

GOVERNOR WILL BE CANDIDATE AGAIN

James Withycombe Announces His Desire for Renomination at Hands of Party.

James Withycombe has made formal announcement of his candidacy for the republican nomination for governor to succeed himself. This action was not unexpected and the announcement comes more as a formality than otherwise. In announcing his candidacy Governor Withycombe issues a long statement of his platform and his aims if re-elected. He has served four years in the office, having been nominated and elected in 1914. His statement in part follows:

"If the people of Oregon are of the opinion that I have served them faithfully, I should be pleased to receive a vote of confidence at their hands."

Will Support President.

"Under our form of government the conduct of a foreign war devolves on the president of the United States, who is the commander-in-chief of the army and navy. I shall do everything in my power to assist the president in making the power of this country effective in the great world conflict. I shall particularly exercise every power and authority which I possess to promote a maximum efficiency in our local industries which are related to the war activities. No other duty is so pressing or at this time so important as that of winning the war. No sacrifice is too great if it leads to the triumph of the forces battling for international righteousness."

Would Enforce Laws.

"I shall stand in the future, as in the past, for rigid law enforcement and for a cleaner and greater Oregon."

"Oregon is firmly committed to the principles of prohibition and equal suffrage and, while they are no longer issues in this state, I shall continue to give these causes my full support."

"Every legitimate phase of state development should be supported, but at this time when our country is engaged in the most terrible war in the world's history the most rigid economy should be observed.

"I shall be mindful of the fact that I am the representative of the whole people and shall welcome suggestions from any citizen to the end that the collective wisdom may be brought to bear on all problems."

"If honored by a re-election I shall continue to give the best that is in me to every branch of the public service."

Minneapolis Club Offers $125,000 for Ring Battle

Chicago, March 21.—Minneapolis today appeared to have the inside track for the Jess Willard-Fred Fulton fight of July 4. With an offer of $125,000 a Minneapolis club asked the right to hold the fight in an open arena between the Twin Cities. Mike Collins, Fulton's manager, is said to have a share in the club.

The possibility that the championship fight will be for 10 rounds only was seen in the serious consideration of this offer. Minnesota permits only 10-round fights, but may allow a decision.

Next Tuesday in Chicago was set as the date for drawing up the formal agreement between Willard and Fulton.

Carpenters in Butte Will Not Strike During Period of War

Butte, Mont., March 21.—Butte carpenters will not strike nor ask wage increases during the remainder of the period of the war. A resolution to this effect has been adopted by the carpenters' union, the Building Trades Council was informed today.

PORTLAND MAN INJURED

Portland, Ore., March 21.—A mysterious shrapnel explosion at a Texas training camp seriously injured Ezra J. Mears, Portland man, according to word received by his mother today. With his unit, Mears was on a 12-mile hike, and he was assisting in preparation of a meal when a shrapnel shell behind the stove exploded, injuring three men. It is not known how the shell got behind the stove.

KLAMATH COUNTY HAS COURT HOUSE CONTEST

Proposal to Abandon One Structure After Spending $180,000 Is Issue.

Klamath Falls, Or., March 21.—Klamath county's old contention, the location of the court house—developed into yet another fight today, with a suit on file in the circuit court to prevent the court from proceeding with its plan of abandoning the partially completed structure in Hot Springs addition after expenditures of $180,000 and erecting a new building on the site of the present courthouse. A second recall is under way.

A contract for construction of an entirely new courthouse was made yesterday with a Portland firm, Commissioner Burrell Short refusing to sign the contract. The court contends that it will be cheaper to build a new building than finish the partially completed structure.

Petitions asking the recall of County Judge Marion Hanks and Commissioner Frank McCormack are in circulation. If this election is called, it will be the second within five years growing out of the courthouse feud. In the preceding recall election an attempt was made to remove Judge Worden, who started the courthouse on the Hot Springs site, but although this failed, bitterness engendered over the court house resulted in his denial for re-election a year later.

WILL PLANT TREES ON SCHOOL GROUNDS

Board of Education Authorizes Beautification of Condon and Patterson Parkways.

The board of education of Eugene at an adjourned meeting held Thursday night passed a resolution authorizing the Eugene park board to purchase trees and have them set in the parkways surrounding the Patterson and Condon school grounds, the expense to be paid out of the school funds.

This action was taken in response to a request from the members of the park board and others who have been instrumental in the campaign for the beautification of the city.

The other school buildings all have trees in the park rows.

BROTHER BILL WILL BE SOLD IN EUGENE

Portland, Or., March 21.—"I am Bill, the Red Cross sheep. Feed me, water me, care for me, buy me liberally and give me back to the Red Cross—they need the money."

With this legend on his cage, Brother Bill, prize sheep, dedicated to the raising of money for Red Cross societies of Oregon, has begun an interesting tour, soon to land him in Portland. Brother Bill, sold and resold at auction at Bend last Saturday night, brought into the treasury of the Bend Red Cross chapter more than $4800, and the amount will yet be made $5000. This is the pledge of W. C. Birdsall, owner of the Pilot Inn, of Bend, who arrived in Portland yesterday.

Bill's itinerary is Redmond, Prineville, Madras, The Dalles, Hood River, Heppner, Pendleton, Baker, Portland, Astoria, Eugene, Salem and Medford. At each city the big sheep is to be sold at auction or used in other ways for raising funds for the local Red Cross chapter.

5000 Copies of "The Finished Mystery" Found in Portland

Portland, Or., March 21.—Discovery of boxes containing 5000 copies of "The Finished Mystery," the proscribed publication of the International Bible Students' association, was reported to federal authorities today. The books were found in a storeroom by police seeking bootleg whiskey caches.

Recently, when attempts were made to circulate this book, the federal authorities branded it as seditious, and prohibited its distribution in Oregon.

SICK WIFE'S STORY SURPRISES EUGENE

The following has surprised Eugene: A business man's wife suffered from dyspepsia and constipation for years. Although she dieted, she was so bloated her clothes would not fit. ONE SPOONFUL buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., as mixed in Adler-ika relieved her INSTANTLY. Because Adler-ika empties BOTH large and small intestine it relieves ANY CASE constipation, sour stomach or gas, and prevents appendicitis. It has QUICKEST action of anything we ever sold. Hot Water Each Morning Puts Roses in Your Cheeks

To look one's best and feel one's best is to enjoy an inside bath each morning to flush from the system the previous day's waste, sour fermentations and poisonous toxins before it is absorbed into the blood. Just as coal, when it burns, leaves behind a certain amount of incombustible material in the form of ashes, so the food and drink taken each day leaves in the alimentary organs a certain amount of indigestible material, which, if not eliminated, forms toxins and poisons which are then sucked into the blood through the very ducts which are intended to suck in only nourishment to sustain the body.

If you want to see the glow of healthy bloom in your cheeks, to see your skin get clearer and clearer, you are told to drink every morning upon arising, a glass of hot water, with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, which is a harmless means of washing the waste material and toxins from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary tract, before putting more food into the stomach.

Girls and women with sallow skins, liver spots, pimples or pallid complexion, also those who wake up with a coated tongue, bad taste, nasty breath, others who are bothered with headaches, bilious spells, acid stomach or constipation, should begin this phosphated hot water drinking and are assured of very pronounced results in one or two weeks.

A quarter pound of limestone phosphate costs very little at the drug store, but is sufficient to demonstrate that just as soap and hot water cleanses, purifies and freshens the skin on the outside, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the inside organs. We must always consider that internal sanitation is vastly more important than outside cleanliness, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, while the bowel pores do.

Women who desire to enhance the beauty of their complexion should just try this for a week and notice results.—Adv.

MARKET GARDENER IS PRACTICAL IN TALK

F. B. Chase Answers Many Questions Put by Gardeners at Junior High School.

F. B. Chase, the well known market gardener, gave one of the most practical talks upon gardening which has been heard in Eugene in a long time.

Mr. Chase began by advising people to plant the varieties of vegetables they wanted for their own use; not to plant what some one advised. Also to plant no more of any variety than would be used. If the family was to be away from home during the vacation season the planting should be confined to vegetables which would be ready for use before leaving or not until after they came back.

He strongly urged against trying to handle the ground while it was too wet in the spring and advised spading up the garden in the fall and planting it with vetch for a winter dressing, turning it under in the spring.

After his talk he answered a large number of questions as to details of culture and how to economize space, fight pests, etc.

W. S. Carpenter, of the O. A. C. extension department, who was present, stated that he considered it one of the best talks of the kind which he ever heard.

There was also the singing of national songs and music by the Junior high school orchestra.

City Superintendent W. R. Rutherford was unable to be present and his talk upon drainage and beautification of school grounds will be given at some future meeting.

Baker Reviews

mud, but the drivers by superhuman effort maintained their even place in the line.

It was an exhibition marking the passing of the American army from purely a force establishment to one of the world's real fighting forces.

Baker Addresses Officers.

After the review, Baker addressed the officers, saying:

"You are at the point of the wedge, at the base of which America's entire power is being applied, through the army."

The officers passed in single file, shaking hands with their commander-in-chief. Baker asked every officer his name, if his superior was not there to introduce him or if the officer did not mention his name himself.

A drizzling rain began during the reception. Baker stood through it, bare-headed and smiling.

Addressing the first division of regulars, who had been in the front lines, Baker said:

"If I have any advice to give you, it's strike hard and shoot straight."

The secretary lauded New England troops, who had been in the trenches. He declared all the divisions, whether national guard, regulars or national army men, were all part of the homogenous national force.

Regulars First to Arrive.

Baker pointed out that the first division of regulars was the first to arrive in France. He said the division was "regular in name only"—sixty per cent of its personnel being recruits, while the majority of its officers were reserves.

"Yours was the first experience in all the initial details of adjusting yourselves to new and strange conditions," he said.

"If sometimes the discipline seems wearying to you now, you must know you would have paid for its lack with your lives."

"The better you're trained, the more valuable you are to your country as a fighter."

"On every hand, I am told that you are prepared to fight to the end. I see this spirit in your faces. You may depend on us at home to stand by you, in a spirit worthy of yours."

"From the day of my arrival in France I heard praise of the New England division which made good in its initial experience in the trenches, in a manner which guarantees it will be equal to all emergencies."

"The division was trained rapidly. Some of its members probably descended from the minutemen and from Ethan Allen's moutaineers, whose fathers came to America before the revolutionary war. They have an opportunity to prove the quality of Americanism in the descendants of the pilgrims."

"After a long period of peace, commercial success and comfort, some skeptics feared we had grown soft."

"I shall send home a message from the men in France who have given up their comfortable home life for the trenches, that we had not."

Standing on the plateau among the generals after the review, Baker's inevitable pipe appeared, a tin tobacco box flashed from his pocket and he lighted up.

Baker then called on a French general, who complimented the American troops on their appearance.

Later the secretary and Pershing visited Joan of Arc's birthplace, passing from room to room in tow of an aged French woman, who acquainted them with the intimate history of the place.

Earlier in the day, Baker had been photographed with Carlisle Babcock, a private in the marines. In civil life, back in Cleveland, the Babcocks and Bakers are great friends.

The day's events terminated Baker's visit to the war section. He departed to complete other phases of his trip.

"It Sure Does the Work."

Changeable weather and wet feet make March a dangerous month for coughs, cold, croup and whooping cough. Be prepared to get prompt relief. Don't let a cold run into serious sickness. Mrs. W. H. Thornton, 3223 W. 10th St., Little Rock, Ark., writes: "My little boy had a severe attack of croup and I honestly believe he would have died if it had not been for Foley's Honey and Tar. Two doses relieved him. I would not be without it at any price." Sold everywhere.—Adv.

Portland Will Send Roses to Beautify Camp Lewis

Portland, Or., March 21.—Even Portland roses are to help win the war.

Requests for slips and bushes from the "Rose City" have been made by troops stationed at Camp Lewis for use in beautifying the camp which is to be a permanent cantonment. A big shipment is being prepared today by local rose fanciers.

Shortage of Cars Forces Shingle Mills to Close

Aberdeen, Wash., March 21.—Owing to car shortage, practically every shingle mill in the Grays Harbor district is closed today, causing several hundred shingle weavers to be idle.
