Chic New Spring Millinery Showing a Diversity of Models

It is enough, of course, to know that a hat is stylish and becoming, but when it is known that it is an exact copy of a late French creation, how much more interesting it is! The several models here illustrated give but a glimpse of the wide selection that here awaits the matron and miss. The prices are amazingly low, authenticity of style considered. The display includes every conceivable fashion, from the jerky tailored chapeau of unrelenting outline to the transparent lace hat with a lazy drape—from the ever-straight brimmed sailor to the brilliantly flowered and colored hats that suggest Springtime loveliness.

FRUIT SITUATION RESUME IS GIVEN

Puyallup, Wash., April 13.—Berry growers in the Puyallup valley are particularly concerned this year in the canning situation. They are watching more closely than ever before the developments in the canning industry and are anxious to obtain information regarding tree fruits as well as bush fruits.

New markets were created last year for Puyallup berries as a result of frosts that damaged the crops in other districts. It is expected that a much larger per centage of the crop must be turned to the canneries this year.

The following report on agricultural and business conditions by the Federal Reserve bank of San Francisco is interesting:

Estimates received from commercial factors in California indicate that approximately 15 per cent of the 1921 pack of canned fruits in California (8,511,851 cases) remains in the hands of canners at the present time. It will be five months before the bulk of the 1922 pack will come on the market. According to the reports of canners, Yellow Free peaches and lower grade apricots make up the majority of fruit held in the state. Outside of California there is little canned fruit held in the district, with the exception of a small stock of canned apples in the hands of Pacific Northwest canners.

An unusually heavy export movement of canned fruits from the Pacific coast (principally to England) has developed during the past two months, favored by the rise in sterling exchange and low ocean freight rates. An improvement in general trade conditions is reported to have stimulated domestic consumption of canned fruits, and the spot market was strengthened during February by the demand from shippers who had not anticipated their needs earlier in the season.

HAVE COLOR IN CHEEKS

Be Better Looking—Take Olive Tablets

If your skin is yellow—complexion pallid—tongue coated—appetite poor—you have a bad taste in your mouth—a lazy, no-good feeling—you should take Olive Tablets.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—a substitute for calomel—were prepared by Dr. Edwards after 17 years of study.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color. To have a clear, pink skin, bright eyes, no pimples, a feeling of buoyancy like childhood days you must get at the cause.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act on the liver and bowels like calomel—yet have no dangerous after-effects. They start the bile and overcome constipation. Take one or two nightly and note the pleasing results. Millions of boxes are sold annually at 15c and 30c.

CHICAGO GRAIN REVIEW

Chicago, April 13.—Active demand for wheat caused sharp advances on the Chicago board of trade today. Reports of unfavorable weather over the wheat belt was a contributing factor to the advance. Other grains made slight gains in sympathy. Provisions were higher.
May wheat opened up 1 cent at $1.32 and advanced 1 3-4 at the close.
July opened at $1.21 1/2, up 1 cent and was 2c higher at the close.
September wheat opened off 1-4 at $1.16 1/2 but later gained 1 3-4. May corn opened up 1-4 at 50 1-2c and closed 5-8c higher. July opened up 3-8 at 63 3-8c and closed 1-4 higher. September corn opened unchanged at 65 3-8c and closed 3-4 higher.
May oats opened up 1-8 at 37 1-8c and was 1-4 higher at the close. July oats

FIRST GAMES SHOW DEFECTS IN TEAMS

By HENRY L. FARIELLI (United Press Staff Correspondent)

New York, April 13.—Opening day and early season games don't amount to a whole lot, but they are interesting. The 1922 debut proved not only that the folks are still interested in the game, but that the boys have been told a lot of things that are not so.

One of the most important discoveries was that even a million dollar infield can look sometimes as if it came from the notion counter. The New York Giants opened up this little secret. The world champions also confessed that they have not forgotten through the winter how they dislike a southpaw.

The Yanks, doing their part of revelations, demonstrated that a million dollar pitching combination has days when it looks like "not so much."

The American league champions also made it very clear that they have a terrible outfield and that Babe Ruth and Bob Meusel are going to be missed.

Cleveland showed that the Indian pitching staff isn't ready for the scrap heap yet and the Cubs look like they ought to win at least 20 games or so as long as Alex the Great is around.

The Cards still pack the terrible wallop that made them the yeggs of the circuit last season and the Senators have themselves a sweet ball club since they got Roger Peckinpaugh at short. Attendance was generally fine at the opening. New York had 28,000, Boston 15,000, Washington 12,000, Cincinnati 22,000, Cleveland 30,000, St. Louis 18,000 and Chicago 24,000.

Emil Meusel of the Cards, Roger Hornsby of the Cards, Bobby Veach of the Tigers and Bill Parkinson of the Phils were the first home run hitters of the year.

OPEN FORUM

CAFETERIA HAS EXPLANATION

Eugene, Ore., April 12, 1922. To the Editor:—The report that the Bell Cafeteria was serving adulterated food was based upon the fact that a small pitcher containing half milk and half cream was served to a customer by an attendant who did not consider it necessary to explain the nature of the contents of the vessel, since a sign on the wall, in plain sight and of the size required by law, bears these words: "We serve half-and-half with coffee and cereals."

Our milk and cream was found to test 14 per cent, which is four per cent more than the law requires and only four per cent less than the requirements for pure cream.

Our kitchen was found by the inspector to be very clean and sanitary, and all the food being served and in stock, pure and clean. Anyone who may doubt this statement is invited to examine our establishment and the food we serve. Kitchen visitors are always welcome.

WALTER BELL, WILLIAM WILSON, BELL CAFETERIA.

SPORT NOTES

New York.—Outdoor boxing this summer will be confined to holidays and Sunday afternoons through a ruling of the boxing commission that bouts cannot be contested at night. The main bout must go on not later than five o'clock.

New York.—Low Tandler, Philadelphia lightweight, and his manager, Phil Glassman, have been suspended indefinitely by the boxing commission because Glassman abused the referee who caused Tandler to lose a recent bout on a foul.

New York.—Babe Ruth and Bob Meusel, suspended Yanks, have been invited by Charles Stoneham, president of the Yanks, to work out every day with the Giants. Ruth is with the Yanks in Washington and Meusel is in New York.

Paris.—On reconsideration, the French Pershing stadium for the 1924 Olympic games and will build a new stadium near the Colombes race track.

Berkely.—The University of Missouri track team was to arrive here today for Saturday's meet with the University of California.

was up 1-4 at the opening of 40 and later gained 5-8. September oats opened at 41 3-4c unchanged, later advancing 5-8c.

Portland, April 13.—Wheat: Hard white $1.25, soft white $1.25, white club $1.25, hard winter $1.25, northern spring $1.25, red Walla $1.22.
Oats: No. 2, white $34.50; No. 2 gray $35.00.
Barley: Brewing $27, standard feed $29.50.

Oakland, Cal., April 13.—Kiro Haramoto, Japanese aviation student, fell 200 feet in an airplane at Durant Field here today and escaped unhurt.

Home Brew, Hootch and Moonshine

Attack Yum-Yum Maker

Vincent Nangione, a druggist of New York City, had a special drink he manufactured himself, which he called "Yum-Yum." It was also asked for by his patrons under the name of "Fifty-Fifty." Nangione has stopped making it and swears "Never again." Two city detectives had been in the habit of patronizing the drug store and drinking the beverage dispensed there. Becoming tired of it they decided to arrest the maker for violating the law. They did so and the druggist was convicted on the testimony of the detectives, the jury refusing to sample the beverage.

Blinded by One Drink

Eugene Finkle was led into the Hackensack, N. J., court recently by his wife and told the judge that he took one drink of alcohol, served him by Louis Wenz, a Hoboken saloon keeper, which blinded him for life. The saloonkeeper is being held under the Crimes Act, which deals with willful poisoning, and was released under $2,500 bail. Finkle said he noticed the strange taste of the drink at the time he imbibed and was taken ill.

Bonus from Beer

The proposal made by members of Congress that a tax be placed on beer and light wines and that the manufacture of these beverages be permitted is meeting with the approval of New Yorkers generally. Several large organizations are getting in back of this movement, claiming that it is for the good of the country and for the enforcement of real temperance that they advocate it. They are also seeking to have the American Legion approve of this measure, because it will provide money for the bonus and return beer and light wines.

Uncle Sam Keeps Mum

When there was doubt about the interpretation of the prohibition laws many owners of liquor decided they would not trust their precious wares to the private warehouse but would deposit the same with Uncle Sam, feeling sure the old gentleman would prove a trustworthy custodian. They have a different opinion of him now. They are bewailing their fate since the decision made by the U. S. Supreme Court that liquors stored with the government in bonded warehouses cannot be released to private parties, without the regulation permit, while goods stored in the private warehouse can be taken by their owners. Many prominent New Yorkers have stocks that would last several lifetimes in the government warehouses and are trying to find some way of securing it through an act of congress.

Stop Worrying About Kidneys

Prove in few minutes that your Backache is only Lumbago. Try St. Jacobs Oil

Kidneys cause backache? Not Listen! Your backache is caused by lumbago, sciatica, or a strain, and the quickest relief is soothing, penetrating St. Jacobs Oil. Rub it right on your painful back, and instantly the soreness, stiffness and lameness disappears. Don't stay crippled! Get a small trial bottle of St. Jacobs Oil from your druggist, and lumber up. A moment after it is applied you'll wonder why you became the backache or lumbago pain.

Rob old, honest, St. Jacobs Oil whenever you have sciatica, neuralgia, rheumatism or sprains, as it is absolutely harmless, and doesn't burn the skin.

WISPS OF WISDOM

Kindness does not consist in gifts, but in gentleness and generosity of spirit. Men may give their money which comes from the purse, and withhold their kindness which comes from the heart. Enthusiasm breakfasts on obstacles, lunches on objections, and dines on competition. Develop pluck. Let the other fellow trust to luck. Sometimes it is better to stay where you are than to jump at conclusions. Happiness doesn't just happen. It has to be earned. The line of least resistance doesn't always lead farthest.
