

Poise

POISE is the art of holding one's self correctly. It is the object of the "setting up" exercises of all armies, resulting in the military carriage so universally admired.

Poise is erectness, dignity and suggestion of height.

Poise means free breathing, unimpeded circulation, better health, greater strength and less fatigue.

Poise is stateliness and grace.

Poise, in social life, gives distinction, presence and an air of patrician breeding.

Poise commands respect, and deference; it is an asset of all social leaders—women who direct and accomplish.

Physical poise begets mental poise, just as a healthy body begets a normal mind.

Correct poise is attained and natural poise is improved through the wearing of Modart Front Laced Corsets.

Modart Corsets are poise-designed. The correct poise they give the figure at the time they are fitted is maintained by the use of the lightest of clock-spring boning which yields yet restrains—which does not become "set"—that is, it does not stay permanently bent.

Poise—designing, as it is found in the Modart alone, gives you a corset that will bring out all the graceful lines of style and beauty that the designers of your gowns and suits created in them.

Poise—designing, by holding the body correctly, gives you a corset that is supremely comfortable.

The best stores everywhere, for the fourteenth successive season, are featuring Modarts, the poise-designed corset.

They ask you to accept a Free Trial Fitting of the Modart model that has been poise-designed for your figure.

Make this test, which costs you nothing, and you will immediately see why social leaders, famous actresses, beautiful women, everywhere, proclaim the Modart their ideal corset.
