TURKEYS FIRM AT 47 CENTS

Portland, Ore., Dec. 21.—The local turkey market should open fully today. Most of the shipping orders were filled last night and the liberal receipts proved to be no more than sufficient for the business. The market in general was firm at 47 cents with an occasional sale at 46 cents. City buyers will be depended on to take care of today's arrivals, and the course of prices during the next three days will depend on the quantity coming forward. Most dealers look for a firm market.

Egg Advance Due Today

The egg market was firm and a general advance in selling prices is expected today. It is not thought that the cold weather has checked the lay, but it has kept many farmers from marketing their eggs.

Butter was firm with lighter receipts of both cream and country cubes. Much of the cream received was half foreign. The demand was good and extras again brought 42 cents. Prime firsts sold at 41 and 4 1/2 cents.
