidate, I will give my undivided support to the republican candidate of their choice.

"I shall, as far as possible, make a personal campaign, with the object of meeting as many individuals as time will permit, and shall endeavor to establish and maintain a close personal relationship with the people of the state, so that I may the better know and understand their needs and requirements."

Loyalty is First Obligation. "In the present struggle for world peace, democracy and the very existence of the nation itself, the first solemn obligation of every man, woman and child is to the land of their birth or adoption. Faithful to that obligation, Oregon is proud of its contribution in men, money, food, lumber and ships. The entire wealth and all of the resources of the state have been placed at the disposal of the government, and if nominated and elected I shall accord the nation and the administration that full and complete measure of support and assistance which its patriotic citizenship has already exacted.

"The people of Oregon have placed upon the state books certain laws which, if nominated and elected, I shall, with all the power and authority of the office of governor, rigidly and uncompromisingly enforce. The spirit of the times and the vital importance of statewide prosecution of the government's war activities require that law and order shall prevail. I shall consider it my sacred duty to preserve such a condition.

Favors Eight-hour Day. "I favor the establishment of a national, universal eight-hour day for all classes of labor except for agriculture, the very nature of which makes it impossible to restrict the working hours to any set number.

"I am firmly convinced that the progress, prosperity and development of Oregon demands that all lines of business, with due consideration for the absolute necessity of practicing most rigid economy, be maintained as nearly normal as war conditions will permit; and that public expenditures should be limited to actual necessities, under no circumstances permitting private or public improvement to interfere with the successful prosecution of the war.

Favors Military Highway. "I favor the comprehensive improvement and construction of roads, particularly the main or trunk highways, which are of themselves military necessities, and I believe that during the war this work should be prosecuted only with the consent and approval of the national government. I favor the construction of an adequate system of military highways for the defense of the Pacific coast, and believe that the national government should undertake such construction immediately upon the termination of the war, so that those resources, upon which the nation is so largely depending in prosecuting the war, will be properly conserved and protected, and further as a means of affording employment for the hundreds of thousands of soldiers during the period of readjustment or until such time as the productive activities of peace will require their employment.

Stands for Prohibition. "If nominated and elected I shall encourage and support such legislation as may be necessary for the establishment of nation-wide prohibition and the permanent adoption of equal suffrage in the state and nation.

"I shall endeavor at all times to create and stimulate that patriotic cooperation between employer and employee rendered so necessary by the strenuous conditions of war and so essential to the progress and advancement of the state.

Will Promote Development. "With a knowledge and appreciation of the enormous natural resources of Oregon I shall endeavor to promote development of those resources through establishment of new industries and by encouraging settlers and urging such legislation as well as tend to make living conditions better for them and for the thousands of workers and laborers throughout the state.

"In administering the office of the state's highest executive, I shall consistently endeavor to give to Oregon an impartial, clean, economical and business-like administration, an administration which will have as its ideal the greatest possible advancement of the moral, social and economic prosperity of the people of the state, and through an ever-increasing development of its tremendous resources keep Oregon at the top in the vast fabric of our national life."
