Wild Scene in Reichstag Is Caused by Socialists

Zurich, Switzerland, March 21.—Wild scenes in the German reichstag on Tuesday are described by the Munich Zeitung, copies of which were received here today.

senting the vice-president's contradictions of Doctor Ledebour's criticisms of the Russian peace treaty, rushed toward the chair, shouting and gesticulating. Quiet was restored by floor officers.

Doctor Ledebour is one of the major socialist leaders.

RESULTS OF SECOND JUDGING ANNOUNCED

Three Portland Architects Come to Eugene to Pass on University Students' Work.

Results of the second judging this term of problems of the University architectural students Wednesday resulted as follows: Seniors' problem, "Small Memorial Art Museum": A. G. Stanton, first; Herbert Heywood and C. Sengstake, tied for second; domestic architecture, "A Governor's Mansion": Stanton and M. L. Allen, tied for first; seniors' problem, "City Planning for Eugene": Stanton, first; Sengstake, second, and Heywood, third; sophomore design, "A Temple of Love": L. Ellis, first; H. Johnston and G. Jenkins, tied for second; I. G. Smith, third, and H. Foulkes, fourth; sketch problem, "A Belfry of a Small Country Church": I. G. Smith, first; Hugh Thompson and Heywood, tied for second, and Joe Trowbridge, third.

Three prominent Portland architects, E. F. Mische, former superintendent of Portland parks; W. C. Holford, of the architecture firm of Lawrence & Holford, and Wade Pipes, specialist in domestic architecture, composed the jury. Wednesday night the judges were honor guests at a dinner in Hendricks hall, at which the members of the architecture club were hosts. At 8 o'clock a small informal reception was held in the studio of the architecture building honoring the visiting architects. Mr. Mische spoke on city planning and criticized the re-plans of Eugene made by the seniors of the school of architecture.

Former Soldier to Talk at Club's Social Night

On the night of April 1, the social bureau of the chamber of commerce will be host to members and their friends. The big drawing card which has been secured for that occasion will be a talk by Private Donald Skene, a Portland boy, who was formerly an ambulance driver with the Canadian army. This is the club's regular social night and there will be other numbers on the program and dancing.

Private Skene saw much service in France, among other engagements being present at the big fight of Hill 304. He was recently discharged from the army but says he is going back. He says he is going to carry a gun this time and be able to shoot back at the Hun. He was shot at many times while in service but being an ambulance driver could not have the satisfaction of shooting back.

Skene is a son of Dr. W. H. Skene, a prominent Portland physician and surgeon of Portland.

SAGE TEA KEEPS YOUR HAIR DARK

When Mixed with Sulphur It Brings Back Its Beautiful Lustre at Once.

Gray hair, however handsome, denotes advancing age. We all know the advantages of a youthful appearance. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray and looks streaked, just a few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold.

Don't stay gray! Look young! Either prepare the recipe at home or get from any drug store a 50-cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which is merely the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients. Thousands of folks recommend this ready-to-use preparation, because it darkens the hair beautifully, besides, no one can possibly tell, as it darkens so naturally and evenly. You moisten a sponge or soft brush with it, drawing this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, its natural color is restored and it becomes thick, glossy and lustrous, and you appear years younger.

FORMER SECRETARY IS NOW IN FRANCE

Charles W. Koyl, Now With the American Forces in France, Writes to Karl Onthank.

Charles W. Koyl, former secretary of the campus Y. M. C. A., who is now occupying a similar position in France with the American troops, has written many interesting sidelights back to Karl Onthank, on things as they are seen from the outside looking in. He has been able to send back a great deal of interesting information which would perhaps never have gotten by the censor if written by a trooper, and tells of an exciting excursion to the submarine base at Brest, in the letter, parts of which follows:

"Brest, France, Feb. 6, 1918. "Dear Karl: It seems like ages since I received your letter early last fall, but I have been through ages of work and difficulties since then.

"Very little real news reaches us here in France, as we labor day and night every day in the week with the men and boys who are going to sure get 'Kaiser Bill.' And so, still less news reaches me about my dear Alma Mater and my host of friends in Oregon. I recently met three boys whom I had known in the University while acting as secretary of the Y. M. C. A., and we were very glad, indeed, to meet.

"Meets Barnhart in Engineers. "The one I met yesterday was Barnhart, now in an engineering company. On day while down at the station with a couple of helpers and a great quantity of apples, chocolate bars and flowers, to give to our entraining soldiers just off transports, I yelled out to the thousand and more men, 'Anyone here from Oregon?' One lone fellow shot his hand into the air, and we made for each other through juicy mud. At 40 feet our pace increased, for we recognized each other.

"These men were hustled into small freight cars,—cars which must surely have been the type and size used by Noah's great-grandfather for hog pens,—given three days' rations and shut in. The cars were labeled, 'Eight cows or 42 men,'—only in French, of course,—but the entraining officer had orders to endeavor to get 45 men if possible into these cigar boxes. They did have small wooden benches also.

"Big Business Done. "This afore-mentioned episode was in the early days—last November, when I was doing everything from selling cigarettes, etc., to exchanging for our men some $4000 a day into French money. Now $12,000 worth is a normal day's business in the exchange section of our association. I also had to be floor manager of our association restaurants from 4 to 8 each evening, in those memorable days of awful cold and dire shortage of secretaries.

"Well, I am now divisional as well as local athletic director, with a separate building equipped as a 'gym' under my care and supervision, as well as three baseball diamonds, eleven tennis courts, two running tracks, and an officers' gym. I have just put across the first third of a successful basketball tournament, with 23 teams competing furiously, and representing ships, made-over yachts, pogy-boats, destroyers and army barracks.

"Forty Baseball Teams. "We will have at least 40 baseball teams in our baseball schedule. Yea! I have some job; about the biggest and most responsible around here, for I give these men the only real exercise they receive, especially these brave men who are clearing the seas of 'Mr. Sub-Fritz.' I know first-hand how these men face death every trip out to sea, because I made a trip up into the English channel on one of the smaller made-over yachts to do conveying and to drop pills on Fritz-sub. I did feed the 5000 and more; six meals a day on these 'ships', i. e., three down and three up and aft. Four genuine submarine alarms on this trip—just two days after the Alcedo was sunk out here, and we were filling her boats and with one of her lifeboats on our starboard—two were fakes, though real eye-openers; the third was a submarine at 20 feet, but too close and low to put a spike into our load of explosives, and we were too close to drill her with a bunk of steel, and going too slowly to drop a sugar-coated pill on her tenderloins.

"Within 50 Feet of Mine. "The fourth was one of those 'terrible' mines laid by those very efficient hens of the sea, and it was altogether too pesky close, 50 feet. After the sub affair the boys on the forward watch asked me if I wanted a tin of hot coffee as an 'eye-opener.' Well, I took it most cheerfully, but not as an 'eye opener.' Tell some of my friends to cut loose and come across with a bunch of letters. They are very much needed.

"If I ever get any cold cash about further than my next meal of teeth breaking, stomach-destroying war bread, allas wood pulp or old shoe leather, I will most assuredly endow the French department.

"I saw it while in Paris that at least one Oregon man had his name on the register of the University club of men of the American army and navy (Over here we secretaries are militarized and wear semi-officers' uniforms.)

"With best wishes to President Campbell and faculty, I am most cordially, "CHARLES W. KOYL, "Y. M. C. A., U. S. Army P. O. 710."

Local Boy Scout City Council Formed Here

At a meeting held at 5 o'clock Tuesday night at the city Y. M. C. A., a local city council for the Eugene Boy Scouts was formed, in order that the scouts may more effectively carry on their work as a part of the national organization. Such a council is a necessary part of a scout organization which is a branch of the national body. As soon as the council application goes in, the Eugene boys will receive a charter.

Dandruff Soon Ruins the Hair

Girls—if you want plenty of thick, beautiful, glossy, silky hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for it will starve your hair and ruin it if you don't. It doesn't do much good to try to brush or wash it out. The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips. By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it.
