Bridge Tea Given for Visitors

STUNNING baskets of wild pink hollyhock, shasta daisies and ferns were used about the spacious living rooms of the Kappa Alpha Theta house this afternoon when Mrs. Lucy Abrams and Mrs. Albert Geiser extended their hospitality to a contingent of friends for a bridge tea in compliment to Mrs. Edward Thurber, of Colorado Springs, who is spending the summer months here.

Twelve tables were arranged for play in the early afternoon, with Mrs. J. K. Pratt assisting the hostesses. At four o'clock another two score arrived and all mingled sociably in the intimacy of the tea hour.

Assisting in serving were Miss Hope MacKenzie, Miss Mae Ballack, Miss Corneilia Pipes, Miss Annabel MacKenzie, Miss Nancy Wilson, Miss Marion Lion, Miss Elizabeth Geiser and Miss Lyle Bryson.

Mrs. John Kestly, of Alaska, was honor guest at a bridge party for which her sister, Mrs. L. W. Pittman, and Mrs. E. E. Hartung were the gracious hostesses last Tuesday afternoon at the home of the latter.

Bowls of sweet peas were used effectively about the living rooms where about thirty guests gathered early in the afternoon for play. Prizes went to Miss Polly French, of Portland, and Mrs. Herald White.

Later Mrs. I. D. S. Wade and Mrs. E. D. Curtis assisted the hostesses in serving a delicious luncheon.

Supper was served at a long table, on the center of which was a gold heart-shaped box. Ribbon streamers from this box extended to each place. When the box was opened everyone pulled the ribbons and brought out little blue birds, tied to which were cards bearing the names of the engaged couple.

Miss Dotson is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Dotson of this city and attended the University here for two years. Mr. McClellan, whose home is in Klamath Falls, is a senior in the law school at the University and a member of Phi Delta Phi fraternity. The marriage date has not been set.

Miss French, Mrs. Smith Honored

The arrival of Mrs. Stanley Smith, of Portland, for a short visit, with her friends here as a guest of Mrs. C. D. Rorer, was occasion for several informal social gatherings during the past week. One of the most thoroughly enjoyable of these affairs was the bridge breakfast for which Mrs. O. H. Foster and Mrs. Henri Anderson were sponsors on Thursday morning at 10 o'clock, honoring both Miss Polly French, of Portland, and Mrs. Smith.

A pretty lavender and yellow color scheme was carried out on the table, around which were seated Miss French, Mrs. Smith, Mrs. David Auld, Mrs. J. A. Brundage, Mrs. B. B. Brundage, Mrs. C. D. Rorer, Mrs. W. W. Calkins, Mrs. A. H. McDonald, Mrs. Lillian Scaton and Mrs. James Keopke.

Mr. and Mrs. Hopkins will be greatly missed by their many friends here during their absence and it is hoped that they will return in some future time to make their home here again.

Social courtesies were extended yesterday afternoon to Miss Polly French, of Portland, and Miss Dorothy Hartung, bride-elect of next month, when Mrs. James Keopke invited a coterie of friends to her home for bridge. The rooms where tables were arranged for cards were gay with fragrant sweet peas and other summer blossoms.

Just before tea was served an array of gifts for the bride-to-be were brought in and opened, much to her surprise as she had not an inkling of the shower before.

Her veil fell to the hem of her dress and was fastened with a wreath of orange blossoms. LIPSTICK ON BEAD NECKLESS PARIS LATEST favorite fabrics used for early fall models and brown and green are the leading hat shades. There is a shade of deep wine that is also used a great deal.

Feathers of all sorts from barn-yard fowl to ostrich will be used this coming season and it is predicted that the ostrich in all its variations will be seen on sports hats as well as on dress hats. Vari-colored feathers and feather fancies spotted with metal are shown in quantities. Pompoms, wheel effects, and tassels of burnt ostrich trim many tailored shapes. Ribbon still holds its popularity as a trimming.

Metal-cloth blouses lavishly worked in beads are seen in great numbers in the Parisian shops. Metal, by the way, is stressed as one of the leading fabrics for fall for formal gowns, blouses, hats, etc.

Just now the Parisians are wearing little straight-lined suits with short, plucked jackets.

Choker necklaces, so popular with the Parisians, are matched by earrings, bracelets and accessories of like color. Cornelian and crystal are the most popular of the semi-precious stones used. Glass beads in such colors as ruby red, onyx blue, sapphire and jade green are quite as popular as the more costly stones.

The lip-stick pendant which hangs on a long pearl necklace is the latest accessory from Paris. One can not lose one's lipstick if it is tied about one's neck and the Parisian believes in having her lip-stick ever ready. Not only does she keep her lips a crimson hue, but she never feels that she is completely groomed until she has put a bit of color on her chin and on the lobes of her ears.

Claimed Kitchener's Death Plotted by Jews

London, July 21.—Sensational statements involving the names of Arthur Balfour, Winston Churchill and other high government officials of war time were made Wednesday during the libel trial of Lord Alfred Douglas against the Morning Post, London newspaper owned by Lord Kitchener.

Lord Alfred complained of a portion of a letter published in the Post in which a correspondent declared "it must no longer be a paying proposition for me like Mr. Crossland and Lord Alfred Douglas to invent vile insults against the Jews."

Douglas, in lengthy examination reiterated numerous allegations previously published in "Plain English," a vitriolic magazine he once edited.

These included charges that Jews arranged the death of Lord Kitchener in order to prevent him reaching Russia, and belittling up the czar's forces, and also that the British government issued a communique on the battle of Jutland leading to the belief that the Germans won it, and so depressed stocks and enabled Jewish financiers to clean up $90,000,000. Patrick Hastings, defense lawyer, questioned Douglas regarding an article previously published quoting Lord Kitchener as saying:

"I regard the blood of our best men in England a great price to pay for educating Jews."

He declared Lord Douglas had said of this remark: "That remark sealed Kitchener's death warrant."

"Do you mean that Jews caused the death of Lord Kitchener in the New Hampshire," Hastings asked.

"Yes, I do," Lord Alfred replied, "I haven't the whole story, but I have enough to say that Kitchener was deliberately killed in order to prevent him reaching Russia. If that had not been done the whole course of history would have been changed and the war shortened by two years."

A verdict of one farthing (less than a cent) was found in favor of Douglas each party in the libel suit to pay its own cost.

National Paper Asks Party to Stand Pat

Washington, D. C., July 21.—The Minnesota election was characterized as "a storm signal of warning" of an impending radical drive by the "National Republican" semi-official organ of the republican national committee, which editorially today called upon patriotic citizens throughout the country to rally for a vigorous counter-offensive such as was necessary to check the populist wave 30 years ago.

The national republican demands that the party stand firmly upon its traditional principles and refuse to make any concession to the radical even at the risk of defeat.

"The republican party has a sane, progressive programme for national reconstruction which has already proved of immeasurable benefit to the American people," said the editorial.
