SECOND ANNUAL HOME PRODUCTS SHOW WILL START FEBRUARY 27

With the promise of the women of the Home Science club that it is to be the "biggest ever" announcement was made this morning that the second annual Oregon Home Products Show will be held by them in the Hampton building the week of February 27 to March 1.

This affair, admittedly one of the biggest things of its kind ever attempted by a group of Oregon women, will be in direct charge of a Home Science club committee composed of Mrs. W. P. Fell, chairman, and Mrs. E. M. Carter and Mrs. Hubbs, Mrs. R. C. Clark is to be chairman of the publicity committee. She was the chairman of the committee that put the big show over last year.

Oregon made products are to be the only things displayed in the three floors of the immense brick building. Committees have been and are at work now inviting manufacturers of the state to send in their best displays, an invitation that is bound to meet with whole-hearted response because of the reputation of the club for putting on such displays. The entire thing is to be free. It is expected that many manufacturers will, as has been the case in the past, send demonstrators to prove superiority of Oregon-made products to those attending.

One of the prize exhibits, or demonstrations, will be a 100 per cent "made in Oregon" luncheon. Everything that goes into the building will be made in this state.

The exhibit will be open every afternoon and evening up to 10 o'clock.

LINCOLN HONORED IN CITY SCHOOLS TODAY

Public schools of the city honored the memory of Abraham Lincoln today with appropriate exercises, which were largely attended by patrons and friends. Condon, Lincoln, Washington, Geary and the Junior high schools gave programs ranging from one grade exercises to an elaborate program by the Condon school to which the members of the G. A. R. and W. R. C. were the guests.

The high school had no exercises but a patriotic program for Washington's birthday, which is to be inclusive of both occasions, is being planned.

Patriotic recitations, songs and flag drills were the main features of the Condon school program. Pupils from the first to the sixth grade participated. Commander Robert Eastland of the Eugene post, G. A. R., gave an address. Bobby Allen, a Condon school pupil, recited Lincoln's Gettysburg address. Music was furnished by the Condon school violin orchestra under the direction of Miss Grace Barnett.

As the World Wags

By Frank Fay Eddy

LIKE WILSON, President Harding makes a plea for his pacifists. In fact he is credited with making an impassioned appeal. "Stamp this conference with America's approval," he said and then pointed out that unless such approval was given "we shall discredit the influence of the republic and render futile influences in the future and waste discouragement where today the world is ready to acclaim new hope." How like, how very like similar pleas made by our former president. Presidents are as partial for their own pet measures as are mothers toward their own children.

MR. HARDING is right however in asserting that the effect of our rejection of the pact would be disastrous in an international sense. But he ignores the reason. His administration has proceeded upon the theory that its warrant from the people was to primarily concern itself with domestic affairs. Slowly and reluctantly he has been forced by circumstances to concern himself with foreign problems. After having fervently rejected the whole Wilson program he has been compelled to try to do about the same things Mr. Wilson was attempting in a different way and the way is hesitating and experimental. The Wilson program was too bold and assumed such vast responsibilities that it scared us.

VAINLY Mr. Harding denies that his pact contains "no alliance, no written or moral obligation to join in defense of other nations." Methinks that his signature attached to that four-party agreement relating to the Pacific is not so interpreted abroad. The truth is, Mr. Harding is a timid thinker. He shrinks from facing the consequences of assuming regulatory powers which involve half the world. If he thinks that the only developments will be a few heart to heart talk fests he is likely to have a rude awakening one of these days.

NEXT COMES the Genoa conference upon the complicated financial problem of the world. Our government has been invited, urged and prodded to accept an invitation to join in the festivities connected with this conference which will be as interestingly pacific as an overturned hornet's nest. But the arrangement for some kind of international credits is an immediate and pressing need. Apparently, such credits can only be arranged when Uncle Sam in some manner is induced to take the leading role as the fellow who holds the sack.

THE GIST of the matter is, Mr. Harding and Mr. Hughes are at sea in a storm and the only chart which seems to be reliable is one prepared by Mr. Wilson. I hazard the guess that if Mr. Wilson lives until the next presidential election he will be able to practically name the next president of the United States.

Bulletins

Trinidad, Colo., Feb. 13.—Secretary of the Interior Fall has no intention of resigning his cabinet position to enter the race for United States senator from New Mexico. This was the information contained in a telegram received here today by A. W. Thompson, from Charles Stafford, administrative assistant to Fall.

Belfast, Feb. 13.—Rioting between Sinn Feiners and Ulster men broke out again here today. Three persons were reported killed as the street fighting got under way. Detachments of troops and constables rushed to the scene to suppress the outbreak. Stray bullets were smashing windows and endangering lives of citizens. Adequate British troops will be sent to guard the Ulster frontier against Sinn Fein raiders. Sir James Craig, the Ulster premier, was informed today in a message from London. The northern government had requested additional imperial military, following an attack by republican army men on a detachment of Ulster police at Cloones in which four policemen were killed and six taken prisoner.

Denver, Colo., Feb. 13.—Mrs. Eva Johnson's desire for a smoke coat her life here today. Mrs. Johnson, an inmate of the county farm, lighted her pipe and set fire to her clothing. She died from her burns.

Clinton, Ind., Feb. 13.—Favich Radonich, was found stabbed to death, lying across the hood in his bachelor quarters here today. Three small holes above the heart indicated the murderer had used a hatpin or a slender instrument similar to a hat pin.

Chicago, Ill., Feb. 13.—John Liss, 53, today attacked his wife with a hatchet and then hanged himself to a chandelier in the bedroom. Jealousy was said to have been the cause for his act. Mrs. Liss was cut on the forehead, cheek and arms. She will recover.

DUPLICATES PONZI: MANY LOSE MONEY

Chicago, Ill., Feb. 13.—Thousands of stockyards workers in "Little Poland" whose savings were wiped out in the crash of Raymond A. Bischoff, Chicago's "Ponzi," will receive only ten cents on the dollar, his attorneys said today. Bischoff was under surveillance of federal operatives pending the bankruptcy hearing before Federal Judge Landis tomorrow. Authorities state that $4,500,000 was involved in his financial crash. Practically the entire sum came from savings of the 6000 foreign born in the "back of the yards" district, it was said. Bischoff blamed his crash to a plot of enemies to ruin him. "If they had let me reorganize my business," he told investigators, "I would have come through all right." "The 'boy wizard' promised to pay 100 cents on the dollar eventually.

1921 GASOLINE TAX TOTALS $1,004,019 DOUBLE 1920 FIGURE
Salem, Feb. 13.—Revenue from the state tax on gasoline and distillate sales during 1921 aggregated $1,004,019.47, according to a statement compiled by Secretary of State Koger. This is more than double the revenue from the same source for the year 1920, aggregating $483,354.25. The increase is accounted for in part by the extra tax of one cent per gallon which became effective on March 1, 1921, and in part by the increased consumption of motor fuel oils, statistics in the office of the secretary of state showing an increase of 14 per cent in gasoline sales for 1921 over 1920, with distillate sales showing a decline of approximately 9.7 per cent in the same period.
Receipts from the motor fuel oil tax since the enactment of the law by the legislative session of 1919 have amounted to a total of $1,819,758.00. Refunds on account of the purchase of motor fuel oils for use other than in vehicles traversing the public highways, amounted to $1,615,315.40 to January 31, last.

Jesse Kellems, Eugene evangelist who preached Thursday evening at the First Christian church, has been secured for a series of evangelistic meetings to be held by that church next winter, according to announcement of Rev. At present he is at Yakima, Wash., where he started a revival series yesterday.
