Young Vanderbilt Unthrilled By Prospects of Trip.—San Francisco, July 21.—William K. Vanderbilt Jr., aged 15, strolled to his breakfast in San Francisco's most exclusive hotel today entirely unthrilled by the prospects of leaving within a day or so on his first trip to the Orient.

At least that's what those who have had the pleasure of meeting young Mr. Vanderbilt, said.

His tutor was very careful as to who met him and for 30 hours has successfully defended him against the newspaper fraternity of San Francisco.

Young Vanderbilt is the guest here of Mrs. Herman Oelrichs, his aunt. She owns the hotel.

Apparently the only person who has talked to him is the hotel manager.

"He is not at all thrilled by his prospects of visiting Japan," the manager explained. "He understands the trip is purely educational and he has the intellectual viewpoint."

Youthful Mr. Vanderbilt (they all call him Mr. Vanderbilt) looked the part as he sat beside his tutor at a secluded table eating a "continental breakfast."

Girls Lose Clothes In Blue River Fire—The outing of three girls, Miss Hazel Dean, Miss Jennie Miller of Eugene, and Miss Catherine Jannet, of Klamath Falls, was rudely interrupted by the burning of the Antler lodge at Blue River last evening. The girls had rooms on the third floor and all their clothes and belongings were lost with the exception of those they wore.

The girls were away when the fire broke out and returned to find that everything had been lost. Today they came to Eugene in their outing clothes to purchase more feminine apparel and plan how to spend another week's vacation. Practically all the guests on the third floor of the hotel lost their belongings but some on the second floor recovered some of their articles. The piano and some of the large skins and animal mountings were all that were saved from the lodge, the girls say.

U. O. F. LIBRARY NOTES—During the first six months of 1922 the library issued to borrowers a total of 144,490 volumes. Of these 107,490 were reserved books issued to readers for use in the library, 32,740 were drawn for home use and the remainder were books taken from the stacks for use in the reading room. No record is kept of the number of periodicals and reference books used in the reading room or the number of books consulted in the stacks. The total number of books circulated on January 1, 1922, is 44 percent greater than the number issued during the same period in 1921.

Miss Marion Boettcher, student assistant in the order department of the library, was married on June 30 to Mr. Lew J. Tyrell. Mr. and Mrs. Tyrell will reside in Eugene and Mrs. Tyrell will continue her work in the library.

Sixteen students are enrolled in Miss Humphrey's general course in library methods in the summer session and eight are enrolled in the class in classification and cataloging.

CITIZENS ARE ARMED TO MAINTAIN ORDER

Freemont, Neb., July 21.—Freemont is virtually under military law today with 150 citizens forced into arms by city officials to maintain law and order as an outgrowth of the strike of railroad shopmen.

The 11 Chicago and Northwestern strikers who were "driven out" of town last Friday morning by strikers, were returned to the city today and escorted by the deputized citizens to the Dodge county court house where they will appear as witnesses against 15 strikers who are to be arraigned on the charge of abduction.

Intense excitement prevailed following the application of the state law which authorizes the deputization of citizens in case of emergency.

Many of the drafted men have taken up arms under protest. Including in the ranks are business men, professional men and men from all walks of life.

The drafting of deputies came last night like a sudden thunder stroke.

Police were posted on every corner of the business district with names taken from the rosters of the American legion and the chamber of commerce and the citizens were ordered to appear for deputization or suffer the penalty provided by law.
