

STERLING

THE CERMONT

Bright Finish

The CERMONT pattern of sterling silver takes its name from Cermont, the home of Robert R. Livingston, who was Chancellor of New York State and who served his country brilliantly and in many capacities during and after the Revolution.

It is a design combining a pleasing harmony of outline and proportion with a substantial dignity that will interest and attract all lovers of the Colonial period.

It is offered in full variety of forks, spoons, cutlery, and a comprehensive line of serving and individual pieces with typical bowls and characteristic tines and piercing.

Made in Sterling Silver only, and stamped with the Trade Mark: Lion, Archer and Anchor.

Which is significant of quality and integrity in design and craftsmanship.

EVEN POLICE CHIEFS ARE NOT IN ACCORD ON CAUSE OF CRIME

By M. D. TRACY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
San Francisco, June 21.—Police chiefs assembled here for the International Police Chiefs' convention today, tried to answer the question of "what causes crime." But the answers were varied.

Hands just now heralded as the real fountain of youth which Ponce de Leon sought, were blamed by Dr. Era Charles Reid, psychiatrist of the University of California.

But eighteen chiefs when asked for their answers to the question, differed widely in their opinions.

Lack of education or ignorance was the answer given by four.

Women Most to Blame.
E. G. Ferguson, of Denver, placed women in the list.

"Wine, women and song make criminals," he said. "And of the three women are the most to blame."

Those who blamed prohibition were inclined to specify that lack of proper enforcement was the element which made it a cause of crime.

"Prohibition causes crime because it fails to prohibit," said Chief W. A. Hinton of Denver's detective department. "The bootleg set them crazy where good whiskey didn't."

FLORENCE CHEESE FACTORY SHIPS OUT FIRST SIXTY CASES

Portland, June 21.—Lane county's initial bid, through the fact that her empire on the lower Siuslaw and coast country is coming into the cheese market, is 60 cases of full cream cheese from the plant of Florence and Sons, Florence, as reported to the Associated Industries of Oregon.

Andrew Grassley has established the "Daisy Brand" name for his cheese factory, said to be the only one in Lane county, and the Daisy Farm is the home of the product. The factory is equipped at present to handle only one vat of milk but is so built that there can be added two additional vats and there can be run 40,000 pounds of milk a day.

"We are the first in this part of the country in this line," says Mr. Grassley, "and we hope the farmers of another Tillamook. Our factory is brand new, recently completed, equipped throughout with finest new machinery and we have our own water system, fresh from a mountain spring, our own electric plant, with a modern barn and all buildings equipped for lighting. The Daisy ranch consists of 300 acres of bottom land and the grass is now a foot high."

400 Cows in Valley.
"In this valley alone there are 400 cows. If we secure all these and spread cheese propaganda among our milk producers here, the farmers of another we can put a boat on the Siuslaw river and secure another 500 or more cows."

"Every store that has tried the 'Daisy Brand' of cheese compliments this product from the Siuslaw. We are ready to entertain sample orders and they are beginning to come in. We very much want to grow and even a half baked optimist can see in this new county the best of opportunities and unsurpassed, and it is all for the taking. Until we get our product tickling the palates of a sufficient number of people we will be held back by lack of capital. Was it not Swift who said that he liked to see some man go into debt for business sake? We expect Swift would admire us if he were around."

"Our shippers of butter fat are just getting their butter fat statements and after that we predict they will all see 'Daisy Brand' grow."

The Associated Industries, says Manager Dan Freeman, will cooperate with the Daisy Brand people in making known its product. He says the Siuslaw river and estuary, with its wonderful chain of lakes on the shore line of the Pacific Ocean are not only good for material things but nature's glories in the shape of the variegated rhododendron reaches their highest perfection. The hills and valleys are covered with the bloom of this shrub in the spring of the year.

The Siuslaw valley as it develops will abound with agricultural prosperity. Creameries and cheese factories will multiply the native wealth; the Siuslaw river is fringed with the finest berry and garden land. Along the main river and especially the north fork are splendid dairy farms. Clearing is not especially difficult. It is a section where the cost of living is not a factor. In addition to the agricultural opportunities, there are great possibilities for the production of special crops such as celery, asparagus, onions, cranberries and early vegetables. Florence and Mapletown are the trade headquarters of the region and Florence is the port city for the highway to the sea.

RUTH'S CAREER ABOUT OVER, SAYS FARRELL

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
New York, June 21.—Tittering on his throne, Babe Ruth, once the great home run king, is defending himself in the primitive ways of a cave man.

His wrath aroused apparently by the notion that everyone is against him, the babe is following the inclination to wipe out those who stand between him and his former glory.

Knowing that the five weeks' suspension imposed by Commissioner Landis at the start of the season would prevent him from breaking his 1821 record, Ruth had only the solace of being the home run king of the year. With Kenneth Williams, the Brown star, making it almost impossible for him to do that, he became frantic.

American league pitchers have been making a "sucker" out of him, not so much that they have found his weakness, but because he was swinging at anything in the mud design to kill the ball. The more he missed had bulls the more he swung at them.

New York is "off" the swat king now and the impression prevails here that he is through.

Babe Has Explanation.
Cleveland, Ohio, June 21.—Babe Ruth today denied that he intended to attack Empire Dimeen yesterday at Dunn field as a result of his suspension, following his run in with the umpire during Monday's game.

"I wasn't going to him," Ruth said today.

"There was no danger of a fight at all. We were just talking it over."

When asked why Manager Speaker and Staff McInnis and other members of the Cleveland team intervened, Ruth said:

"We were talking loud, I guess. There seemed to be a misunderstanding regarding Monday's incident and both of us were trying to get it straightened out."

OBITUARY
James Riley Winfrey who died June 15, 1922, was born in Lebanon, Lane county, Oregon, January 25, 1898. When he was eight months old his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Winfrey moved near Landax on the Willamette river. His father died when James was 2 1/2 years old and was 5 when his mother was married to T. J. Blakely of Landax.
James resided at that place the most of his life and was married to Francis Gibson in 1917, one son was born to their union.
Part of the time Mr. Winfrey was employed in the logging camp at Mabel. He was always a good faithful boy and had many friends wherever he went and was a true kind husband. He was in poor health for almost three years with that dreaded disease, diabetes. At the time of his death he was at Dr. Rutter's sanatorium in Eugene where everything was done for him that could be done. His relatives were gathered around his bedside, he realized that the end was near and was ready to go when he passed peacefully away at 6:15 p. m., with a smile. His father died 22 years ago with the same disease.
He leaves to mourn his loss, a wife, Francis Winfrey, little son, Vernon, step-father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Blakely, one brother, Wilbur of Mabel, one sister, Clara Clark of Landax, three half brothers, Harold, Clyde and Orval Blakely of Eugene, two step-brothers, Lester of Siletz, Oregon and Walter Blakely of Mabel.
He was laid to rest in the Landax cemetery, which was his request, by the side of his father until the Resurrection Morn.

30 x 3 1/2 - $10.90

WHEN you look at a 30 x 3 1/2 USCO at $10.90 think back for a minute as far as you can remember USCO.

The truth is that men have always found USCO an outstanding money's worth no matter what its price.

Today at $10.90 USCO maintains its established standard of quality.

And because of the new price, it sets a new index of tire value.

Men who have used USCO have never been inclined to measure its value by the general run of tires.
