

UNIVERSITY CAST READY TO PUT ON ROSTAND COMEDY

Preparations Complete for Production in Open-Air Theater on Skinner's Butte—Artistic Treat Promised.

In the presentation of Rostand's heroic comedy, "Cyrano de Bergerac," Friday evening, the dramatic work of the University will show their work for the year. The play will be given on the north side of Skinner's Butte, in the natural amphitheatre, constructed there several years ago for the use of the University dramatic classes, but never used. Those who have visited the outdoor theatre will speak in terms of high praise of its beauty, and it is considered a marked achievement for the production of such a play as "Cyrano."

The dress rehearsal, held Wednesday evening in Villard hall, revealed to Mr. Reddie, who is directing the production, little points still requiring touching up, and the remaining time to Friday evening is to be devoted to this purpose. A finished production expected by those who have seen serious work done by the classes in their previous efforts this year.

The title role is carried by Mr. Reddie, a part is one of the heaviest he has undertaken in years, ranking in its extent with his "King Lear" and "Peer Gynt" of former days. Humor, heroics, expressed emotion, all these are required of Cyrano, and just how well Mr. Reddie succeeds in carrying this load in addition to directing the production will be seen Friday night. This part is known to followers of the theatre as one worthy the best efforts of the great Coquelin and Richard Mansfield.

The leading woman's part of Roxane is taken by Miss Margaret Crosby, of the senior class, whose record in the dramatic work has been brilliant. This is the role taken early in her career by Margaret Anglin, 29 years ago, which gave Miss Anglin her first long lift toward the high place she holds in the histrionic world.

Norvell Thompson, one of the few freshmen who has a prominent part in the play, will be Ragueneau, the pastry cook, who furnishes a good bit of the comedy. Mr. Thompson received much praise for his comedy work in "O'Flaherty, V. C.," the one-act play put on for the home guard benefit a few weeks ago. Other well known figures in campus dramatic circles who have parts are Miss Amy Carson, Miss Ruth Young, Mrs. Helen Bracht Maurice, Miss Rosamund Shaw, Mrs. Emma Wootton Hall, Miss Hester Hurd, Miss Cornelia Heess, Miss Ruth Rothrock, Miss Della McDaniel, Robert McNary, Tracy Byers, Norman Phillips, David Lloyd Stearns, Henry Foster.

The play itself stands as one of the masterpieces of French dramatic literature. Beautiful in theme and phrasing, it offers also abundant opportunity for scenic splendor, and the amphitheatre on the butte gives a chance to make the most of this.

Admission, of course, is free to all, and the University invites everyone to the open-air theatre. The performance will start at 7:30 o'clock sharp. Seats have been cut in the hillside for the accommodation of an enormous crowd. No board seats, however, are provided, and it is suggested that all attending carry with them cushions, and also heavy wraps, or something of the sort, to keep them warm, as the north side of the butte is sure to be rather cool in the evening. The theatre may be reached by auto from either side of the butte—by way of High street on the east or Lincoln street on the west. Pedestrians can conveniently go in by the trail from Pearl street, or up over the butte from Willamette.

THIN PEOPLE SHOULD TAKE PHOSPHATE

Put Like Plain Bitro-Phosphate to Work On Firm, Healthy Flesh and To Increase Strength, Vigor and Nerve Force.

Judging from the countless preparations and treatments which are continually being advertised for the purpose of making thin people fleshy, depicting arched necks and bust, and revealing ugly hollows and angles by the curved lines of health and beauty, there are evidently thousands of men and women who keenly feel their excess-thinness.

Thinness and weakness are usually due to starved nerves. Our bodies need phosphorus than is contained in certain foods. Physicians claim there is nothing that will supply this deficiency so well as the organic phosphate known as "bitro-phosphate," which is inexpensive and is sold by all druggists under a guarantee of satisfaction or money back. By feeding the nerves directly and by supplying the body cells with the necessary phosphoric food elements, bitro-phosphate quickly produces a welcome transformation in the appearance; the increase in weight frequently being astonishing.

This increase in weight also carries with it a general improvement in the health. Nervousness, sleeplessness and lack of energy, which nearly always accompany excessive thinness, soon disappear, dull eyes become bright, and cheeks glow with the bloom of perfect health.

CAUTION:—Although bitro-phosphate is unsurpassed for relieving nervousness, sleeplessness and general weakness, it should not, owing to its remarkable flesh-growing properties, be used by anyone who does not desire to put on flesh.

"Mr. Bob" is Payed at Thurston for Red Cross

The Eugene high school senior class play, "Mr. Bob," was repeated on Wednesday evening, June 12th at Thurston for the benefit of the Red Cross. The members of the cast were glad to be able to turn over to the Thurston Red Cross auxiliary, as a result of the evening performance, over $15 clear. A good-sized audience greeted the performers and enjoyed the evening. The players declare the evening to have been one of the jolliest they ever spent. A picnic supper, the fun of the performance itself, and luncheon, as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Chess, after the return home in the evening, made the day one of enjoyment long to be remembered by all the students and others concerned. The following was the cast participating:

Phillip Cecene Farris
Mr. Brown Warren Kays
Jenkins, the butler Gordon Oustad
Marion, "Mr. Bob" Ruth Tuck
Katherine Felsie Marsh
Miss Luke, "Aunt Becky"
..... Florence Burnet
Patty, the Maid Estelle Johnson
Coach Victor P. Morris
Chaperones, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Chess

The cast wishes to thank, also, all those helping them in staging the performance, Mr. George Korn, Delbert Faust and others.

PROPER AMOUNT OF SUBSTITUTES TOLD
The following weights and measures and other directions for using substitutes instead of wheat flour have been sent out by the United States department of agriculture and are recommended by Miss Ruth Corbett, the county home economics agent.

These weights and measures were tested in the Experimental Kitchen of the United States Food administration, Home Conservation Division, and of the United States Department of Agriculture, office of Home Economics.

In substituting for one cup of flour use the following measurements. Each is equal in weight to a cup of flour.

Barley	1 3-8 cup
Buckwheat	7-8 cup
Corn flour	1 cup (scant)
Corn meal (coarse)	7-8 cup
Corn meal (fine)	1 cup (scant)
Cornstarch	3-4 cup
Peanut flour	1 cup (scant)
Potato flour	3-4 cup
Rice flour	7-8 cup
Roller oats (ground in meat chopper)	1 1-8 cups
Soy-bean flour	7-8 cup
Sweet potato flour	1 1-8 cups

This table will help you to make good griddle cakes, muffins, cakes, cookies, drop biscuits, and nut or raisin bread without using any wheat flour.

You will not need new recipes. Just use the ones your family has always liked, but for each cup of flour use the amount of substitute given in the table. You can change your muffin recipe like this:

Old Recipe.
2 cups wheat flour
4 teaspoons baking powder
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon sugar
1 cup milk
1 egg
1 tablespoon fat

New Recipe.
1 3-8 cups barley flour
1 cup (scant) corn flour
4 teaspoons baking powder
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon sugar
1 cup milk
1 egg
1 tablespoon fat.

The only difference is the substitution for the wheat flour. Everything else remains the same. You can change all of your recipes in a similar way.

Good Combinations of Substitutes.
You will get better results if you mix two substitutes than if you use just one alone. Some good combinations are:

- 1. Rolled oats (ground), or Barley flour or Buckwheat flour or Peanut flour or Soy-bean flour and Corn Flour or Rice flour or Potato flour or Sweet potato flour or Corn meal.

Cautions.

1. All measurements should be accurate. A standard measuring cup is equal to a half pint.
2. The batter often looks too thick, and sometimes too thin, but you will find that if you have measured as given in the table the result will be good after baking.
3. Bake all substitute mixtures more slowly and longer.
4. Drop biscuits are better than the rolled biscuits, when substitutes are used.
5. Pie crusts often do not roll well and have to be patted on to the pan. They do not need chilling before baking.

The location of the office and the scope of its duties will be announced by Mr. Armitage within a few days, when he received his credentials and instructions.
