MEMORY OF GEORGE WASHINGTON TO BE HONORED TOMORROW

In accordance with plans formulated at the last regular meeting of the school principals with Superintendent E. F. Carleton patriotic exercises will be held in all of the public schools tomorrow, February 22, beginning at 10:30 o'clock. At the Condon school the program will begin at 10 o'clock. Under the state law schools will be dismissed for the afternoon of Washington's birthday.

At Hendricks high school the vocal music will be under the direction of Mrs. Gifford Nash, instructor of music, and there will be selections by the high school orchestra led by Alfred Perfect. The address of the day on Washington will be delivered by Professor Justin Miller of the law school of the University of Oregon.

Sheldon Billed for Address.
At the University high school Principal Harold Benjamin announced a program of readings and of music under the direction of Mrs. Anna L. Beck of the University school of music and an address on the life of Washington by Dean H. D. Sheldon.

Pupils of the Junior high school will give a minuet, patriotic songs and readings. The address will be given by Rev. Jesse H. Kellems and Mr. Harold Richards will sing.

Pupils of the first four grades of the Geary school will assemble in the room of Mrs. Bess H. Skog, third grade, at 10:30 o'clock. The little folks will render a group of recitations and songs and will listen to a talk by Rev. Eddings. At 11 o'clock the upper grades will meet together in the assembly room, where they will have a Washington program and an address by Rev. Eddings.

At the Patterson school there will be a patriotic program in which every child will take part. At this school the Grand Army of the Republic, the Women's Relief Corps and the Ladies of the Grand Army of the Republic will be special guests.

At the Condon school there will be patriotic exercises by the pupils of the school beginning at 10 o'clock, and a set of slides appropriate for the day will be shown. These have been loaned for the occasion by the extension department of the University of Oregon.

Selection by Each Room.
The Washington school will have one selection by each room and an address by Rev. C. E. Danham. The exercises will consist of the flag salute by all the pupils, patriotic songs and recitations by the different pupils.

Colonel John M. Williams will be the speaker of the day at the Lincoln school. The exercises will open by all the pupils singing America. There will be a colonial pageant by the pupils of the fourth, fifth and sixth grades, also songs and readings by various pupils.

Patrons of the various schools are cordially invited by the principals and Superintendent Carleton to attend these exercises.

MERCHANTS PLAN TO RETURN AGAIN FOR CONVENTION

ability of borrowing cheaply and plentifully these things are necessary. First, you must know your business all of the time; second, see to it that your banker knows that you are acquainted with the conditions of your business; third, see to it that your banker knows as much about your business as you do.

Banker, Merchant Cooperate.
The old idea that the banker is doing the merchant a favor by making him a loan was refuted by the speaker. He said that better relations should exist between banker and merchant, which, in turn, will make cheaper and more money on the market. This will result in increased productivity and better business conditions with increased service to society.

At noon the delegates banqueted at the Anchorage and then proceeded to the business meeting in the Chamber of Commerce club rooms. The visiting ladies were entertained by Eugene townswomen at 2 o'clock today by being taken on touring trips in the city and by special parties.

Grocers Win Battle.
A clash between the retail grocers of Oregon and the flour and cereal millers of Oregon took place in the closing session today. One result of the clash may be larger sale by Oregon grocers of nationally advertised flours and cereals.

For years local propaganda for patronage of home products has caused grocers to favor local millers.

One important enterprise of Portland, Oregon retail grocers' association is annual food show coming in March, the fourteenth annual this year. Oregon flour and cereal millers in their association voted against the food show. Portland grocers carried their injured feelings into the state convention and got the endorsement of the convention with a pledge of backing by the grocers of the state, which indicates Oregon, heretofore a profitable field of effort for foreign millers, will now be open market for them.

FIGHT IN SENATE DETERMINED NOT TO LET BILL PASS

an one of the season's most enjoyable comedies.

It was revealed that Senator Smoot of Utah had blocked an agreement which was about to be consummated with the filibusterers under which the senate would have voted at noon today on the motion to substitute the filled milk bill for the subsidy. Through administrative forces felt they had the votes to beat the filled milk measure off, Smoot said he would object to an agreement that conceded anything to the foes of the subsidy.

Reed Buys West Indies.
Senator Reed, of Missouri, resumed the filibuster by continuing his long speech on the plan of buying the West Indies. Senators Moses and Smoot asked him to yield to them so they could put in reports. Senator Hitchcock, captain of the filibusterers, said he would object to Reed yielding. They desired to let the senate up so tightly that it could not transact business of any kind.

Borah, in beginning his speech, made the first reference to the subsidy bill which has been heard since the active filibuster began.

"Those who are interested in this subsidy bill," said Borah, "doubtless also have considered the question of getting cargoes for the ships they want a subsidy for. I am more interested in cargoes and broadening of markets for America than I am in a subsidy."

He then launched into a speech criticizing the allies and the United States government for their Russian policies. The United States, he said, ought to have economic and commercial relations with Russia, for the good of American farmers and manufacturers.

About 11:30 a. m. Reed, to rest his voice, got the senate clerk to read long documents for him. The chamber was deserted by this time except for the men "on guard" on both sides.

Reed concluded at 1:50 p. m. having spoken nearly three hours of the floor.

Senator Borah of Idaho then took the floor.

"How much longer?" senators began asking Jones today.

"Forever," he replied.

House Still Humorous.
Senator Ince, in vain, complained to him that social engagements were endangered by the long night sessions. A senator going out to dinner or some other mild relief diversion, might find himself arrested by the sergeant-at-arms and halted to the senate chamber, they point out.

The comedy side of the situation continued uppermost today in the minds of most senators. Senator Carter Glass, passing a group during the filibuster, said in a loud undertone:

"I insist that Noah's ark does not need a subsidy."

This was apropos of some one's threat to read the Bible into the record.

Senator Harrison got a group of senators laughing at one of his best stories, and gravely the chair demanded order in the senate.

Shakespeare Coming to Town Leiber Will Play in Macbeth

FRITZ LEIBER.

Shakespeare is coming to town! Macbeth will be played by Fritz Leiber here next Monday night, forming a climax to the stage production season in Eugene. It promises to be the finest theatrical event of the year.

Macbeth was selected from the large repertoire of the Leiber company after 500 answers were received by C. W. McKee, manager of the Helbig theatre, what play would be liked best. University students, faculty of the university and high school students voted two to one in favor of Macbeth. Special low prices are made to students, and cards will be given out Thursday, says Mr. McKee.

"The choice," says Mr. McKee, "is a most fortunate one, for Macbeth is the forte of Mr. Leiber. He does it superbly and has won classical recognition from metropolitan critics for his interpretation of the difficult part.

There is every indication that the house will be entirely sold out Saturday night. The seat sale opens Saturday morning and those who plan to go should mail their orders immediately as the box office is now nearly swamped with inquiries.

With the endorsement of the New York and Chicago critics, not all of them journalistic as many are literary, for his series of brilliant performances during the last few years, Fritz Leiber appears here in the Macbeth role in which he achieved a sensational success in New York.

For the local engagement the same identical productions and cast which was employed by Mr. Leiber in New York will appear with the young star here.

In the cast are Louis Leon Hall, John Burke, Robert Strauss, Richard Allen, Philip D. Quin, Harold Winton, Anthony Andre, Waldron Smith, Justin Adams, Olive Oliver, Virginia Bronson, Carol Kohl, Blanche Chapman, Alma Lind and Olga Lee.
