COUNTRY MILL WHEAT BUYERS
Portland, Feb. 21.—There was a little buying of wheat by country mills yesterday, but no business was reported locally. On the sound some club changed hands at $1.31. Here, there were sellers at $1.30, but no buyers at this price. February wheat bids were unchanged at the Merchants' Exchange and March-April soft white, western white and hard winter were 1 cent higher.
Oats were unchanged to 50 cents higher. Corn was down 25@50 cents on bid.

Eggs Reduced, Then Shaded.
The egg market continued its downward trend. The general selling price of selects was 30 cents, but some dealers in an effort to unload cut the price to 28 cents. Candled ranch eggs had a range of 26@28 cents. Buying offers sent to the country quoted 26 cents on henneries and 23 cents on mixed colors.
The butter market was also easier with larger receipts of country cubes and of cream .
Poultry arrivals were small and the market was firm with a sharp demand for light hens.
Country dressed meats were unchanged, but veal receipts show an increase.
