Los Angeles Examiner Is Charged With Disloyalty

Los Angeles, Cal., June 7.—Charges that the Los Angeles Examiner is "disloyal and a dangerous influence in this city" were read at a meeting of the California Loyal League at the city hall in a report by the investigating committee of the allies' committee of Los Angeles. The allies' committee comprises consular representatives and citizens of allied nations and a number of Americans.

chapter to the accomplishments of our troops, which are playing the role of General Gallieni's famous "taxicab army" in this second battle of the Marne.

Feet Is Impressive.

The official report of the commanding general reveals the feet is fully as impressive as first reported.

Receiving orders to move from the region of Gisors at 5 p. m. on May 30, they departed by rail and motor truck.

At 5:30 a. m. the next day the first of them had arrived in the rear lines. Gisors is an important railway junction.

35 miles north of Paris and 75 miles west of Chateau-Thierry in an air line. The journey by rail and highway probably was more than 100 miles.

Late that afternoon the situation was most critical. The French urged that the Americans be sent into the line immediately, as the enemy was marching along the road to Paris.

Our men went into the line at midnight, taking up positions at Chateau-Thierry. At 9 a. m. on June 1, a thousand Americans were barring the road.

Every man carried two days' rations and ammunition.

Americans Fill Gap.

On the night of June 1, the French reported a gap of four kilometers (two and a half miles) in the line near Gisors (10 miles west and north of Chateau-Thierry, and a mile northwest of Neuilly-La-Poterie). Another attack was expected any moment.

A regiment of machine gunners and engineers were aroused from their sleep and filled the gap. There came an urgent call for artillery ammunition. A truck train made a 45-mile trip and returned with ammunition in 18 hours, bringing in 32 truckloads.

On June 4 and 5 came the German attacks, previously reported. On the 5th all artillery was in position and firing on the enemy.

Following the repulse of attacks, the Americans delivered their own offensives on the 6th and 7th, taking numerous prisoners and considerable territory.

The general report concludes with the statement that, considering the movement involved, the repulse of those attacks and the successful conclusion of two counter-attacks, all within two days, "the men conformed to the best traditions of the army and are meeting all demands made."
