EASY TO DARKEN YOUR GRAY HAIR

You Can Bring Back Color and Lustre with Sage Tea and Sulphur.

When you darken your hair with Sage Tea and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it's done so naturally, so evenly. Preparing this mixture, though, at home is messy and troublesome. For 50 cents you can buy at any drug store the ready-to-use preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients, called "Weyth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning all gray hair disappears, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully darkened, glossy and luxuriant.

Unusual Rore For W. S. Hart in His New Photoplay of Arizona, "Selfish Yates."

THOMAS H. INCE Presents WILLIAM S. HART in "Selfish Yates" An ARTCRAFT Picture

At the Rex Theatre Tuesday and Wednesday

In "Selfish Yates," a new photoplay featuring William S. Hart, the Thomas H. Ince star, whose western characterization has become motion picture classic, Mr. Hart has a new and intensely interesting role, that of a dive keeper in a mining town in Arizona, whose selfishness is his stock-in-trade. Yates' theory is that his own personal interests should engage his attention solely and refraining from interfering in the business of others, he sternly prohibits anyone else from interfering with his.

One day a young woman of the loftiest character enters into the sphere of his existence and by her purity and softness effects a spiritual regeneration in this ruffianly character. This is not accomplished without trouble on his part, but after a series of thrilling incidents, some of them unusually dramatic and pathetic, and he comes to a realization of his great love for this girl.

There are numerous captivating scenes which throw a historical light upon the early mining days in Arizona and in which Mr. Hart moves with compelling and artistic effect. Mr. Hart's characterization of "Selfish" Yates, which will be seen at the Rex theatre Monday, will stand as one of the greatest he has ever attempted. Mr. Hart himself directed the production and he is supported by a cast of capable players.

When my eyes shall be turned to behold for the last time the sun in heaven, may I not see him shining on the broken and dishonored fragments of a once glorious Union, on states dismembered, discordant, belligerent; on a land rent with civil feuds, or drenched it may be, in fraternal blood.—Daniel Webster.

I only regret that I have but one life to lose for my country.—Nathan Hale.
